Review of Motion Picture Films

In the issue of The Billboard, to bear date of January 7, will be instituted a department for review and comment on the new releases of motion picture films. The object of this department is to present to the exhibitor a true and unbiased statement of the merits of each new film released in addition to its story and the nature of the subject contained in the manufacturer's synopsis, which department will be continued as heretofore in connection with the new one to be opened.

There are now being released and distributed through the exchanges licensed by the Motion Picture Patents Co., twenty-four releases of film weekly. Through the Sales Co. and the exchanges which get their supply therefrom, there are released about an equal number of reels of film weekly. The Billboard purposes to have the first run of each of these films viewed by a competent judge of the relative merits in motion pictures, whose opinion will be set forth in these columns for the benefit and guidance of exhibitors.

We have not the slightest doubt that this plan will meet with instant and wide-spread approval by all those renters of film who have in the past found it necessary to depend on the manufacturers' own statements for ideas of merit in the various productions. It marks, moreover, another step on the part of The Billboard in advance of all other publications which devote space to news and comment relative to motion pictures. Many of these publications are so biased as to be without authority, and the others are not progressive enough to furnish the kind of matter that is of most interest to those who are identified with the motion picture business in any of its phases.

The business of motion pictures has settled down to a safe and sane basis, while at the same time it continues to be the most popular form of amusement for the masses that has ever been devised or invented. The brilliant prospects of its future are based principally on the fact that it does not pall. Visiting the motion picture theatre becomes a sort of pleasant and innocuous habit. It rests then with those who have the interest of the business at heart to foster and cherish this popularity. For the manufacturer, it is to produce the best possible films of the widest range and variety of interest; for the exchange man, to supply his customers according to their requests, and with the best quality of film consistent therewith; for the exhibitor, to present to his patrons the character of films which, if he is sufficiently alert, he will observe as most popular with them, at the same time taking care to eliminate the slightest contingency of offense to morals, or to race or class prejudice.

To this end The Billboard will institute its new department with an anticipation of its success engendered by the enthusiastic approval with which all our previous efforts to conserve the interests of the motion picture business have met.

A short time ugo, thousands of people langhed and cried over the humor and pathos depicted by A Circuit Rider's Wife, that ran serially in The Saturday Evening Post last winter. Beginning in hopeful young manhood and womanhood, the pialm story of the Georgia hills was unfolded to the grave. Superannnated, cut off from the activities of life, cast aside as no longer of service even in the field of religion, the old Methodist minister soon withered and was laid away.

the old Methodist minister soon withered and was laid away.

Now, the story so well told in semi-faction form, has had its ending in real life. Rev. Lundsy Harris, the "Circuit Hider" about whom revolved the story, died by suicide in a retreat near Cartersville, Ga. recently.

The story created considerable attention throughout the country. It was anonymous, but in the first few instalments was recognized the tinlented hand of Mrs. L. H. Hurris, who during the recent years had developed a titerary style unusual in its clearness and apt in its crispness and breadth.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris were during the greater part of their lives residents of Georgia. EDITORIAL BULLETIN

THE CHRISTMAS NUMBER NEXT WEEK

Next week will witness the publication of our annual Christmas Number, which promises to fully justify our anticipations previously expressed as the handsomest, most thorough, most complete and most useful holiday number that we have ever given to our readers. Each feature of the amusement business will be separately and exhaustively provided and commented upon. There will be articles dealing with The Theatrical Season So Far.; The Shake-up in the Booking Field; The Status of The Motion Picture; The Evolution of Vaudeville; The Progress of Melodrama; The World of White Tops; The Carnival of The Present; Future of The Amusement Park; The Youngest of The Amusement Family; Making Demand for Music; Since Burlesque Cleaned House. These articles will all be written from an intimate knowledge of conditions and will deal with vital facts and phases.

In addition to these special features, The Christmas Number will contain the usual departments devoted to the week's news and information. The List Feature will constitute the publication of our revised and corrected lists of theatres and motion picture theatres in all the cities of the United States and Canada exceeding 20,000 population.

The Number will be profusely illustrated with timely, appropriate and beautiful photographs of people identified with the profession of amusement in both its artistic and business departments.

The cover will be beautifully lithographed in five colors and will be sufficiently attractive to warrant its preservation by all lovers of beauty in poster effect.

In fact, the nature of The Christmas Number will warrant its preservation in entirety for many months, inasmuch as the information contained in it will be of usefulness and assistance for a long time.

The very advertisements, of which there will be a vast number in the Christmas Number, will constitute an interesting kind of reading of a practical nature.

On another page of this issue will be found an order slip, which being filled out and mailed to us with 10c. will insure any of our transient readers the receipt of a copy of The Christmas Number, which will be so largely in demand that the news-stands may not be able to fill all the requests. An effective alternative would be for those who are desirous of procuring copies of The Christmas Number to make reservation and deposit the price of single copies with their news dealers early next week so that the increased demand for the special number will not deprive them of it.

he American Drama and Dramatist

The history of drama and dramatists in America, discloses the fact that this country has not been prolific in dramatic authors. The iisi of those who have produced works that have lived the required time to become standard or classic is very smail, but this list. howbelt terse, contains a few of international fame. Dramatizations and adaptations, have in recent years been found far more profitable than authorship, and the present system of one person star acting, has subordinated author, adapter and the army of actors alike to the one chief performer. Hence, many of the pleces that have attained popularity in recent years, are known aimost wholly by the name of the star actor or actress. A few years ago, patrons of the drama went to see Brown's Deluge; now they generally go to see Smith in the Deluge. And so, with few exceptions, the author or adapter has become a personage considered of little importance. As previously noted, the list of American dramatists is small and with but few shining lights. Robert M. Bird, whose lifetime was from 1803 to 1854, wrote three tragedles, i. e., The Gladiator (in which Edwin Forrest achieved one of his most pronounced successes), Oraloosa, and the Broker of Bogota. In 1823, George H. Boker, of Philadelphia, began his earthly existence, and amld his public and other literary duties, produced the tragedies, Calaynos, in 1848, and Anne Boieyn, in 1850. Leonor de Guzman, Francesca da Riminl, The Betroihal, and The Wldow's Marriage, are among others from his David Paul Brown was born in 1795. His penchant was law, and during his services at the bar, he deveioped a literary ability, which gave to the stage the tragedy Sertorius, or the Roman Patriot. In this drama the elder Booth appeared in the title role. Among his other dramatic effusions may be mentioned a melodrama, called The Trial. The Prophet of St. Paui's. and a farce. Love and Honor. Brown died at the ripe oid age of 77 years.

Bartley Campbell, who is considered the most prolific of American dramatists was born in 1843. His extreme application to the writing of dramas resulted in insanity and death. He died during the year 1888. Principal among his works were: Through Fire. produced in 1871: Peril, written the following year: Fate, Risks, The Virginian, and Gran Vale, produced in 1874: On the Rhine, Heroine in Rags. How Women Love, the title of which was later changed to The Vigilantes, Cilo, Fairfax or Life in the Sunny South, My Partner, The Galley Slave, My Geraidine, Siberia, Paquita, The White Siave, and Matrimony.

Another student of the law whose dramatic efforts were famous in their time, was Robert T. Conrad. He was born in 1810, and lived until 1858. His best work was noticeable in Ayimere, tion of being the father of the society which tragedy Edwin Forrest bought piay in America. His chief writings outright from the author, and in which he appeared for many years. He took the part of Jack Cade, and the fame of the actor in that character grad- Wives, 1879; Young Mrs. Winthrop, ually led the play to be better known by the principal part than its title.

Conrad wrote a tragedy which he Julia Ward Howe, contributed The dramas. It was in his Clari, or the called The Heretic, but it is the gen- World's Own to dramatic literature, Mald of Milan, that he introduced his put on the stage.

Augustin Daly, born in 1838, besides adapting many French and German works, wrote Divorce, Pique, Horizon, acted. and Under the Gaslight.

In 1852, the noted platform lecturer, Anna E. Dickinson was born. During her career, she wrote A Crown of Thorns, and appeared in the principal roie during 1876. Later she wrote Aureilan for John McCuiiough.

eral belief that this play was never and also wrote Hippoiytus for Edwin Booth. The former was played at Waliack's Theatre, in 1885, but the iatter has never been published nor

> Joseph Stevens Jones, born in 1811, and who died in 1877, was credited with the authorship of more than 200 plays, among which the best known are: The Silver Spoon, Solon Shingle, Eugene Aram, Slege of Boston, Moll Pitcher, The Carpenter of Rouen, The

A prologue to the rollicking pantonime, Humpty Dumpty, was written by Abraham Oakley Hall, for a period Mayor of New York. This statesman also wrote The Crucible, in which he appeared as Wilmot Kierton.

Bronson Howard was born in 1841. To him might be applied the distincere: Saratoga, produced in 1870; Diamonds, in 1872; Hurricane, 1878; The Banker's Daughter, the same year; 1882; One of Our Girls, 1885; and Met by Chance, produced in 1887.

Paul Revere, and Captain Lascar.

It was in the Silver Spoon that Wm. Warren, as Jefferson Scattering Batkins, achieved one of his earlier successes.

Anna Cora Mowatt, born in 1819. and who died in 1870, was an actress of exceptional ability, a writer of pleasing fiction, and the author of three plays. Guizara, The Persian Slave. Fashlon, a comedy, and Armand or the Peer and the Peasant.

James Kirk Paulding, a friend of and collaborator with Washington Irving, acknowledged authorship of a volume of comedies, including the Bucktails, or the American in England. He was assisted in these by his son, Washington Irving Paulding. He was born in 1779, and died in 1860.

John Howard Payne (1792-1852) was author of a large number of morrow?

eternal song, Home, Sweet Home. His Brutus, a tragedy, was produced in 1818, with Edmund Kean in the principal part, and his Charies the Second was a favorite with Charles Kemble.

Epes Sargent wrote a five-act play. The Bride of Genoa, for Josephine Clifton, and a tragedy, Velasco, for Elion Tree Harriet Beecher Stowe, with no intention of producing a work for dramatic presentation, invested Uncle Tom's Cabin, with such a wealth and completeness of dramatic requisites, that the book fell almost naturally into the lines and situations of stage action. . Uncle Tom's Cabin proved one of the most thrilling and effective dramas the world has ever witnessed.

Nathaniel Parker Willis (1807-67) wrote two dramas, Tortesa, the Usurer, and Bianca Visconti, and Samuel Woodworth (1785-1842) produced severai dramas, but the fame of his song, The Old Oaken Bucket, eclipsed that of all his other writings.

Of the present day dramatic authors whose works can stand the test of public opinion, there are but very few. David Belasco, the peer of living American dramatists, has one or two plays to his credit that have withstood several seasons of hard usage. Clyde Fitch has written a few plays that may live out another generation, and there may be one or two more authors who will be remembered, when the children and grandchildren of you who read this article, have attained the age of theatre-going, but that is aii. American dramatic literature offers nothing that can be immortailzed. England, France, Germany and other European countries have produced writers and dramatists whose names are indelibly stamped on the pages of history. As long as the world goes round, Shakespeare, Moilere, Ibsen and others too numerous to mention here, will delight the intelligent playgoer.

America, first in industry, greatest in wealth and grandest in its government, is jacking in the finer arts. Not only has it produced less artists, fewer musicians and a smaller number of writers than its older relatives, but its people are without the temperament and artistic qualities so delightful in our European cousins. We must, however, consider this: No country has achieved such remarkable progress as America. In the world's history, there are no records of such wonderful development as is the case of the United States. If we must acknowledge an inferiority in artistic developments. we can point to our industrial achievements with more pride than any other nation. We are a young nation. Shakespeare's advent was sixteen hundred years after the Christian era began. Our greatest writers (with few exceptions) have lived in the past three or four centuries.

If we could glimpse into the future, perhaps visions of even greater writers than our immortal poets and authors would be revealed to us. Who knows what great genlus may be born to-

NEW CIRCUIT FORMED

Promoters of the Eastern Burlesque Wheel Incorporate Under Name of L. Lawrence Weber Co-operative Booking Company

New York, Nov. 25 (Special to The Billboard).
—Amouncements have been made that a circuit similar to the one operated by Stair and Haviin has been formed, and that the promoters are rapidly interesting theatre managers throughout the country in the scheme. No antagonisticity to the old and established firm of Stair and Haviin is mentioned and the primary motive is by no meens to wags battle on the solidly founded melodramatic company. When the announcements were made last July, that a new melodramatic and musical comedy circuit would be formed, the wiseacres in the show business shook their heads incredulously, and offered the opinion that it would not be a go. That the idea was not merely a beautiful chimers, has been proven, however, for the promoters have organized with a capital stock of $125,000.

promoters have organized with a capital stock of $125,000.

The new company is known as the L. Lawrence Weber Co-operative Booking Company. Associated with Mr. Weber are R. K. Hynicks J. Herbert Mack and Sam S. Scribner. They will begin operations in Angust, with 40 theatres at their command, at least two of which will be in Greater New York.

In general the booking system will follow the wheel scheme of the Columbia Amusement Company, although the two enterprises have mothing else in common. The attractions will be made up of melodramas and musical shows. The new circuit of theatres is but the long-delayed outcome of an insurgency of years standing, headed in the first instance by Gus Hill.

delayed outcome of an insurgency of years' standing, headed in the first instance by Gus Hill.

The attractions of this manager for a number of seasons were Stair & Havlin staples. Few other producers made money in the popular-price theatres, but the Hill shows rarely failed to "bring home the bacon."

But the time came when Mr. Hill also balked, to the extent of cutting down the number of his attractions and seeking alliances to the very end which now seems likely to be accomplished.

It was alleged at the time that the exactions of the circuit managers in the matter of terms were such as to preclude the possibility of profits upon shows of desirable quality-for in order to secure time in the theatres where money could be made it was necessary also to play the other bouses where there was no living chance for an even hreak.

Other conditions also were complained of, and it was the aim of Mr. Hill and his associates to run their circuit upon lines which

Important Decision Rendered

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 23 (Special to The Billboard).—Of significance to theatrical managers is the indigment rendered by Justice Teetzel in dismissing with costs joint action for two claims of $5,000 damages against the Toronto Theatre Company, owning the Gaiety Theatre (Eastern Wheel burlesqua house) and Manager Thos. R. Henry. Edward W. Hyde, Jr., and Oliver D. Lashman were plaintiffs, and ened because they were ejected from the theatre on March 12 They claimed, too, that they were assumed by the former; theatre officer; Archie Woods. The plaintiffs, according to the evidence, assumed seats not called for by their tickets. The men refused to vacate when requested. When the house officer took hold of one of the men he was struck twice.

In dismissing the case, Instice Teetzel ruled that evan if an usher placed a person in a wrong seat, the theatre had a right to remove him, and if the man refused to mova, be could be forcibly removed. The decision is the first of its kind to be rendered in Canada.

RE LIEBLER ATTRACTIONS.

After an absence of ten years from the field of musical comedy. Miss Maria Davis, best known to American playsoers for her character work in comedy drama, will return to her earliest love, taking a promioent part in Marrisge a la Carte, the joint product of C. M. S. McLellan and Ivan Caryll.

Miss Davis holds an unusual stage distinction in that she has had no more than four managers in the twenty-eight years which make up her professional career. Four years with Tom Robertson, seven years with George Edwardes, seven years with Sir Charles Wyndham, and ten years with David Belasco represent her activities. In Town, the ploneer of all musical comedies, was one of the pleeca in which Miss Davis made herself popular with London andlences. She was also in The Shop Girl, My Girl, The Circus Girl and a tot of other musical comedies of the girl sort.

Miss Davis came to the United States to play a single season. She joined the company of Mrs. Leslie Carter, and then helped David warfield in The Anctioneer. Instead of staying a single season, she has stayed ten years supporting Warfield in Successes following The Anctioneer, and appearing with other Belasco stars from time to time.

"The last time I saw George Edwardes," said Miss Davis yesterday, "I asked him, rather joingly, why he didn't offer me a part. He answered, because I haven't siny part that would suit you; they dou't write parts of that sort any more."

Latest Vehicle of the Slangy Comedian Offers Little Opportunity for Display of His Talents—The Play, as a Whole, is Good, But It Lacks Action

VICTOR MOORE'S PLAY

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 26 (Special to The Billiboard).—The Happlest Night of Hia Life was presented at the Academy of Music for the first time in the United States last Monday night. It was a real performance on a real stage with real sctors, before a real andience. The show was greeted with enthusiasm because it was worthy of the reception that a pleasing production deserves. The andience quickly discerned the good points to the dislogue and greatly applied the catchy songs. The play as a whole is very good, but it lacks section and ginger. Victor Moore specars in the leading role with his usual slangy expressions, which are supplied by the master of the art, Junie McCree. Victor Moore has a very good part, but he does not appear to any great advantage, as he has little opportunity to disptay himself properly.

The action of the play takes place in Washington Heights, New York City. The first act opena at Jeiliman's residence. Tom Dawson (Jack Henderson.) a nephew of the Jeilimans, is domiciled with his uncie, and he brings home with him a friend, Dick Brennan (Victor Moora) as the two have been making a night of it. Tom had been playing the pontea, and as a result, his finances are low. To recoup his losses, he helps nimself to his nacte's cash-box. Tom fears that his peculstions will he discovered, and Dick and he conceive the idea to take the uncle out and show him a good time. The nocte is very quiet and reserved, never having indulged in sports or amusements, only apending his time in books, flowers, etc. They impress him with the fact that the good time wilt cost him $500, which is seength for Tom to repay the amount he had taken from his nucle, but this is only incidental. The nucle is told that he will see prise fights; plenty of pretty girls, etc.

The second act shows Mrs. Rickett's garage, where the reveiry takes place. Minnie Randolph (Annabelle Whitford) had already appeared on the scene at the head of the Chicago delegation of the Protective Order of Young Wildows. The order is for the purpose of uplifting young wildows, and the convection of the order is supposed to be in session in New York. Jsos Ricketta is celebrating her birthday, but he sweetheart, Tom Dawson, was not invited. But he gots anyhow with his friend, Dick Brennan disguised ss a minister who has been expected to address the convention. This canses no end of compitcations and amnsement. Dick and Minnie become infatuated with one another and she chaoges her mind about spiliting wildows. Dick is a Naw Yorker, and Minnie is from Chicsgo, and the two have a quarrel as to their respective cities, which is brought out in a caichy sons, entitled New York and Chicago. In the third sct att differences are settled satisfactorily, and the nucle explose she conducted the previous night astisfactorily, and then romance ends happily.

Syracuse, N. X., Nov. 22 (Special to The Billboard).—As a result of a fire in the nlant of the Syracuse Lighting Company, the Wiclin Opera Honse was pinnged into darkness on Monday evening. November 21. William Collier. In I'll Be Hanged If I Do, was playing that evening, it was near the end of the second act that the lights in the house began to grow dim and finally went out. The lights remained so for several hours afterward, but nevertheless the performance was carried on, the actors carrying candles to light their way and isnterns were used by the stage hands to set the accnes. There was no excitement caused by the sudden darkness, nor did anyone leave the house. The other theatres were not affected, being supplied from private plants.

THE STUDEBAKER TIME TABLE.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 26 (Speciat to The Blitboard).—George Ade. Davis, who originates and floata publicity for the Studebaker Theatre, has constructed a near littie folder in the form of a time table, which he calls the "Langhing Line." It is gotten up very stirsctively, and contains much railroad talk about The Girl in The Train, now playing at the Studebaker.

PLANNING NEW THEATRE.

LaJunta, Col., Nov. 25 (Special to The Billboard).—If present plans materialize, La Junta will soon have a new playbonee which will-cost in the neighborhood of $100 000. A site has been seenred, and plans for the building have been drawn. Local capitat will undertake the enterprise.

The First False Steps

Funny how good newspaper men go wrong. Waiter Taylor, of the Atlanta (Ga.), Jonrusi, has been elected cliy clerk of that city; Jack Trantar, of the Buffalo Times, has been elected to the Assembly; Jack Dalley, of the Pittsburg Post, la clerk to the Mayor of that City, and W. B. Smith, of the Buffalo Courier, has been sent to Congress. Here is a bunch of good fellows that made tife easy for the advance pressure, and ware capits! fellows either on the desk or on the aireet. Nothing but good luck is wished them, and the worst luck that any of the press agents wish them is that they will return to newspaper work when they tire of pollics.

LAMADE RETIRES.

Williamsport, Fa., Nov. 26 (Special to The Billiboard).—Fred M. Lamada has retired as manager of the Family Theatre, which is now controlled by the National Thestre Company, under a lease signed last week. Mr. Holmes has bren-connected with the Grand for the past ten years in various capacities, the isst being local transurer of the house.

New Theatres For Honolulu

Honototo, H. I., Nov. 12.—In less than a year Honototo will have three new playhouses. Messrs. Scully and Love have shout completed a new moving picture and vauderille bourse, which opens for business in ten days. Just in the rear of this enterprise is the hig Anditerium, which will have a seating capacity of 1,500, a big pipe organ, and all modern conveniences. It will be fluished early part of next year. The third new vectors will be backed by Mr. Rosenberg, a prominent local financier, who is having the old Princess Skating Rink overhanted and pictura house. The scularition of these playhouses with give Honolulu nine theatres all told.

A THEATRICAL EDITORIAL

The Kanaas City Star, for November 21, editorializes as follows:

"Jske Willis, a character in Edwin Sheldon's play, The Nigger, tells Governor Morrow oas day that he la unallerably opposed to lynching; that no matter what the black man's crime may be, the law abould take its course. The naxt day Jake's own danghter is a victim of the crime that canses most lynchings, and Jake becomes the templacable leader of an irresistible mob.

"The point is that Jake is no longer a fit person to pass judgment in anch a case as this. No more is an sudlence that has witnessed the first two acts of The Nigger in a mood to itsen to the race problem discussion of the last act. Indeed, the first Iwo acts are so realistic as to be inciting and debasing. The resism of the drama, together with the sensationalism and vulgarity of the pictorial hilling used in exploiting the drama as a starring, bill. Is an the defensible appeal to the baser impulses of the methods comployed to popularize that, strocity. The fact that The Nigger is a much greater work dramatically than its cheap foreumer, does not silve its, effect of procenting it. The theatre is no place to fillmatrate and discuss the race problem. Non-would it, be affective in any other place to follow or accompany illustration with discussing preparated, or of the blasing effects of blood tain, are necessarily calculated to arouse feeling, excit prejudice and put an audience but of the dispassionata mood, necessary to give rational attention, to theories, no matter how sound they may be.

"It's time to bar the race problem play from the theatre. It accomplishes nothing that is good; it accomplishes much that ta dabasing."

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 20 (Special to The Billboard).—On Nov. 17, the first performance of a new play catted The Nest Egs. a conedy by Annie Caldwell, was given at the Apollo Theatre, with Zelds. Sears in the leading role. The critica on the Atlantic City papera were st variance in commenting on the production, the City Daily Press having credited the play with being wholesome, legitimate and one of the heat that best been seen in this city for some time. The Review on the other hand said: The Nest Egg is not a great play, it doesn't sim to be and its occasionst pretty devices of mild villainy are counted irritable necessities. However, tits all very simple and diverting. There are some excinaively ciever lines in the play that are delightfully epigrsumatic. Miss Sears bas added another triumph to her list. She made the most of avery line in her part. The apporting cast is entirety adequate. The first night andience was large and very enthusiastic in its reception of the new play.

RATES AND LICENSES

lished Articles—Believes Matter in Question Should Be Given More Serious Consideration

Ea route, Nov. 19, 1910.

Editor The Biliboard, Cincinnati, Obio.

Dear Sir:—Referring to articles in the lasue of The Biliboard, November 19, More About Rates, by J. M. Busby, and Show License, by A. G. Allen, I would like to reply.

A. G. Allen, I would like to reply.

Through a letter published in The Billboard by Mr. Busby early in 1910, I allowed myself to be associated with thia controversy, "One.
Two snd Three-car Sbownen vs. Bailroads of Arkansas." the gentiemen of the Ratiroad Commission of Arkansas as, the honorable body of judges and jury.

We bad a sptendid argument to offer to this honorable body by referring to the atatutes of Texas as adopted by that railroad commission in 1906, thunks to the energy put forward by Messrs. Eller and Bushy.

As I considered the Arkansas suit of great importance, requiring the best legal talent obtainable, I asked the Board of Trade of Little Rock to recommend an attorney, or firm of strorneys that would wield the most influence before the rallroad commission of Arkansas.

They recommended the learned Honorable Morris M. Cohn, of that city. Mr. Cohn is one of the best known corporation lawyers in the South. consequently he demands the highest pay for his services.

After receiving an assurance from Mr. Cohn that he would represent my firm and the mutual interest concerned, I retained bim and in writing a letter to Mr. Cohn, Alten.

Alse my generat agent, Mr. L. G. Mercer, was present in Little Rock on the day, as quoted in Mr. Busby's letter for the hearing, hat discovered that it was not to be a general sunt concerning all rallroads, the Cotton Belt System alone being involved.

However, my counsel in Little Rock worked as bard in this matter as though it were my individual case.

Temporary instructions were issued to the Cotton Belt System bandle one, two and three-car shows on the same basts as the Texas statutes.

Upon the same day, Mr. Cohn asked the rallthree-car shows on the same basis as the Texas statutes.

Upon the same day, Mr. Cohn asked the railroad commission to designate a date that all railroads should show why they likewise should not bandle one, two and three-car shows in passenger service regardless of what the cars contained, as long as they were private cars. I re-engaged Mr. Cohn to represent my firm. Also to meet all showmen that might be in Little Rock, interested in this controversy. It is not so much a matter of rates as the rolling of different lines to throw this class of business into freight service, necessitating freight transportation, which would make it impossible for one-night at and shows to arrive to town in tima to erect their tents and give daily exhibitions.

My two shows are week-stand dramatic repertoire companies, exhibiting under canvas. We could accept freight service and make our towns sud wbile, perhaps, in a measure, it would be to our interest to have these arbitrary rules practised by railroads, we answere this fight and sre spending our money for what we think and what has already proven to (Continued on page 50.)

No Music On Sunday

Erie, Pa., Nov. 23 (Special to The Billboard).

—C. R. Brown, who has just purchased the old Alban Theatre, started to run music in connection with his pictures lisst Sunday and was arrested. It has been the custom of the smaller picture shows on the main street to close their pianos on Sunday and show the pictures without music, hut Mr. Brown, who has had considerable experience in the moving picture rheatre time and who is well veried in the laws of Pennsylvania, started his piano but was immediately arrested. Two other theatres have heen having music on Sunday, vis. The Happy Hour and the Alpha, hut both these theatres are located off the main atreet. The outcome of this case will be watched with considerable tuterest by theatre owners and managers, not only in Erie but in all the cities of Pennsylvania.

Milwaukee's Handsome Auditorium

In Milwankee is located one of the largest and finest Anditoriums in the country. It was arected by private subscription, and cost about a quarter of a militon dollars.

Public spirited citizens realised the necessity of a commodious convention halt and by them a movement received its inception on July 23, 1903, when the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association appointed a committee of husiness men to consider the subject in all tin phases and avise upon a suitable course of action. The old Exposition building was destroyed by fire on Sunday afternoon, June 4, 1905. Until this time the Exposition building had been used as a convention hall and for other large gatherings.

Overcoming many obstacles, the spousors meceded in raising the sum of $250,000 by private subscription. The municipality voted an equal sum, thus providing a total building fund of $500,000.

The arection of the Auditorium was thereafter soon commenced, and continued interrupted until the completion of the building in September. 1909.

Milwankee's Auditorium possesses all the requirements for a targe and commodious convention hall, namely: Ample seating capacity and perfect appointments, accessibility, and adaptability, absoints safety, requisite stage and stage facilities, complete acressories in the shape of wardrobe, tollets, telegraph and telephones, alorage accommodations with ample provision for exhibition space, bannet and assembly halls, a market hall, committee and retiring rooms. The building occupies an entire square—or 99,000 square feet.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 26 (Special to The Biliboard).—Mias Maxine Elliott opened her two weeks' engagement at the Lyric Theatre, Chicago, last Monday night. Nov. 28, playing in Frank Stayton's comedy. The Inferior Sex. This play has to do with a woman-hater who is writing a book on woman-hating and who has salid off alone on his yacht that he may be undisturbed. During the action of the play he rescues a fady who is adrift in a small boat, and naturally his plans are npaet and his book goes to feed the fishes. Miss Elliott is the only woman in the cast. Frederic Kerr plays the role of the woman-hater, and O. B. Clareace has the part of the vallet, the principal comedy role.

7. Tamamoto, a Japanese sctor, plays the other principal role.

Stock Attractions for Imperial

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 28 (Special to The Billboard).—Frank Gaszolo, managing director of the firm of Klimt & Gaszolo, jessees of the new Imperial Theatre, the playhouse just completed at Madison atreet and Western avenue, has returned from New York, where he journeyed to confer with J. J. Shabert regarding the class of attractions to be booked at that theatre, Measrs, Gaszolo and Shubert could not come to a satisfactory agreement, and therefore tha Independent attractions will not play the Imperial. The theatre will be operated by Klimt & Gaszolo as a high-class atock company theatre. Mr. Gaszolo also aunounces that he will open the Imperial Christmas week and will offer his stock company in Charles Klefu's The Lion and the Mouse. The prices charged will range from one dollar down.

SKINNER AT ILLINOIS.

Chicago, .ill., Nov. 26 (Special to The Bill-board).—This is Otis Skinner's last week at the Illinois Theatre in Your Humble Servant., The critics all speak highly of Mr. Skinner's loietpreixtioo of the role of Lafsyette Towers. Following are ontolous of the various critics on the Chicago dailies.

Amy Leslie, of the News: "Scema msuy pisys, good and had, have boomed momentously across the simanac, thus far, but nothing so cobwebbed with the genuine, so fuit of dreams and gentle grace of heart as this flottering apotheosis of enthosissms asiray, of bombast noisily veiling the tears of the soul, of genial commonness and gracious simplicities abreast of whipping times."

Frederick Histioo, of the Post: "The pisy is more notable as a setting for a character slody than it is as a drams exhibiting marked technical skill. And Mr. Skinner draws his role so delightfoily and with such cherry optimism that the curtain comes down on a thoroughly satisfied andience."

James O'Donnell Bennett, of the Record-Herald: "It acrossed moch mirch acid commanded.

nical skill. And Mr. Skinner draws ms rote we delightfoily and with such cherry optimism that the curtain comes down on a thoroughly satisfied andlence."

James O'Donnell Bennett, of the Record-Herald: "It aroosed moch mirth and commanded fond attention, and it enabled Mr. Skinner to frolic increasuily in a strain of half-mad, balf-geooine heroics, to visuslize an engaging, figure out of the past and in delight observation with the disclosure of the manifold graces, shimsles, pictorial flights and vehement imaginings."

Eric Delamarter, of the Inter-Ocean: "Your Hombia Servant, revessed at the litting in the pictoreaque settings of tising and falling fortues, sli the human interest they prefer to attribute to the lobshilants of that reticed world."

O. L. Hall, of the Journai: "Like all the figments of the fascy of its authors, this play, now on view for the first time here, is more a fairy tale than a history. Virtua again wears the robe of gold; beauty puts on the cryatal slipper; the dress comes trus."

The Vaudeville Week in Chicago

TWENTY-TWO ACTS

Will Compose Program to be Offered at American Music Some Notes of the Great and Near Great in the Vaudeville Hall-Performances will Run Unterrupted Four Hours and Only Acts of First Magnitude will be Offered

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 26 (Special to The Bill-board).—The most remarkable departure in Chicago's vandeville history will attend next week's program at the American Music Hall, when Wm. Morris, Inc., will present twenty-two atar acts at each of two performances daily. The shows will atart at 1:30 and 7:30 P. M., and will not end until 5:30 and 11:30 P. M., glving to each performance four solid hours, with more than ave acts per hour in the unhroken procession of talent across the siage. Only sketches will be allowed their full running time. The singing, dancing, luntrumental and acrobatic performances will be cut to a point where only sure-fire numbers will be used without any of the incidental touches, introductories or valedictories.

WILLARD HAS BIG BILL

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 26 (Special to The Bili-board).—The Ten Georgia Campers were the beadline act this week and acored a hig hit. Rose Johnson pleased. Harry Deaves and Com-pany, Lawrence and Harvey and the Zeigler Trio made up the rest of the bill, which, on the whole, was one of the best performances given at the Willard this season.

WILSON AVE. BILL.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 26 (Special to The Bill-board).—The Four Flying Banvards, Blake's An-imal Circus. Flechtl's Tyrolean Sextette, Wash-hurn and Wilson, Klein and Clifton, and Johnnie Baxter was the splendid hill offered at the Wil-son last week.

MERITORIOUS BILL AT MAJESTIC.

Chicago, Ill... Nov. 28 (Special to The Bill-board).—A atroag aggregation of acts formed the program at the Majestic this week.

Arcola and Company, in a spectacular musical act, opened the hill. This act can be classed as only fairly good.

Mr. Tony and Miss Erna Ballot, European equilibrists and gymnasts, performed some marveloos feats in acrobatic work with weights, rings, etc.

CHICAGO'S HOLDOVER SHOWS.

Chicago, Nov. 26 (Special to The Riliboard'—This is the last week of The Aviator at the Olympic Theatre. This hamorous comedy will take up its quarters in New York. Get-Rich Quick Wailingford will be the next attraction at this theatre.

At the Whilney Opera House, Lower Berth 13 is entertaining and amusing the many who frequent this theatre. The Chocolaie Soldier is atill at the Garrick, laying claim to splendif business. Miss Alice Yorke was recently added to the cast. The Spendthrift has firmly established itself at the Chicago Opera House as well as in the favor of many of Chicago's theatregoers.

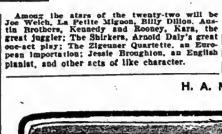

At Powers' Theatre, The Commulers holds sway with its efficient cast who do many things that convulse the audiences with laughter. The City, with its tensity, is conceded by those who have ever it, to be a wonderful play, acted in a convincing manner. The Seventh Danghter, with Its spiritasiistic atory, continues at the Cort to entertain and please the many who visit this showbouse.

Casino Theatre Opens

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 26 (Special to The Billboard).—This theatre was fast opened to the public at a Thanksgiving matther. It is controlled by Hurtig and Seamon with M. B. Schiersinger as manager. They have spent $50,000 in rehulding decorating, etc.

Altro and Mitchell, who opened the hill asciever comedy jugglers, had an accident and could not go on with the acl. They do a revolving ladder act and the wire knoke hringing them down to the stage with a tremendous force and cuiling the wrist of Milchell so badly that they could not go on with the act.

Henrietta Byson, who went on second, could hardly sing the music belog so poor. The drummer was not up in his traps and could do nothing. The orchestra was terrible.

Mrs. Eva Fay, who was the added attraction at the Star and Garter a few weeks ago, was good in there was a ten or affect—minute wait before she appeared and the audience wis getting disgusted.

Josephine Leroy and Bowman Brothers are having great success with Harold Rosalier's Girl of My Dreams.

Rigoletto Brothers are using Maid of Chicago.

Count de Beaufort made a decided hit at the American Music Hall last week with Harold Rosalier's Asid of Chicago.

Adolph Marks, attorney for Mayme Remington, reports that she has received judgment against William Moeris, Inc., for $600 salary due her for two weeks, when she was laid off by Morris. Her contract called for seven weeks and she only received five.

W. F. Mann, advance agent for The Plotter Company, has received judgment against Lester G. Suerly for $119.40 salary due him.

Altro and Mitchell, comedy acrobats, who opened the first show at the new Casino Theates, Thankagiving matinee, were injured in a fall from a revolving ladder. The wire hroke and the ladder fell on the stage with these two performers.

The Waukegan Daily Snn got mixed in its underlines one day last week. Cuta of Coy de Trickey and Charles Williama were used. Miss de Trickey was described as a "rube fiddler," and Williama was pronounced a "delightful sing comedlenne."

John Nemo returned to Chicago last week from St. Louis, where he attended the session of the American Federation of Labor. He went to Clucinnati this week on business connected with the White Rats-Actors' Union, as the organisation is now known.

Ethel Whiteside and "Those Picks." in The Foilles of Coontown, appeared at the Williard Theatre the last half of last week, completing a few weeks on the Frank Q. Doyle time before opening for the U. B. O. at the Temple in Detroit. The act will be seen in New York shortly.

The Cromwella opened their American tour at the American Music Hall in New Orleans a Itoric. The acc was seen and the American tour at the American Music Hall in New Orleans a few weeks ago and played their first engagement in Chicago last week. The act is on the Morris time and will make its first appearance in New York later in the season.

H. C. Bluthenthal, Harry Hanf and S. E. Wilholt have acquired the entire interests in the Orpheo Theatre, Piue Blanf, Ark., playing moving pictures and vaudeville. C. E. Philipot. manager of the Elks' Theatre, disposed of his interests in the Orpheo and will in the future devote his entire time to the Elks.

Trevett Offers Excellent Bill

Chlcago, Nov. 26 (Special to The Billboard).

—Reisner and Cook, comedy jugglers. who opened the hill at the Trevett last week, were very good.

May Taylor, the joily ainger, who introduced the atory song, entitled The Rose, which was an impersonation of Edna Wallace Hopper in Jumping Jupiter, was exceptionally good.

Era Quartette, those ever-funny colored minatrels, were also good.

Fillott. Balal. and Fillott.

Elilott. Belair and Elilott, comedy acrobats, who perform some novel feats, were excellent. Crogan and Parks, eccentric singers and ancers, were the hit of the hill. These fellows with their comedy and wonderful voices, are ladeed worthy of a position on the Ali-Star Bill.

D. Crolius and Company, in vandeville's one best bet, entitled Shorty, were good. This sketch has been seen several times on the Or-pheum Circuit.

Offive Brisco is a clever entertainer and made decided hit with the song, entitled Just An rdinary Girl.

act of its kind seen on the stage, was good. The act is mystifying and went big.

The act is mystifying and went big.

Kars, the greatest of modern jugglers, held the audience about thirty minutes.

Count De Beanfort, with nerve unshaken, faced a hostile audience. The Count is an actor and he can prove it. He did so when he made his debnt at the American Music Hall and also proved his right to tell any kind of story about his nerve and get away with it. He also introduced his dog "Bob" to the audience. The Count stays on the pay-roll unless perchance, the dog catchers abould get "Bob." Before the Count did his maiden turn Colonel Thompson acted just a little hit like a man who figured he might soon figure as a accessory before some sort of a tragic fact. "But no-body better start anything" quoth the Colonel grimly. "I've got plain clothes men all over the house."

Leave it to the Count with his winning emile and jolly way. He won many friends who had come to jeer him.

The Four Mortons, who were reviewed last week, headlined the All-star bill, are not necessary for another review except to state that Sam tried to pull off the Count's act in his inimitable way.

La Bella Nello, who was also reviewed last week, closed the bill in feats of acrobatic work-

Edouard Jose, the French character actor, in a very atrong dramatic sketch, entitled The Strike, was a hit. Mr. Jose is noe of the most talented actors that have played the American Music Hall. There are about twenty people in the cast and the sketch is founded on the elebrated play, entitled La greve des Gorgerous. The ecene is a court room in a small town in France.

Tom and Stania Moore got over. Moore has a very good voice. He introduced That Mendelsohn Tune in splendid style. Stasia Moore can be classed as nothing moore or less than a fashion plate. Her gowns are beantiful and all the does is to wear them.

Charles Dickson Sues Daniel Arthur

Naw York, Nov. 28 (Special to The Billboard), —Charles Dickson, author of The Simple Life, and owner of tha play by that name, brought suit against Daniel V. Arthur and Avery Hopwood in the United States Circuit Court yesterday for plagiarism, in connection with the production of Judy Forgot, in which Misa Marie Cahill is now playing at the Broadway Theatre
Mr. Dickson, through his attorney, Robert L.
Turk, sought an injunction reatraining Mr. Arthur from further presentation of the piece, and he demanded judgment of $100 for the first performance and $50 for each subsequent presentation of Judy Forgot.

Max D. Josephson, counsel for Messrs. Arthur and Hopwood, said that the theme of sensory aphasis had been made use of in numerous other plays, and hed been known from time immemorial, and that therefore his cilents could not be guilty of plagiarism.

Judge Ward allowed counsel for plaintiff until

LAW DOES NOT APPLY

Decision Rendered by Erie, Pa., Judge in Favor of Moving Enterprising Chicago Film Manufacturer Secures Nobleman Picture Theatre Manager Creates State Wide Interest Among Exhibitors

Eric, Pa., Nov. 25 (Special to The Biliboard).

Jadge -Walling in Coart last Saturday afternoon, took from the jury of the Quarter Session Court the case of H. T. and T. F. Connelly, tha managers and owners of the Happy Hour Theatre, who were charged with refusing to take out a State theatrical litense, as required his law. The Judge, after all the testmony was in and the law had been quoted by Attorney English, ruled that the theatre dld not come under the general law licensing opera houses; that it was a miving picture show and that new legislatien would have to be enacted governing the licensing of amnaement places of this character if the State wanted to enlarge the license law.
The costs were piaced on the county. The case was a very close one, and all the evidence was based on the fact that a certain theatre in pittsburg was running moving pictures in the afternoon and evening, while tha Happy Hour was running moving pictures.

Success

One of the hest products of the Edison Company, released within the past several months is the film called A Danghter of the Mines. While the story is laid slong old and convantional lines, there are a number of innovational that brighten what might otherwise be a very state subject. The story discloses the so of a mining superintendent in love with a miner's daughter. The neual paternal objections are raised, the father of the boy on account of social barriers and the girl's parent, believing the young man to be a trifler. The inevitable elopemant occurs and after the couple have been united in wedlock, the neual forgivenesses and blessings are extended. The novaity is the method of elopment. The only means of leaving the mining camp is by hringing lith commission a switch engine, employed by the mine. Another noticeshis feature of the film is that the spectator is spared the monotony of witnessing ait the preparations for escape, etc. that are usually employed to lengthen a film of this kind, whilst the atrongest point in favor of this film is its scenic investiture. A group of miners showing the men leaving the mines is very realistic, and the picturesque scenery of the Canadian mountains is beautiful. The character delineation of the old miner as well as the roll of heroine are well enacted and barring the fact that the story is rather old, the film is in all other respects much better than the average. Released Nov. 25; length 905 feet.

widely advertised man of the hour. Count de Beaufort. The Count and his escapades are occupying front page positions in the prominent newspapers all over the world. At every performance at which he appeared at the American Music Hall, Chicago, he packed the house. Mr. Laemmle, with his usual foresight and aggreasive initiative at once saw the possibilities of picturing the Count on film so that the entire public could view him as he is and satisfy the curiosity aroused by the newspapers. His decision once made, Mr. Laemmla interviewed tha Count and opened negotiations. Shortly after they were under way another hig film manufacturer immped into the hidding hut as promptty fell into the background when Laemmic raised the ante with leaps and bounds and made it evident that he would attain his purpose no matter what the cost.

The result is that the moving picture public of the world are now offered through the Independent Moving Pictures Company a feature subject which the exhibitor can display with the advantage of resping the harvest of advertising which the newspapers have given to the ambiget and which will accordingly urge a visit to the place where it is on view. This scoop adda another to the numerahia list which has caused Carl Laammle to be considered, and rightfully so, as not only one of the best-knewn film man in the hasiness, but also one of the livest of live wires as a pioneer.

Value of Industrial Pictures

With a knowledge born of thorough atudy of the anbject, and a keen insight into its manifold possibilities, wattarson B. Bothacker, general mausger of the recently-formed industrial Moving Picture Company, of Chicago, conclusively sets forth in his prospector the value of motion pictures as an advartising medium. "Motion pictures," he writes, "are a power ful drawing card. They attract, antertain, interest, explain and convince. The best advertisement in the world will never be written because moving pictures are the superlative advertising medium and exceed the limitations of your pen.

"Industrial moving pictures are advertising educators. They not only give widest publicity in favor of the firm whose operations are depicted, but they educate their audience and are a capabla and entertaining teacher."

By the method of the Industrial Moving Picture Company the deftily concealed advertising message in the film is delivered undisturbed by diverting influences. From a accusario of the advertiser's ambject is arranged a film replate with entertaining interest. In this manner the advertising is ancreasfully veiled, while the name and purpose of the advertiser is prominently identified.

MOVING PICTURE OPERATOR'S BALL

Moving picture operators, Cincinnati Local No. 185, gave an entertaiument ball at the Central Turner. Hall, Cincinnati, on the evening of October 30, at which the exhibitors and renters were all represented. Tom Ritey and Ed Bernardi, of the Southern Film Exchange, and A. Dresner, of the Magnetic Film Exchange, were in attendance. Mr. Dresner, by the way, being the only honocary member of the local, the officers of which are: Ed. Kirsch, president; Jas. Curtis, vice-president; Harry Schwartz, secretary and treasner: Ed. Walker, business agent, and Fred Biere, sargeant afarms. The committee on arrangements were: Wm. Thoraton, Harry McOmber. Bernard Roebm, William Newman, Harry Henisman and Charles Russell. The hall lasted from seven in the evening until four o'clock in the morning and there were many beautiful dances participated in, chief among which was a moonlight effect dance upon which were thrown various colors of spot lights arranged by the mambers of the local. Three cash prizes were given for the dauces, amounting to $50. It is estimated that the boys cleared in the neighborhood of $500, $115 of which was the net revenue from the program.

To Vaudeville Stage is Hilda Spong-Emotional Actress will Eva Tanguay Refuses to Play on Bill with Gertrude Hoff-Travel Under Wm. Morris' Banner, and Begin New York Engagement at American Music Hall Next Week

New York, Nov. 26 (Special to The Billboard).—It happens every week that some legitimate is lured from the "higher-priced admission" field to the two-a-day vaudeville host. Hilda Spong is the latest name on the long list. This popular emotional actress who was recently starred by Cohan and Harris in The Penalty, has secured for her vandeville vehicle a stirring playlet, entitled Bridge, from the pen of Graham Hill. dealing with the prevalent craze of the RICE & COHEN'S NEW VEHICLE.

New York, Nov. 26 (Special to The Billboard).

The Path of the Primroses, John C. Rice and Sally Cohen's new comedy sketch, is well up to their standard. Unlike any of their other offerings, it deals with the case of the poverty-stricken airdome artist who stoops to all sorts of means to get enough money to bny a meal to keep them slive on Xmas Day. She had allured him to the stage from the shoe-store where a vapid and wittees comedian of his type only belonged. Just as they are about to go on in their singing and dancing act, a telegram is handed him, but he has not even the quarter to pay for it. By promising to pay the messenger after the show, he is given the missive, which informs him that the manager of the Broux Airdome is in the sudience to witness his performance and judge of its merit and sultability for his place of amusement. After a most tribulous effort they presented their number, which won them $1.000 a week.

The sketch is a great langb provoker and can be called a "sure go." It is in two scenes opening in full depicting a dressing-room scene and closing to one when they present the Primrose's singing and dancing number.

Cecil Magous, who is now a member of the Harlem Stock Company, was formerly a member of Richard Mansfeld's Company, and appeared in Peer Gynt, the last play presented by Mans-field.

—How is this for a meritorious All-Star hill? Only apperiative degree acts and a whole program full of them. Of course, there were more acts worthy of 'inclusion; hut these were teft out not because of lack of merit, but because only nine acts could be used. Those omitted deserving of stellar classification were Sam Chip and Mary Marhie in In Old Edam: The Bobemian Quintette, the Star Boot and John C. Rice and Saily Cohen. Maclyn Arbuckle in The Welcher, and Garcia, the Spanish Shadowgraphist, needless to remark, deserve coveted positions but are ineligible for three months to come after having been placed on the New York All-Star bill of November 14.

come after having been placed on the New York All-Star bill of November 14.

Therefore the feature position is awarded to Eddie Leonard, the black-face minstrel, who has gained fame through his original rendition of Booloo Beau, with the complementary assistance of Mabet Russell. The next important place must be given Boland West in his able and couvincing presentation of his prolean role in The Under World. The other full stage acts that have earned their right to this bill are Maximi and Bobby, perfectly at home in Station A; The Pianophiend Minstrels, Lasky's musical creation, so ably accomplished by Ben Linn, Mr. McCarty and the "eyesome" Gladys Lockwood; Chas. Ahern, without a doubt the most comical cycle act on the stage to-day, and Robledillo, the drunken elack wire artist, a peer in his line. The in-one acts that won their way to this program are Harry, Jolson, the humorous minstrel boy; the Dagwell Sisters who accompilsh their historical cycle, of songs in very pleasing fashion; and the humorust, Marshall P. Wilder, who has more real pungency to his jibes and jokes than the average highine monologist. No better All-Star bill than this one has ever been offered, and the Colonial claims the credit of contributing over half the acts this week.

New York, Nov. 28 (Special to The Billboard).

—Following is the report as worded and given out by William Morris, Inc., after the big anniversary week program of twenly-twn acts.—Mondey, Nov. 21—"It was announced yesterday by William Morris, Inc., that the phenomenal success of "anniversary week" at the American Music Hail had broken all records of vandeville altendances in this city. To substantiate their claim they made public the following figures; the total attendance of the week was 38,760 persons and the gross receipts $20,120.75.

"This record-breaking business was accompliated in sixteen performances: the extra two performances being made possible by the use of the American Music Hail Winter Garden on Saturiay and Sanday night, double hills being played, the complete program being given on both stages on the same evening.

"The cost of the bill of twenty-two acts was given as $12,250."

her name on the asme program with Gertrude Hoffman, whose name was carried on the last page of the program, announcing this artist's presence at the house this week. Whatever the differences between the two actresses may be, Eva steadfastly refused to appear under the above conditions. No changa was made in the printing on the program, so that Eva absented herself for the week. No interference with the remainder of her bookings was thereby incurred, owing to her grest house-filling ability and erratic Eva, as she terms herself, is now entertaining Pittshurg andiences, as previously scheduled.

The American Music Hall had another one of those 22 hig shows, although anniversary week has past and gone.

On Monday evening, November 21, before time had been given Morris to arrange everything perfectly the performance commenced at 7:30 p. m. and lasted until the midnight hour.

Clarice Vance returned to New York's two-day and won her audience by that indefinable womanly charm although she is not hullt on the same proportions of the type who usually possess feminine charm. Her good nature is infectious, and accounts for her success in the rendition of You Can Lead a Mule to Water, But You Cannot Make Him Drink.

Arnold Daly presented his vehicle, The Van Dyck, his first American success. The appreciation of his playlet seemed to be divided between Iwo facilions—the galiery, who hissed him on two or three occasions during the long exposition which allows the aketch to proceed devoid of action for over half the act, and the two lower floors, who knew the shility of the Englishman and gave him ample reason to address the andlence at the conclusions of his third encore. "This incident this evening, recalls to unind the remark made by an American favorite on a similar occasion: 'What can you (the gallery) and I do against so many' (pointing to the halsnee of the andlence.)" The American Music Hall is dark this week, owing to a diapnte between the two wings of the William Morrla Circuit. No advertising matter was ordered by Joseph Pile, manager, and no advance notices sent out, which situation would naturally lead one to believe that the house of Morris would be dark. Manager Pile dealed, through the columns of the newspapers, that his house would close.

Arthur Brandela, of the J. L. Brandels & Sons, owners of the theatre, said in an interview: "Wa are so far from both the San Francisco and New York offices of the William Morris interests, that we are not well informed of their intentions. The local management of the house will probably remain the same and Mr. Pile probably will continue as manager, no matter who furnishes the shoes. We cannot say as yet whether the William Morris Circuit will continue to furnish us with bills or not. There may be some other firm to take up the house, as we have several offers from companies awaiting in come into Omaha. We can assure the Omaha public that the house will not be dark for more than a week or two."

It is rumored that the Pautages Circuit are mighty auxious to allp into Omaha and, take the Morris people's location. The Pautagea are atrong in the West and putting up good attractions.

It is rumored that the Pantages Circuit are mighty anxions to alip late Omaha and take the Morris people'a location. The Pantages are atrong in the West and putting up good attrections.

The orders-to close came from Walter Hoff Seeley, manager of the western wing of the Morria interests. The local house is leased for several years by the American Music Hail Company of Nahraska, in which the William Morris Company, western, owns seventy-five per cent. of the capital stock. If the Morris Company gets new leases for the building, they will have to get someone acceptabla to the owners of the huilding or be obliged to pay reut on the building for the term of the lease. Also there is a strong rumor that the Orpheum interests are after the Morris bouse, color ieut to this argument by the fact that Martin Beck, general manager of the Orpheum Circuit, twice visited Manager Pile, of the American, when the (Beck) was here recently. Manager Pile claims the patronage is ateadily increasing. Hap Ward. LONDON NEWS LETTER

Action-Legislators will Protect the Old Halls by Discontinuing Promiscuous Issuance of License

During the past lhree years there has been an ecormous increase in the number of music halls and places of amusement in London, and as I have recently explained, those responsible have still a huge huilding program before them. But now the London County Council, which grants the license that allows a place of amusement to open its doors, has made up its mind to take a hand in the game.

A majority of members on the council have come to the concusion that variety theatres in the metropolis are being multiplied to an extent, which, they say, is likely to lead to undesirable results. In future, therefore, they have determined that an applicant for a new il-cense should be called upon to prove that the district in which he proposes to build his house is inadequately supplied with such places of entertainment.

On the whole the proposal is welcomed among music hall proprieters. The opinions that I have been collecting from various people within the last few days may be ammarized thus:

"The London County Council has evidently determined but only just in time—that London shall not be made the background of annial hall war, whose consequences would be disafoned and widespread.

In the savings of thousands of armil investors are threatened by schemes recently announced which would only have the effect of ruining the proprietors in which they are interested.

"A music hall license is granted under conditions which can only be compiled with by a high outlay of capital. Is it fair that another hall should be erected within a few yards of a valuable business which little was been built up under the continuous work. The continuous work was a summer adjacent to existing bouses would simply have the effect of ruining the old halls without any compensating advantages to the theatreyolog public. The Fulham Empire, to the erectiou of which local objection has been taken, in a case in point, its position, would be only a few yards from the old established Granville at Waiham Green, and if it aboud he built a ferce fight for mere put forward within the next few months."

Of course the person who has aroused this integrals in Jantagoniam is onwaid soil, who is a kind of Napoleon of the music halls over here. As I wook you a week or two ago has just severed his connection with the Mosa Empires and has attarted to build halts, on his own account all over London. I see no reason why he abould not appropriate the present instance, will not oppose the huilding, of the hills which Stoil has a stready planned huit will put all kinds of obatacles in the way of further building. Sill, by the time he has flashed his present program Stoil may conse it seems that the artists must gain in the end, But from an inside source I inderstal that the pleaner polaces tend to demoralize the young

THE MICHEL

THE MICHEL.

There tsn't a theatre in Parla which gives more fun for the money than the Theatre Michel, First nights there are always a delight. This week Le Feu du Voisin (High Neighbor's Passaion), was produced, and owing to the pressure of such artists as Mme. Jane Hading (who created Madme X) and Andre Brule (creation of Arsene Lupin), on the bill, added to the interest.

The play is in two acts, it is by Francis de Croisset, who adapted Maurice Le Bisne's stories of Arsene Lupin to the stage. It is quite l'arisian and thus defea description. However, it tells the story of a young Englishman who falia in love with a French girl and is frightfully embarrassed when it comes to making love, because he can't speak French and she known to English. There are all sorts of complications and a good ending. Andre Brule is delightful as the Englishman, and Mme. Jane Hading is, of course, superb as the French girl.

A l'Impossible, a one-act piece, by J. J. Frapia, heads the Theatre Michel bill, and La Dame du Second, by Miguel Zamacois, is the good night vehicle. This is atso in me act.

Of course one does not expect to find an elaborate plot in a musical comedy but the one in the present instance is quite up to the average. In any case-it is a splendid spectacle and a first-rate entertainment. The story is easily told. Mathilde, an exiled Bonapartist princess runs away from a school in London in order to marry a soldier by the name of Charteris. She arrives at a little country village and thence comes the hridegroom, accompanied by an American love with a little Quaker girl of the village, called Prudence. THE WORLD OF BURLESQUE

By SYDNEY WIRE.

When the inestrical producer takes the musical comedy vehicle, and attempts to transpisnt it, body and soul—eyes, booen and all as it were, on to the hurlesque stage and to offer it, in all its original entirety, to the modern burlesque audience, the result is usnaity the same, I. E., FAILURE. The reason is not far to seek and to those who have wastched the situation closely, the solution is palaisly apparent. The hurlesque audience of to-day is blace and is far too irritable to allow litself to be bothered with any iniricale plot which requires long airciches of thresome dialogue to explain. It is looking for action and vapid fire comedy. Good music, good singing, a good-looking sad well drilled chorus of dsintily costumed girls, and if the book does contain plot or atory, it must be told in a synopsised manner with sil and every hit of superfluous dislogue eliminated. Situations must be handled with all the celerity possible, entrances and exits made with all the apeed that good judgment will allow, and the amaliest sisge wait must be carefully avoided.

If there is any fault to be found with Phit is exceptibly avoided.

If there is any fault to be found with Phit show is the old musical comedy, Bankers and Brokers, used a few seasons ago by Messrs. Yorke and Adama, the story of which is too well-known to require any expisuation here, and an excellent company of well-known players has been engaged to handle the principal roles.

Ed. Morton, as B. Dunn Good, looks well snd handles his part with every satisfaction, while Al. Hall, in the "How Do I Know" character of by Yorke & Adams, are well taken care after the produce of the woo and his work has a possibly the best of the two and his work has present of parts and schults, formerly handled by Yorke & Adams, are well taken care after the produce of the work was excellent. Mr. Adams was possibly the best of the two and his work has possibly the best of the two and his work is an old and very de bad.

The wardrobe, too, is hardly good enough and the changes are inappropriate and lacking in brightness. The ollo, with Haatings & Wilson and Ed. Morton, is necessarily good and the show, with a few changes among the rank of the chorus will probably become worth whil-

Alibough undergoing a attrenuous process of medification, the Sam T. Jack Show is by no means the worst attraction the Western Wheel has got, and from a singing standpoint it would asisnd a builty chance with the best of them. The show is headed by Bob Van Osten, always slow but nevertheless fruny with a dry and convincing humor entirely his own. As the show atands at present there is not much show to it, as far as the hook is concerned, but what it may have lacked in siability was easily counterbalanced by genoine comedy, of Bob sad the splendid singing of the clever prima douns. Raiheryn Delmar, who is possessed of a sweet voice of nunsual range and power. Her ballad, Love Once Again in the Springtime, was a masierpiece and one could hardly leave the theatre with an nukind thought for the show with such a singer as Miss Delmar on its program. The show has another excellent feature which saved it in many ways. I refer to the excellence of the chorus and the plenitude of the numbers which followed each other in such rapid succession that it was, at times, hard to believe that the girls had time to make the changes. The chorus is an exceptionally good looking selection of all hard workers and evidently good aingers, as some of the choruses sounded nicely npon the evening that I witnessed the show. The favorite numbers were, Come Ont and Pisy Ball With Me. Lucy Anna Lou, Maybe You're Not the Only. One Who Loves Me, Belly Brown, Jungle Band, The Beantiful Rag, and Van Osten's Agony Band. I must not forget to mention the clever, work of Billy Meehan and his talented wife, Videt Pearl, who were the life and soul of the show. Their work lu the ollo, and in fact all through the action of the show made them easy favorites with the sudience and it seemed a pity that their wonderful dancing specialty and especially the graceful work of Miss Pearl was not more appreciated. Bob Van Osten continues to do his court-room sinft, which, however, got them lamphing. His agony band is also still funny but a change of the song would be welcome.

There is an olio with the show which is good enough and which is opened by Billy Meehan and Violet Pearl, in a singing and dancing act. They are followed by Farunm and Delmar's act, which consists of some good singing and some indicrous pantomima and acrobatic work. The Munical Stewarts have a pleasing musical act while Elmer Collins and Lew Christy, killed as few minntes with a stationary cycling arrangement which although billed as an added attraction, ereated but little interest.

When the Western Wheel can show a few more attractions like Harry Strouse's Lady Bucaneers, they will certainly have to build larger theatres or arrange to secure higger houses to take care of their audiences. Harry's show, last season, was good and this season it is better. It is an old style buriesque with lots of good comedy, bright scenery, plenty donna role, and does it in an easy and graceful manner. J. C. Hannon, William Harris, George Martin, Virginia Ware, Josephine Bonet and others in minor parts, all did nicely and a atrong olio helped the show materially. The olio includes Helea Vau Buren, Hanson and Bonet, Martiu and Ware, and Mile. Emeric in a pleasing Charmion act. Joe Walson is doing his parodies during the action of the plece, where they seem to go better than they did in one. The Ledy Buccaneers is one of the best Western Wheel shows I have seen this season, and it is sure to get the money for lix deserving owners, and two better felinwa never lived than Harry M. Strouse and the popular Wash Marlin.

On the beautiful state highway, a few miles from Albany in New York State, and within sight of the main road, there at nds a paiatial modern dwelling which ha surrounded 1200 acres-of the most fertile isud, all of which is under cultivation. It is one of the most prosperous farms in the viciuity and ha the property of a well-known burlesque comedian, whose favorite character is German. The thought of this tactful and exemplary member of the hurlesque profession has inspired me to verse and with apologies to my dear friend Will, here goes:

and with apologies to my dear rriend with here goes:
I know s young actor named Ward, who to be a sport could not afford.
Through his long atage career he cut out boose and beet.
And now he's as rich as a lord.
It would be well if many of us could take an inspiration from our frugal friend abova mentioned, and a little effort at economy would make a deal of difference to lota of na in the abova business. It's astunishing what a small smount s man can live on when he goes to be at nights after the abov.

The roster with Harry Strouse and Waa's Martin's Lady Buccaneers is: Harry M Strouse, manager; Wash Martin, business manager; Joseph K. Walson, atage manager; Free' Ashbaeh, musicat director; Frank Gorman, car penier; Thos, Gresham, electrician, sud Mrs

Larue Barton, Rose Mann, Grace Whitman and Dorothy Armstrong.

Dave Vine, comedian with Phil Sheridan's Marathon Girls, has been compelled to resign with the show, owing to loss of his voice Fils part in the cast of the show will be played by Joe Freed, a young and rising German dialect comedian, who opened with the show at Cleveland this week.

W. E. Kerns, general sgent for the Coamopolitan Shows No. 1 during the past season, is now in Chicago, making arrangements to take out on the road a hurlesque show, festuring that "Indian Glirl Stelle." The roster of the company is as foliuws: W. E. Kerns, sole owner and general manager; Doc. Broadwell, general agent; George Adams, electrician; Miss Bessie Russell, musical director; Frank Miller, stage carpenter; Frank Healt, trick bicyclist;
Scott and Ferguson, comedisms; Maude Evans, Clara Scott, Bessie Miller, Mande Allen, Marie Johnson, Mae Adams, Mayhle Hoon, Doris Ellis and Grace Harris.

Everyone who hears Felix Adler sing his funny Spagette medley, is wondering where be got the clever and bisarre orchestration which goes with it. The accompaniment is a double time Turkey in the Straw melody, which is cleverly arranged to suit the harmony of the song. It immediately catches the ear and is the cause of general comment, Felix says that the orchestration in question was written for him by the leader of a Fort Worth orchestra, and that it cost him hat two dollars.

Phil Sheridan has temporarily retired from sciive work and has returned to his home at Bath Beach, where he will speed the remainder of the season. His interests an the road will be taken care of by Sam L. Tuck, the well-known thestrical manager.

taken care of by sam L. Auck, the well-knows the strical manager.

The Avou Comedy Four, which was to have been the added airaction with the Star and Garter Girls during their engagement at the Gayety, Pilahorg, were obliged to cancel owing to the sickness of a member of the act. They were replaced by Charlie Case, who made a big hit telling his andiences sbont his father.

Charlie Franklin, the well-known agent, is ahead of Morris Wainstock's Rector Girls (Western Wheel), which show is now headed by Francia Salitvan. The apecial attractions with the show are The Brianza Trio and Ayesha Hara, the Russian dancer.

The present executive staff of Phil Sheridau's ahow is: Phil Sheridan, owner; Sam L. Tuck, manager; Joa. Shaddack, lesds: Frank Blair, stage manager; Ben Morner, stage carpenter; Ed. Bauer, electrician, and Mrs. Witd, wardrobe mistress.

Harry Clark, 1ste manager of Sam Howe's Riaito Ronnders, is in New York, and will remain there for several weeks. He denies any ill-feeling between himself and Mr. Howe, an attains that he may rejoin the show within a few Ethel Underbilt, a young and rising melodra-matic star, is considering an offer from an Eastern Wheel manager for next season. Miss Underbilt is young, possesses unusual beauty, and is sure to be warmly welcomed in burlesque.

It is atsied that Jack Singer will have a third show on the Eastern wheel uext season. His present attractions, which are playing to big husiness, are The Behmau Show and The Serenaders.

The executive staff with Charlie Bohlason's Crusoe Girls le: Chas. Roblason, owner; Ed. Davidson, manager: Herry Link, advance representative; Harry Armer, masical director; Joe Mallen, property man: Fred LaVarge, electrician, and Dinah Hardy, wardrobe mistreas.

SAWDUST AND TANBARK

Resume of the Two Bills' 1910 Season—Big Aggregation Representing Enterprises of Col. Cody and Major Lillie-Robinson Puts Out Winter Show

On the Riaito and connecting professional outposts throughout the country, the fall-time gossip includes discussion of arenic matters, and such questions arise as. "How stand the records of the past sesson? Is every bound fulfilled?"—Anawer from the Two Bills, "Aye, and every promise kept; every friendly prognostication, every hope and every wish have become accomplished facts."

The Cody and Lillie Allisnee, merging the standard attraction of Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Par East has made a success that financially and artistically reaches the grade of an achievement.

The long season covering a territory from the sun-rise on the Atlantic to the sun-set waters of the Pacific, has been fruitful of a harvest gleaned from the field of fortune, accompanied by extraordinary lnck, besides being astonishingly effective in the satisfaction given to patrons hy delivering "the goods."

This is a summsry of the result of the preliminary tour, marking the parting from arealc connection of the old Scont, Buffalo Bill.

jobs and though worked to a frazzle, they must be complimented for the way they came across.

Col. Cody, with that virility so long associated with the frontiersmen, as spry as in days long gone by, never missed a performance—appearing in seven numbers and in his shooting act displaying all his old-time skill with undimmed eye in hitting the globes at galloping speed.

It goes without saying that General Manager Louis E. Cooke, the dean of his class, directing an able advance staff (Charlea Degnon, Lester Mnray, Victor Cooke, Sam Fielders and van Osten in the van) and perfecting details, was a deckdedly sciive factor in secomplishing the summer's handlwork,—s game at which he is so proficient.

On the disbanding at Little Rock, the peopla dispersed in all directions. The horses were ahipped to their farm paddocks in l'ennayivania; the cars and paraphernalia to Trenton winterquarters.

COL. VERNON C. SEAVER.

He is president and gen rai manager of the Young Pnf alo Wild West, and last season was his first in circussiom. Although his abow was hastily organized and under unfavorable condi-tions as to weather, etc., his aggressiveness placed him in the high esteem of all who know him and the "wind-up" found the Colonel with a host of new friends.

So pronounced has been the good fortune of the outit, that common gossip of the Doubting Thomas kind is eclipsed affectually by daily and weekly echoes from the fields that have been recounding broadcast att summer.

First, as to luck in westher; running between the rain-drops; heling before or after the forest fires; escaping the Storm King; not as hlow-down; not one losing day; not one lost performance; always on time; frequent phenomenal turns-ways resching as high as nine clitics ancessively; San Francisco capturing the season'a laurels, actually closing the ticket sale ten minutes before 8 o'clock the second night; the status as a natural exhibition acknowledged in a contest in Frisco, confirmed by the courts of Texas, and admitted by the tax anthorities; arriving in Texas behind a Norther, and enjoying Indian Summer weather in the closing day lata in November (19th Little Bock), sending all home-bound in a happy mood, and packing canvas without moisture.

The organization with Col. Cody and Johnny mood, and packing canvas without moisture.

The organization with Col. Cody and Johnny Baker behind the curtain, a company of heterogeneous character, forming a marvelously "Happy Family;" Major Lillie in constant command in front with an executive ability, contesy and tact that infected his associates, led hy such experienced old campasigners as Col. Charley Thompson, George Wilson, (whose annex was a hanking asset in itself); with Charley McClain and others well equipped to handle the public with politeness, an ideal season was regretfully closed.

Sympathy must be extended to the ticket sellers, takers, money counters and Treasurer Charley Metlius, for the arduous nature of their

Col. Cody, besides his daties with the exhibition, kept in constant touch with his visious enterprises in Wyoming, Nehrasks and Arlzona. He established a line of antomobiles between Cody City and Yellowstone Park with great success, starting from the Hotel Irms, Cody. City, to Peha-has-ks Typee and Wspita Lodge in the Forest Reserve. His North Platte ranch has had added a hear of 5,000 sheep.

The Big Horn Basin Ranches are booming, and Bonita Minea near Tucson. Arizons, and 1,800 acres of placer land are fast developing into paying property; two quartz mills being in action and indications pointing to immensely paying results. Col. Cody left for the mines immediately the night the exhibition closed; to the tune of Billy Sweeney's Band.

Major Lillie has visited Pawnee City and Major Lilile has visited Pawnee City and fixed his fences to permit his supervision of the lustaliation at Trenton when he returns to strend his bank duties as president, his ranches, his Buffslo Breeding Reserve, and see the finishing touches on, and take up his abode in his new $40,000 colonial style mansion.

Nort sesson for the featurely interest.

Next sesson for the farewell visits of Col. Cody to the large internal cities. Philadelphia. Boston. Washington, Baltimore. Deover and Chicago, a program la heing prepared which will render the flust tour memorahle in the annals of exhibitions, when he will lay down his scepter and place the managerist mantle on the shoulders of his younger pioneer comrade. Msjor Gordon Lillie.

Gollmar Bros.' sesson closed at Sikeston, Mo., November 8.

ROBINSON TO PUT OUT WINTER CIRCUS.

Cincinnati la to be credited with putting out the first real winter circus. That is a full-fiedged winter circus that will use a special train of its own cara to transport it through the country. It will be the John Robinson Winter Circus and will take to the road the direct of the year. Arrangements have been made for the appearance of this new enterprise in a number of the leading cities in the East and middle West. The John Robinson Circus has been most favorably known for the past eighty-seven years and the new winter circus will be the very cream of the big show with a number of new attractions added. It will be tilled just as the big show has always been and there is no reason why it should not get money. The executira staff has already been setected and while. It will carry the names of many of the staff of the Ten Big, there are many new ones that will be identified with the winter circus only. The riding acts, aerist acts and ground acts will be selected from the very best obtsinable and the aggregation of trained animals will be particularly interesting.

In connection with the regular circus performance there will be a perfectly organized and historically exact wild west exhibition. This will be made a feature of. To conform with the best of circuses a street parade will be given in each town and this is considered by the showmen as getting a winter circus as near the big aummer show as possible. The Robinson large herd of elephants will form part of the exhibition and it will be the only berthat any winter circus carries. The policy of the circus will be to make the indoor circus as near the big aummer show as possible and nothing will be left undone to attain this. The winter circus train will be made up of, twenty cars and will be run in one or two sections as the occasion may require.

Mr. John Robinson will be the manager, Ed. C. Knupp will take care of the railroads. Francis and will be run in one or two sections as the occasion may require.

Mr. John Robinson will be the manager, Ed. C. Knupp

CANDY BUTCHER INJURED.

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 25.—Sidney Rosenblatt, better known as Sid Maxwell, candy butcher with the Forepaugh-Selis Broa. Circus, met with a painful accident here last week. While walking over the cars of a train while in motion, he slipped and fell between two cars, both of his feet being cut off above the aukle. He was removed to a local hospital, where his chances of recovery are very favorable. His home address is given as 202 E. 103rd atrect, New York City.

RINGLINGS WILL BUILD HOTEL.

Spokane, Wash., Nov. 26.—The Ringling will be the name of a new $250,000 hotel at White Sniphnr Springs. Mont., which John Ringling president of Ringling Bros. Amusement Company, will build at once. The famous Montana Springs will be converted into a fashionable resort and will become the permanent winterquarters for Ringling Bros. Shows.

The new hotel will be located on the White Sulphnr Springs and Yellowstone National Park Railroad.

MORROW SIGNS WITH SUN BROS.

James A. Morrow, who closed a three years' engagement with the Al. G. Barnes Animal Circus at Fresso, Cal., Nov. 12, has algost with the Snn Bros. Shows for the season of 1911. Mr. Morrow was presented with a number of tokens of esteem by different members of the Barnes staff.

ELEPHANT IS EXECUTED.

New York, Nov. 25.—It took 500 grains of cysnide of polassium, a deadly polson, to kill the Gypsy Queen a trick elephant, this aftersoon in execution of the death sentence passed on her for the killing of her keeper, Robert Schiel, on October 20 last. It was forty-four minutes before she was pronounced dead.

CIRCUS GROUND TO BE SOLD.

Ft. Smith, Ark., Nov. 26.—The old circus ground, south of Grand avenue, is to be sub-dirided at once into city lots and placed on the market through the various local dealers.

TAKE ME BACK TO OLD MON-

Take me bark to Old Montana when the show has closed this fail.
To the land of golden sunset where we can hear the cattle bawl.
Where the cowher's call has a the cattle bare.

the cattle bawl,
the cattle bawl,
the cattle bawl,
where the cowboy's call has echoed, from o'er the great divide,
Where we hear our comrades cailing, as arross
'the plains they ride,
Where there ain't no city's glitter, atreet cara and antomobiles,
No Waidorf Astoria and fifty-dollar meals,
Where they don't serve midnight auppera, dessert and angle cake.
But just the good old-fashioned ples like mother used to bake.

Take ms where the old Missouri and the muddy Yetlowstone.

Yetlowstone,
Winds its way down rocky canyons and through billis of boney comb, Where they don't have flat iron buildings nor no forty-story sharks,
But just the plain, old ranch house and the Billy Blce, proprietor of a saloon adjoinlog the Orpheum Theatre, was arrested Saturday, November 19, on a charge of "scalping" Orpheum tickets. The arrest of Rice marks theilmax of a war that has waged between the Orpheum management and a number of saloon men who sell Orpheum tickets. While it is charged that Rice and other saloonists in the heighborhood "scalp" tickets, Rice maintains that he purchases tickets merely for the accommodation of his patrons and delivers at regular prices. Owing to the continued dispute going on in these matters, the police determined to make a test case, hence the arrest of Rice. The outcome of the case is being watched with Even interest by hundreds of patrons of the Orpheum.

Skater Suspended by Western Skating Association—John McDonald Again in Form-Other Skating News of Interest

By JULIAN T. FITZGERALD.

Nov. 26 (Special to The Bill-Chicago, Ili., Chicago, Ili., Nor. 26 (Special to The Billboard).—L. Eheim, an ice skater, who has been skating under the name of James Whinney, at the Ice Palace, since the opening race, has been suspended by the Board of Control of the Western Skating Ass'n for sixty days. Lue suspension is from November 13 to January 11. 1911. Whinney (under which name he skated), who has won several prizes in the ice races held the past three years, skated under an assumed name in a novice race.

S. Herman Leweck, the scrobstle tee akater, has been giving exhibitions at the Ice Paince since the rink opened in September. Leweck is a "dare-devil" ekater, and holds many records for hackward jumping over chairs, tables and hurdles. He holds the record for high jumping backward over the hurdles of three feet and eight inches; also jumps four chairs backwards three feet high. Ho is one of the fastest hackward skaters in the world. Mr. Leweck, besides being an ice akater, does the same stunta- on roller skates.

McDONALD AGAIN IN FORM.

John McDonald, one of the amaliest skaters in Chicago, and oue of the gamest sprinters in the roller game, who it was thought a few weeks back would never be able to compete in races again, has come back. McDonald won the closing series of two-mile races at the Riverview Rink, Sunday night, November 13, from a hig field of roller skaters, and showed by his victory that he is just as good as sver.

McLEAN IS WINNER.

McLean is winner.

The first class "C" ice race that has been shated at the new ice Palsce was skated Monday night, November 14. Twelve of the fastest class "C" aksters competed. The race was skated in two heats and a final. The first heat had the following atsrters: Nels Jacobson, Fred J. Marsolph, Ahlan Zahnen, Harmon Newell, A. S. Nordgren and E. J. Lumpp. The heat was won by Newell, Marzolph, second: Jacobson, third. Time—1:34 1-5. The second heat had as atsrters: Robert McLean, M.-W. Leedy, W. A. Boyce, Otto Larsen, Joseph Dickinson and A. Bakke. The heat was won by McLean, Larsen, econd: Bakke, third. Time—1:28.— In the final heat McLean started out as a real class "A" skater and the winner was nover in donnit; Earsen, fulsabed a good second, and Msrzolph third. Time—1:28 4-5.

SHAMROCKS DEFEAT MOHAWKS.

SHAMROCKS DEFEAT MOHAWKS.

Wednesdsy night the elimination games were played at the Ice Paiace between the Shamrocka and the Mohawks, two new bockey teams that are fighting to get that the new Chlesgo League. The score was 6 to 1 in favor of the Shamrocka. The Mohawka put np a great game, but were wesk at the start. In the second half better form was displayed.

RUBE PARTY AT MADISON GARDENS.

The Madison Garden Roller Rink management gave another of its atunning parties on Wednesday night, November 16, in the form of a Rube Party. Each akater was presented with a country jay suit. The party was a great success, and the rink was packed to the capacity. Manager McCormack says his rink is payin better this season at this time than it did iast season, and this he has a list of parties that will entertain the akating fans the rest of the season. Some of the ideas of Mr. McCormack are not only original, but the best ever placed before the public.

DARE-DEVIL LEWECK,

Champion backward jumper of the world. His cord for high-jumping backward is 3 ft., 6 in. rer pole.

Harley Davidson writes: "I suppose you will think I have disappeared altogether and am listed among the dead. But such in not the case, for I am very much alive. I certainly had a dandy tip out West. I saw the big fight at Reno, Nev., and believe me it was the greatest gathering of sporta I ever witnessed. "Aa to the fight-it was very poor, and if it hadn't been for the tooting of the anto horns when the fight was over you would have thought that we were going to a funeral. I apent a week at Frisco, then San Jose, Hollister, Santa Cruz, Watsonville, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Cocau Park, Catalius Island and Long Beach. I skated in Long Beach. Los Angeles, to big husiness and twice in Palo Alto, where I defeated Fred Martin, the Pacific Coast champion, in a mile race, also gave him ten, yards in one mile and won.

"Before leaving California I noderwent an operation from a fall I received in my hack, jumping over eight chsirs, and I sm happy to say I feel all right again. Out of the four months I was sway, two-thirds of the time i slept on the the open sir, the first time I have had to rest in twelve years and I certainly did need it. I came from 'Frisco to St. Psul, to train Walter (Young) Miller, the world's welter weight champion wrestler, for his match with Otto Suter, of Gleveland, O., but had to leave the night of their match (Nov. 10) to skste st Omahs, Neh., from the 10th to 13th. Tho match was a draw after three hours and six minntes of wrestling.

"I opened here to a dandy business and Snnday night we had 650 skaters and over 500 spectators—not bad for the fifth season. Mr. Fielding, and Miss Carlos called to see me on their way to Litucoln, Neb., and they were surprised to see the rink crowds. In connection with my regular exhibition I aksted 's mite relay against four sksters, the best in this part of the country, they going a quarter of a mile each. I won easy in 2:49. Mr. Gillsn. mansger of the Anditorium Rink here, is thinking of putting on one big race meet in Februsry, tf he can get the fastest

RUNNER BEATEN BY SKATERS.

- SEVEN-YEAR-OLD WONDER.

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD WONDER.

In the one-half mile boys' race akaied at the Ice Palace Wednesday night, November 16, one of the greatest exhibitions of akating by a mere child was pulled off. There were nine boys ranging from ten to afteen years old lined up at the tape. Among them was the little seven-year-old son of the proprietor of a large landry establishment, who is one of the real skating fans. The youngster was only np to the shoulder of the rest of the boys snd when he went to toe the scratch it looked as if he was only a mascot, but when the race was atarted il was a different atory. The youngster fell twice during the race enough to put any skater out of the race, but he was up in an instant and going after the leaders. The last lap was inst started when he was about 30 yards to the bad, and hy a grand sprint overtook the lesders and won by a yard. This is the second race he has won and he has only been akating a few weeks.

PALMER AND BEAUMONT WIN.

In the thirty-minute handicap team race skated Friday night, Nov. 18 at the Sans Souci Rink in which twenty of the fastest akaters or rollers participated. Psimer sud Beaumont finished first, with Angelia and Reed accord, shd Gillickson and Caswell, third. After skating fifteen minutes and getting a lead of aimost a fap. Psimer fell, but was quickly relieved to the Beaumont, who soon picked up the lost ground. A record was made for the Sans Sonci Rink, skating nine miles in the half-hour.

SERIES GOES TO HALVORSEN.

SERIES GOES TO HALVORSEN.

Thursday night, November 17, the third and deciding race of the aeries of three handleap races for three aliver loving cups was skated and won by Harry Halvorsen, who acored tempoints. A. G. Anderson won the second place by eight points, third cup going to Otio Larsen, who scored four points. The time for this race was the fastest that has been skated in the West in a long time. The mile was skated in 2:39.

HOCKEY ASSOCIATION TO DISBAND.

HOCKEY ASSOCIATION TO DISBAND.

Disruption of the Chicago Hockey Association, recently formed seems certain following the demand of the hockey men that the Palace management pay them $200 a game. The success of the opening of the longue schedule in the game between the Murraya and the White Socks isst Friday before a crowd that filled the Ice Palace emboidened the Hockey Association to make its demand at this time. Illowever, Manager Thos. W. Prior, of the Ice Palace, gave a radical snawer to the demand, it is said. He ordered the pilsyers to take their belongings from the Palace and to consider themselves outsiders nutil they were ready to resume

DRANEM AT ODEON.

Ode lof the most famous comedians in this country is Dranem, of the Eldorado, Bail I've spoken of him before, more than once. He will soon be seen in Le Medeein Maigre Iul, at the Odeon, as this piece of Moliere's is scheduled for December. No more interesting event, has happened in the professional world in a month of Sundays, for everybody, is head over beein with curiosity to see bow he will come out. Dranem reminds one of Harry Watson, the hurlesque funny-fellow, rather more than any one else I can think of at piecent. If some manager signs up Mr. Watson to play, a John Draw comedy ple there'd be some eagerness to see how became out, wouldn't there? Well that's just the situation over here.

GUILBERTS .. ADVICE. .

GUILBERTS ...ADVICE.

Yvette Onibert, you know, is teaching the young idea how to warble. She lectures, now and then on the art. She says that singers ought not to get it into their heads, by watching proposionals, that to get off a funny song well is easy, requires no real art and little practice. To do a simple song of the kind we call logical and get the best there is in it out of it, one needs study almost as hard, if not quite a hard, as if going in for grand opera. The tack of knowledge on the subject, she says, is what inflicts the profession, not to mention the public, with so many amaleurian performers.

The bill at the Etolie Palace at present, has twenty-one numbers. Among them is that of Joe and Willy, two Australian youths, the younger of whom does a comedy acrobatic dancing atunt that is quile good. Kar-Yon, described an "An American Imitator," on the bill, is one of the leading features. He does all soria of imitations, youl and mechanical. Others are the Caro Maie Trio, in an acrobatic wire art; Maisie Dene, who styles herself as the "most reduced of eccentric dancers; Chas. J. Saliter, wire walker, and the Briatola, knockabout syclists.

LUNA PARK.

LUNA PARK.

The unmer season ended at Luna Park Sunday. In spite of a apperabundance of wetness there was a hig crowd on hand to see the hars put up for the winter over the doors of the various places of amusement. But—Luna Park leads a double life. Unlike most annumer parks, this one is a winter park too. The "Palace of Follice" has been gutted and a fhor laid for a roller skating rink. Manager Akonn had a rink there last winter and made usoner. He hopes to repeat. He will hold borling exhibitions also, Sam McVea, the negro puglist, so well known in America, and Jim Johnson, a new-comer, will mix it at Luna ibe latter part of the month.

WINS THEM ALL

WINS THEM ALL.

Josse Carey, the American skater, has finished his first four weeks with the Amsterdam Rink here and they like him so well he has aighed up for another four weeks lu addition. He has so far been in six races, each time with a local crark, and in all of them he has shown his opponents what his back looks like. He has not lost a single race. Before he lesves he with probably race Rodney Peters, now in Marsellies, who recently won the one mile championable of France. After finishing at Paria, Carey will go to Marsellies, Berlin, Antwerp and perhaps one two other European cities. Afterwards he may sign up with one of the best known skate houses over here for a run over the entire country.

GENERALITIES.

Jim Connors, the electrician of the Thompson Scenic Railway at Luna l'ark, was, this week, tendered a dinner by his associates, when he was presented with a gold watch just to show him they thought him a great fellow and an all right chap.

The Eight Saxonea are the other turn which has achieved a great popularity. Their dances seem a bit extraordinary to na, and the transparent scenery used, showing the dressing room, is also a bit of a novelty in this class of work. I think that the act could be greatly improved as it stands at present, and when it is, it ought to go exceedingly well in London. But to my mind, the dancing might be a little better, the singing improved—or cut out,—the changes made more rapidly. When these improvements are made then the popularity already obtained will be greatly enhanced in the future.

proving Johnson's connection with aireel naving graft of twenty years before. He then goes to the office of The Daily Cail and surreptitiously places the papers npon Frank McCracken's desk. The young managing editor reads the lucriminating evidence and is filled with consternation. Loyalty to his newspaper commands him to publish the story, which, npon the eve of the election, will mean the biasting of Johnson's political career and the rulnation of his good name. Margaret pleads with: Frank to suppress the atory but he is compelled to refuse. Margaret in desperation selses a maliet and shatters the type in the locked form. It is press time, the atory is "filled"—her father's name has been saved. At this moment a message is brought to Frank which advises him that the opposing candidate to Johnson has withdrawn because of graft charges and that in consequence, Johnson is assured of election. Frank turns to Margaret, shows her the message and congratulates her upon the success of her coup. She forgives him for what he attempted to do, extends her arms to him and the harmony between them is fully restored.

Psychic Wonder

The act that is making big money for all managers

with its amiliations, can now offer acts of merit, an approximately two years' time on practically one construct; the largest and most perfectly systematized popular priced vaudeville chreuit in the world; a strong statement, but it's absolutely true. If your house is playing vaudeville there are many reasons why you should be using our service; we'll show you three reasons if you will communicate with us. Don't delay; do it now. These kind of acts are the "sure-deto" kind:

THE ACTORS' FUND

The dues of annual members of the Actors' Fund, of America, are payable on November 2a, It will be of assistance to the Fund if return postage should always be enclosed. The fund is a charitable organization, and what it can save contributes to relieve the indigent. Price to its establishment, assistance for the impoverished professional was principally casual, indiscriminating, disproportionate and meagre, humiliating and disheartening. This state of affairs had long been admitted and deplored, the necessity for a change conceded, and remedies frequently attempted without success. In June, 1832, the present Actors' Fund of America was founded, and through it the principal dispensation of benevolence to the public amusement world is agreematised and as bountiful as its treasury will allow. It is for the eligible applement to its beneficences to enlarge that treasury and make its existence permanent, and thereby assure future as well as present necessary reliefa, thereby assisting to eliminate further appeals for outside aid which hitherto has been a sacrifice of independence and a stuitification of professional pride. Strensously labor to procure new life and annual members to the Fund, and also subscribers to ward the maintenance of The Actors' Fund Home. Do not procrastinate; do not backnide.

Out out this annual membership application blank, have it properly filled out, and signed by two Fund members in good standing, or one or two well known managers as references; then mail it with two dollars and return postage to the Fund's address.

THE ACTORS' FUND OF AMERICA

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP EXTRACT FROM BY-LAWS:

"SECTION 18. The Executive Committee may admit as a member any person pursuing the profession of acting, singing, dancing on the stage, the management of theatres and other places of amusement, and other persons interested and concerned in or who earn a living from or in connection with any reputable place of amusement, on payment of the dues for one year."

NAME ... PERMANENT ADDRESS

I sign this application with the full understanding that the Actors' Fund is a CHARITY, not a benefit society, and that the payment of two dollars yearly for membership gives the right to use the Fund Rooms, to vote and to take part in the annual meetings, alc., but does NOT CONFEE ANY PECUNIARY RIGHT, nor constitute a claim of any kind.

All does data from and expire on Thankagiving day of each year. Make all remittances payable to The Actors' Fund, Rooms 616, 15, 16, 17, Galety Theatre Building, Broadway and 66th Street, New York City.

This la the act which has drawn more money, created more talk and inspired more wonderment than all other Mind-reading exhibitions comhined. The work has been made famous by all the great leaders in the field of Psychic Demonstration. Having been favored with the patronage of every performer who has achieved any measure of anceess along this line, we can satisfactorily equip any one who desires to feature this character of entertainment.

In general outline the act is an follows: Members of the audience desiring any information whatever—family matters, tost or stolen property, business advice or connsel, etc., etc., put their queries into writing, which never leaves their possession and is seen by no other person. The writers are identified and placed by the performer from the stage who, though hlindfolded, satch or atauding, with absolutely paralyzing correctness, reads the questions and furnishes replies either on the spot, by mail or at a subsequent interview—as is indicated by the nature of the matter under consideration.

The act is not purchasable claswhere. We have it for sale in its entirety. While we send complete, ample and explicit directions for the entire rontine, we wish to state that the fundamental hasis is mechanical and that all the instructions in the world would be absolutely useless without the ingeniously constructed mechanism and appliances we apply. No study, no memory, no codes, signala, confederacy. "borses," etc., necessary. A perfectly creditable performance is host the parformar, at no time, works under a sheet or other drapery—he or she is in full viewed in the audience during the entire seance.

It can also be utilized in a demonstration of ordinary second sight, using articles borrowed in the audience and without a word being spoken or a question being saked. It can be used in absolutely perfect displication of "Narmose," made world-famous by Kellar, introducing the Blackboard Text, the Bank Note Text, Cards on the Table, The "Knight's Tour," etc.

Our offer is to furnish everyth

J. L. Mensing is auditor of the new Mensing Amusement Co. with Carl Mensing as manager. They control soven bouses in this vicinity. Louis Gordou in back in the box-office at the Orpheum in place of Dave Seamon, who has accepted a position with the Shuberia in St. Louis.

Manufacturing is expected to begin at the Parker factory as soon as the machinery arrives from Abliene. Notbing will be teft at the diplant. A novel feature of the offices to the oew building is that Mr. Parker can at at his desk and see entire operations on both the first and second floors.

The Great Parker Shows have been very anccessful in Texas. They will soon arrive here for the winter.

Two new departments will be added to the Parker factory that will be of much interest to show people. One is for the building of aeroplanes and the other for the manufacture of motor trucks.

The new Greenwood Theatre, at Carlersville, Ga., was opened Nov. 14. J. H. Daniels is ite manager.

Booloo Beau, Ida, Sweet as Apple Cider, and bis latest addition, Molasses Candy, aavors also of the nnique and only lends to atrengthen his popularily with the New Yorkers. He belongs oa the All-atar hill beyond a douht; furthermore, in the appermost position. Other acts worthy of aleilar classification were Roland West, in his protean production, The Under World: Marshall P. Wilder, the humorist, whose jokes are gratifyingly pungent and cleverly put over; Robledillo, the loose-wire artist, and Lasky's Planophiend Minstrels, in which Ben Lion, bicCarly and Gladys Lockwood atand out for apecial mention. The ocularistent of Miss Lockwood means wonders to the act. They clinched their right to the All-atar act. They clinched their right to the All-atar bill.

Chaik Sannders, the comedy cartoonist, opened the hill. His crayon sketchings furnish a very good program beginner.

Catherine Hayes and Sabel Johnson, self-termed, Two Members of the Béef Trust, have an amusing oddity in The Dream of Old Days. Their singing is very good, the range of Miss Johnson's voice deserving apecisi note. Dinawas never more captivatingly rendered and their Yama Man finish furnishes an excellent exit for lbem.

Yama Man finish furnishes an excellent exit for ibem.

Matthewson and Meyers, with May Tully, no Curves, furnish a very entertaining twenty odd minnte entertainment. No matter how the hasehall favorites acted they would be praised but their atage work is indeed creditable and they are extremely well assisted by May Tully, who is one of the cleverest initators on Broadway.

Erna and Jenny Gasch finished the bill with their acrobatic offering. Act la very good.

AT THE AMERICAN.

Mina Minar in Molasso's pantonine produc-tion, Paris by Night, did some twirling and dancing that justifies her rise from vaudeville to the legitimale which will take place during December.

tion, Paris by Night, did some twiring alto dancing that insilides her rise from vaudeville to the legitimale which will take place during December.

In the Boston Fadetics Orchestra, Miss Caroline B. Nichola directs a big act of unique variety. Their big namber is the descriptive rendition of The Musicians' Strike, wherein one by one the girls leave the orchestra on atrike until the leader has but one musician, the drummer, who, incidentally is exceedingly clever. However, after a number on the drummer, who, incidentally is exceedingly clever. However, after a number on the drummer that makes the act distinctly entertaining.

Adams and Mack present a comedy magic number and opened the big bill. Act very good.

Max Cooper, second on the bill, merely sang That's the Fellow I Want to Get to the accompaniment of descriptive alides. This act was only ordinary.

Brothers Carpatu, Boumanian bar gymnasts, are featuring a double somersault-from the first bar to the third clearing the middle bar without touching it. Their act is excellent as far as the straight work is concerned. It would, however, pay two such proficient gymnasts to dispense with their little comedy.

Johnson and Wells, colored singers and dancers are using Cotton Town and Do Yon Love Me Baby. Act good.

Garela, the Spanish shadowgraphist, was held over from last week. The selection of Garcia on last week's All-Star hill speaks enough to render another notice of his act unnecessary.

Chas. Bartholomew entertained with a good imilation of George Lashwood and his song to the key.

Willa Holt Wakefield, in the pianologue and her jeweled ataff, was very good. She talked My Old Kentucky Home.

Maxini and Bobby and their clever canine mimle were especially appreciated. For a testimonial of their cleverness refer to the opening act on the New York All-Star program in this issue.

Bertows and Archengelli, operatic duo, have a fine act. Both voices very mellow—her range Beriossi and Archengelli, operatic duo, have a fine act. Both voices very mellow—her range wonderful.

Harry Joison joked along at a merry clip.

The happy hlack boy is closing with an operatic burlesque that brings the langus.

The Bohemian Quintette were very deserving. If they do not make this week's All-Slar bill it will be because some one else had just a little shade the better on them.

Haslon and Cliffon closed with some elever acrobatic turns. The big fellow and bis fat, atuhby partner make a lively team.

George Primrose, the old-time minstrel man, was also there. Although a good many anns have risen and set alnce the graceful exponent of black-face comedy has broken into the game, be atill retains those characteristics that won his title for him. His two nimble-footed assistants are Mnrphy and Franklin.

way favorites by this time. Their act has received previous nolice, and is a recognized bit. The Chas, Ahern Troupe of cycling comedians have also received past notices, and their cycling act of "57 varieties," is by this time well-known. They could not be denied All-Star position. The number and kind of cyclea they have are the most corious collection in vandeville. A very pretty offering is that of the Dagwell Sisters, Natalie and Aurle, wherefore they have been included in this week's stellar list. The conception of their act is very pretty, and an air of daintiness pervades the whole number. Nonette, the gypsy violinist, pleased immensely. She brings the house down with her Cavalleria Rusticans finish.

Palay Doyle, the droll, stoop-shouldered Irishman, has his own way of pulting them over. His act ta good.

Barry and Wolford were also on the program with their Song Booth act. Look in last week's issue for your criticisms.

The bill was opened by Wentworth. Vesla and dog. Teddy, who have a good act for this position.

Closing station was given The Fonr Onetti

The bill was opened by Wentworth, Vesia and dog, Teddy, who have a good act for this position.

Closing station was given The Four Onetti Sisters, who awang and twirled to the fashion for an act in tast position. Their act is very good, PARAGRAPHIC PENCILINGS.

By CHARLES A. WHITE.

Chicago, ili., Nov. 25 (Special to The Bill-board).—George Ade recently informed me that a damp cloth was applied to his intended career as circus press agent when he adhered to facts instead of exaggeration.

Townsend Waish, who has been connected with Mr. Otis Skinner for the past five seasons as path blazer, will rest ble pen until Mr. Skinner isuurhes his new play. Mr. Walsh has departed for New York City.

The death knell having been sounded for Our miss Glibs, Ramsey Morris has been transferred to look after the publicity end of Mr. John Drew's offering.

of look after the punicity and of art. John Drew's offering.

At the expiration of Mr. Otis Skinner's Chicago engagement he will shelve Your Humble Servant, that he may devote his attention to the rehearing of a new play, which is underlined for an early presentation.

The Deep Purple has made a deep impression in Chicago. The before and after breakfast anintation being: "Good morning! Have you seen The Deep Purple?" It's The Deep Purple morning, noon and night. From the lips of high-brow, low-brow, wise and ignorant comes naught hut words of praise for this wonderful play.

ln Mr. Frederick Donaghey, Liebiar & Co-have e scribe who appreciates the vaine of getting under the skin. His human interest stories have inspired considerable commenda-tion.

The Calnmet Stock Company, South Chicago, will give a benefit performance to aid the siriking garment makers.

Upon peruaing a letter from George W. Goodhart, the following words chilled my blood: "I have just finished gathering e lot of worms, and I am now fixed." A few minutes later my blood warmed upon recalling the fact of George being warmed apon recalling the fact of George being an angler.

Jerry Dethl, manager Ringling Brothers' car number 3, is in Lancaster, Pa., engaged in the mannfacture of cigars. Tom Goodhart, boss hillposter car number 1, is also spending the winter rolling the weed.

In that part of the Colonial Theatre called the "Foyer da Luxe," I heard a well-groomed gentleman remark to his companion: "Some person must have hypnotised Frohman."

After the final curtain had descended I was of the same opinion. How in the name of commos sense the far-seeing, well-seasoned Caar of theatricals ever became tangled, in the dust-meshed weh of Our Miss Gibbs furnishes grounds for serious thought.

London, so Ramsey Morris gava us. to understand, worked itself into fever-heat over Paniline Chase. Mr. Morris also circulated, that the same foggy London ent didoes of ectasy over Our Miss Gibbs. Ramsey is a truthful man, therefore, his statement may bear weight in the exoneration of Mr. Frohman.

Be that as it may, this happens to be America—better atill, il is Chicago. And suffice il is in say: Chicago hea not betrayed a single degree of amotion over Our Miss Gibbs or the once-heraided pink pajama girl—Pauline Chase.

And in reckoning the eause of dapression in the box-office one must not heap the hiame wholly on star and play, but consider the half-hundred watery-eyed choristers who are adept at naharmonisiog, atiff in joint and of low ebb in looks. Then there is the atage direction with its earmarks of crudeness, and a conglomeration of so-called music that undonhtedly tortures even those who hava to earn their daily attpeed in the orchestra pit.

Without question, Bert Leelle is tha thread that has prevented Onr Miss Gibbs from being scattered to the four winds of failure. As dilters, e glib-tongued American crook, Leelie ranks superb.

Down in the American Music Hall, where vandevilia is offered in exchange for coin of the realm, Jacques von Monrik de Beanfort, a count of many unsettled accounts, is gurgling, twice daily, about the girl whom he deems the apple of his monochied eye.

As a freak of interest this royal-blooded person proves to be a S. B. O. rard, but as an entertsining feature ha is as lacking as a "Tom" production minus the ice.

ACTOR HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Minneapolls, Minn. Nov. 26 (Special to Tha Biliboard).—While Watchman Ryan, of the Hotel Nicollet, was making his rounds last night, he observed amoka lasting through the aides of a closed transom, of the rooms occupied by Rogers Barker, the alock actor, who mill recently was appearing as leading man with the Lyrir Theatre Stock Company. Upon breaking into the room he found Mr. Barker semi-conscious, and the tranishings of the room in a blass. He axtinguished the fire with a chemical, and called for a physician, who worked over the color for a half hour before reviving him. The artor lost all his atreet clothing and the room was hadly singed.

ENGAGE CORBETT MORRIS.

Minnespolis, Minn., Nov. 28 (Special to The Billboard).—Manager Chas. P. Sallsbary, of the Lyric Theatre; operating the Lyric Theatre Slock Company engaged for bis company Corbett Morria, who will essay the invenile roles. Mr. Morria has just concluded an engagement with the Athambra Theatre Stock Company of Scattle, Wash.

PRINGLE TAKES LEASE.

Everett, Waah., Nov. 26 (Special to The Bill-board).—The Everett Theatre, which has been closed during the earlier part of the assem on account of difficulties between the management and the stage hands, was reopened that week under a lease held by Johnnie Fringle. The I'ringle Stock Company is now playing at the house.

se a real legitimate way—that of employing the best counsel obtainable regardless of cost. While the Arkansas matter ta not settled awing been carried over three times at the request of the railroad companies, Mr. Cohn informs us that be thinks the statutes will be adopted as written and prepared by himself, and shows are valuable witnesses before the commission provided they do not talk too much, as the gentlemen composing the commission consider themselves the highest tribunal pertaining to railroad matters in their State, and they are accustomed to having the best legal talent submit these matters to them.

Consequently, an important case such as this sme is materially strengthened by being presented by able counsel, as the railroads have attornays galore, and when a person other than a lawyer attempts to argue a matter before them, they feel as though their dignity is being sacrificed and prefer to listen only to the public as witnesses.

I have not entered into the Louisians mat-acrificed and prefer to listen only to the public as witnesses.

I have not entered into the Louisiana matter with Mr. Busby as wa felt that wa could proceed with more atable reference if we waited until the Arkansas matter; became a statute, and then, it ought to be plain saling by having the great States of Texas and Arkansas as references.

As I have before atated, it is not a matter so much of raica, but the freight department and the passenger department beads are at loggerhead a regarding the amail tent showman's business, on account of his carrying stakes, tents, poles, live stock, et cetera, in his 'private cars.

The freight departments have claimed the husiness, as they are superior in authority in railroad circles; the passenger departments have been compelled to leave this line of husiness to the Freight departments where the general freight sgents have demanded it.

Now the small abowman, if he expects to get trainsportation on passenger trains, has to proceed carefulty and try to avoid mistakes, as one turn down, especially in the State of Arkansas at this time, would mean a great deall.

proceed carefully and try to avoid mistakes, as one turn down, especially in the State of Arkansas at this time, would mean a great deal.

We instructed our attorney to concede to the allroads that no riding devices would be carried and ail live stock exceeding four head of forses, not considering monkeys, birds, et cetters, abould be charged at the rate of two cents per mile, the same as passenger rates.

We have not considered that the railroads in general have been a menace to assail showmer. On the other hand, we felt, had it not been for railroads, many of us would not be the existence in the present business, at least. However, it is to our interest to give railroads to noderstand in a smistantial way that we are willing to let well enough alone, but when they enforce arbitrary rules, we have business sense enough to employ legal talent that will represent ns is such a manner that we will be recognized as a legitimate business in the land and artitled to fair, square and fapartiat husiness consideration.

Mr. Allra states that had we been better represented before the Little Book Commission, we could have procoured better rates, as the present attante, is framed and submitted to the Arkansas body, if adopted, its the fairest and offers the small abowman the cheapest kind of transportation.

The same proposition should apply regarding license it is useless to discuss the subject of free license as we have always felt it was a pleasure to play a reasonable charge, and then we could see that we were climens of the community and demand projection as much. Where the laws of the "State permit the muleipalities to enact their own license laws, it tends to work hardship upon any itent abowns.

What onght to be encouraged is a statu-tory ticeuse that applies to State county and innucipal corporations.

Referring to ourselves individually, and this also applies to many small showmen, we claim that we are a bone-fife theatrical organization and that we are entitled to the same privilege as a theatre or opers house.

Webster's definition of the word "theatre" to quite hroad and might apply to a place of amusement constructed of mnd, tron, wood or cloth.

If the Arkanase matter is settled or becomes a law, we see willing to extend this scrap into Lonislana or say other State where our treatment at the hands of the railroad companies provokes it.

provokes it.

A great many articles have been written apon this subject. One well-known press agent prepared unite a lengtby reply to Mr. Alten. and the subject was one buge the stury read as though it was one buge making the numy value of the pro-joke. This jesting is well enough among the pro-fession but it abouid be understood that these articles find their way into the general pass-enger agent's desk. There is not a well-informed general passenger agent in America that does not purchase a copy of The Billboard each week, and what can possibly be his impression of these matters if the profession is to be represented by a jesier?

A great deal has been said about showmen organizing. This will never be dune, but you will dud the names of snecessint showmen coupled with these contributions, and the others do not count.

What all small showmen should do is to avoid the general offices about trifling matters when it could be handled with the local agent. In fact, we have numbers of lines that we have gone over each season, and we do not find it necessary: to write the general office except to tell the division superintendent by letter our litnerary and to send a carbon copy to each agent in towns where we expect to exhibit.

Yours truly.

UP AND DOWN BROADWAY.

William A. Brady announces that, after the engagement of Douglas Fairbanks in The Cab, at the Circla next week, Mr. Fairbanks will be presented at the Majestic Theatre, Brooklya, and then will make a brief tour, pending a return engagement in New York.

Miss Grace Whistier, a niece of the artist and a member of the Bessle Abbott Opera Company, will aing the part of Sunnki in Mademe Butterdy during the bouthern tour of that company, during which this Puccini opers, as well as his La Boheme, will be sung. Miss Whistier was Mascagnia personal selection for one of the important roles in Isobel, for the presentation of which the Bessle Abbott Opera Company was organised.

Edward Maekay has been cast to play the role of Lucins Verus, the Boman general, in Liebler & Co.'a production of Mary Magdalene, Maurice Maeterlinck's latest play, which will receive it first performance on any slage at the New Theatre on Monday evening. December 5.

Miss Constance Coilier, the English actrea, who was last seen in this couniry in Israel, will have a prominent part in Miss Ethel Barrymore's production of Pinero's Trelawney of the Wella, which begins an engagement at the Empire Theatre on Jannary 2. She will also give a number of special mutinees at the Criterion Theatre, appearing first as 'Nancy Syke' in Oliver Twist.

After an absence of ten years from musical comedy, Miss Maria Davis will have an important part in Marriage a la Carte, by C. M. MicLellsan and Ivan Caryil. The plece is now in rehearsal under tha direction of Liebler at the Comedy, which was instroduced at the comedy.

hardly likely. The open rupture between this burlesque firm and the Eastern Wheel leads to the more reasonable deduction that their entry to New York is intended as a menace to tha very men who appear as chief movers in the present popular-priced demonstration.

When the question "What does it all mean"—Is the Western Wheel striving to break into the East?" He replied, "too early to say, into it is quita possible. I'm in on the Gordon & North theatre, you know."

This fact is interesting for the reason that Hill is one of the yeary heaviest investors is the properties of the Eastern Wheel, and if his partners, Gordon & North, break into New York with Western Wheel attractions, Hill will be playing against himself in that field.

The complete association of the birgest hurlesque interests with the new popular-price circuit is but one of the nusual features of a situation which as yet is but partly disclosed.

The Little Russian Prince, under the management of Frank R. Bilits, still proves to be the best single box office attraction in Carnivalidom.

John J. Stock did and does get more money out of a Kalsenjammer Kastle than any of, his imitsions or followers. Who said original?

Charles D. Willard, why don't you put one of your Temple of Music Shows under canvass and get some of the money that is coming to you?

Elbert Hubhard agys, "People like to move, aven if they only go round in a circle." This may have something to do with the percaniat popularity of the merry-go-round.

Is it possible that William (Billy) Persch and
A. J. (Determination)Murphy are back at it gesin? If you are, success to yon, as it takes you two fellows to get the money.

It does not seem to make much apparent difference to some companies bow good they are, so long as they can move to the next town when Sunday comes.

J. S. Edwards, proprietor of Edwards' Zoo, has one of the best shows of its kind that was evar on the road. His continued success proves that there must really be something in the man.

Advertising scents do something more than to simply furnish the information that your "show is coming." Make an effort to creale intered in its arrival. There is considerable art embodied in the two words, "advertising

agent," advertising it the two words, "advertising it met Dan R. Lewis (the talker), with the "Two Rillia" Show," this summer. Dan has a personality sud a fetching liue of conversation that about elevate him to a position higher than the him seats.

If a show gets the money, it is because it is a good ahow and well managed. If it does not it is the fruit of the agent. Ask any manager, About twenty claim to have originated this—it do not.

Once there was a carnival company that bad s wreck going to a town. It rained att week, they had a hlow-down the merry-go-rond caught fire, and other things happened. Still the manager reported good business. How is that for optimism?

Not enough attention is paid to the minute defails that would enhance and make possible the best results, both artistically and financially. I can cile lunumerable instances in the exploitation and presentation of otherwise creditable and worthy shows and organizations wherein this is lacking.

"Doe" Waddell says, "George W. Rollins would be a high hit as a Chantaugan thecturer and Lyceum Rurean feature." For the good of thehnainess he is now in, let us hope be remained where he is. The business needs more men in it with Ruilins' capacities.

C. A. Donihit, the hoy who handles the brush for the Lafsycite (ind.) Riliposiing Co., is some biliposier. You can depend upon avery abeet isaid out going up neatly. He keeps up a nice tine of boards, and is a good failow for agents to meet.

B. M. (Rennie) Taylor, formerly one of the most promisent cranivat concessionaries: is now managing the New Richmond Theatre, North Adama, Mass., the real first-class house of the city. (playlog Schubert attractions). Rennie to making spod; his experiences on the road are serving him well in this capacity.

Some one will eventually put out that "big top" scheme and make it a go. It must be more than merely a carnival company nuder causass. Combine Curia M. Smith's conception of it with Lew Buckley, spectacular ideas and ability to execute things of magnitude, and you have got it exactly.

H. M. (Barrey) Gardiner, now editor of the Loganspack (ind.). Dally Reporter, was at one time one of the again. Noth the Great Mindy Shows. I think., Somehow he got the political bee in his homet. It bussed so hard the terminary is an ambitious, brainy failow. Take it from me, you will bear from him. Would like to see him hack in the game. There are many in the business selling confettl, who possary are not informed as to its origin. The following slipped from a small town weekly, may be interesting: "The history of confettl is rather curious. Several years ago a large printing works in Paris was turning out immense quantities of calendars, through which a small round hole had been punched to receive an eyelet for holding the sheets together. A beap of the little circular scrape of paper cut out by the punch accumulated on a table, and one of the machine men amused himself by scattering a bandful of them over a working girl'a hair. She immediately anatched up a handful and threw them in his face. Other girls followed her example, and the first confettl battle began. The head of the establishment came in, when it was at its height, and being what the Americana call a 'smart' man, he at once realized that there was money in it. He ordered special machinery, placed large quantities of the new article ou the market, made a fortune, and created a new industry."

ANOTHER TERRITORY CONQUERED.

Europe Surrenders To POWER'S Cameragraph No.6

The return of our Vice-President from Europe marks the introduction of POWER'S CAMERAGRAPH No. 6 into the European market on an unprecedented scale.

After careful consideration of the ap-plications of a large number of houses for the "POWER'S" agency, the following agents were appointed:

Agents for Continontal Europe

These houses are leaders in their respective territories and their desire for the "POWER'S" agency is another strong testimony to the merits of Power's Cameragraph No. 6, in which they have shown their confidence by placing initial orders for one hundred and fifty No. 6 Cameragraphs.

These are the largest European orders ever placed for American moving picture machines and they mark the recognition abroad (as well as at home) of the superiority over all other machines of "POWER'S No. 6."

Extra "IMP" Announcement!

ANOTHER SENSATIONAL "SCOOP" FO INDEPENDENT M. P. EXHIBITORS!!!

The "Imp" Company at Enormous Expense Secures an Exclusive Contract with the Count de Beaufort

To Pose in a Special "Imp" Release

Outbidding and outgeneraling another film manufacturer (not an Independent one), the "Imp" Company has secured an exclusive contract with Count de Beaufort, the now famous French nobleman whose private affairs have been crowding the columns of newspapers all over the civilized world during the past three weeks.

The Count, by the time this advertisement appears, will have posed before "Imp" cameras with other perfomers in a drama entitled "The Romance of Count de Beaufort.". The film is to be released the minute we can complete the developing, printing and shipping. It will be one of the greatest FEATURE FILMS ever produced in America. For the first time in the history of moving pictures a GENUINE, BONA-FIDE NOBLEMAN will appear in the leading role of a moving picture playlet.

Imagine what it means to every INDEPENDENT EXHIBITOR who gets this FEATURE FILM! Imagine what a sensation it will cause in every city, village and hamlet where there is a moving picture theatre! Imagine what a local sensation every Independent Exhibitor can create by advertising such a film in his local newspapers!

Nowthen, a word to every Independent Exhibitor - a word we want youto give your most serious thought -

'The "Imp" Company can not possibly make a cent of profit on this release. The price paid to Count de Beaufort makes profit out of the question. We are spending this money for two reasons: First-To give Independent Exhibitors something to crow about. Second-To advertise, the enterprise of the "Imp" Company. If you Independent Exhibitors you something special!

want to derive the benefit of such a FEATURE FILM it is up to you to do one thing, namely—

TELEGRAPH your exchange to book you for the "Romance of Count de Beaufort" at the earliest possible moment. Don't wait to write, TELEGRAPH, and do it now! The film will cost you more than an ordinary one, because it will cost your exchange more. Don't quibble with your exchange about the extra charge. Pay it like a true sport. You are not taking any chances. You are going to get a feature film that you'll be glad to get on a return date more than once'l

BRUSH ELECTRIC LIGHTING SET

For Gas, Gasoline or Kerosene. Horse Power, 10. Dynamo, normal capacity, 4 k. w.; Maximum 5½ k. w. Weight of complete outfit, as shown in cut, 1,350 lbs. Space occupied, 24 x 57 inches.

PRICE COMPLETE WITH TANKS, SWITCHBOARD, ETC., $800; MOUNTED ON TRUCK FOR PORTABLE WORK, $830 (LESS DISCOUNT.)

Designed by Alanson P. Brush, inventor and designer of Cadillac, Brush Runabout, Oakland, and other leading Automobiles. The only engine giving perfect regulation.

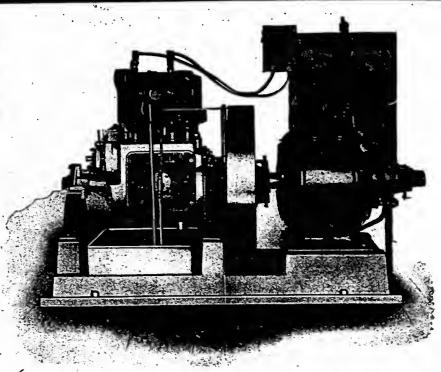

Bearings large and ample, workmanship firstclass, whole outfit weighs less than the fly wheels of most other engines, owing to Brush Patented Balancing System, which enables us to get best results without excessive weight.

SPECIAL 60-VOLT OUTFIT for moving picture work. Only about 50 volts are needed at the arc, and with 120 volt current half is wasted. In 60-volt outfit, after using 25 to 35 amperes, there is enough current for 100 or more 16 c. p. tungsten lamps, or the equivalent in other sizes. Flaming arcs, the greatest advertising light in the world, may be used.

Don't pay for 8 to 10 k. w. from 80 cents to $1.50 an hour, when with the proper outfit 3 or 4 k. w. at 3 CENTS A KILOWATT is ample.

Sold and guaranteed by a concern engaged in the manufacture and sale of Engines, Machinery and Tools for over forty years.

ELECTRICITY FOR MOVING PICTURE SHOWS

Owners and managers of moving plcture theatres have their share of tribulation, and the obtaining of suitable electric current at reasonable prices is not, the least of their troubles.

Alternating current is not well suited for moving picture work, and under many conditions is almost intolerable, especially in the lower cycles, with its ceaseless flicker, as well as in the large number of instances in which the regulation is poor.

Direct current with good regulation, at the proper voltage, and at a reasonable price, is ideal, but almost never obtainable.

In most of the smaller cities, and many of the large ones as well, the station equipment is inferior or poorly looked after, resulting in a variation of from 5 to 15 per cent in the voltage. This is particularly true of those stations which furnish electrical energy for street car and power service.

So much for regulation. As to proper voltage, a moving picture lamp requires only 40 to 50 volts at the arc. Allowing for resistance, an input of 60 volts is ample, but the current supplied by lighting companies is never under 110, and from that up to 220 volts, so that from one-half to three-quarters of the current paid for is wasted in the rheostat.

As to price, this is a serious question. One of the principal items of expense of a picture theatre is the electric current. The attifude of lighting companies in most towns, both small and large, towards the moving picture theatre is most aggravating. They figure, with much shrewdness, that the theatre must have electric hight, and usually push prices up to the last notch.

It is not unusual to find a theatre using 1,000 to 1,500 K. W. monthly, charged at the rate of 12 to 15 cents a K. W., while an auto garage, saloon, or butcher shop a few doors away is paying from 3 to 5 cents per K. W. on a consumption of one-tenth as much.

In very many of the smaller towns, a serious loss to the show owner lies in the inability to get current in the day time, which cuts into his possible revenue to the extent of 20 to 40 per cent.

Revolting against these conditions, many owners have within the past year or so put in their own electric light plant, thus cutting the cost of current materiality; but, as most of these plants consist of the ordinary type of gas engine, the regulation is not improved, because the standard type of gas or gasoline engine is not suitable for this work, and will not regulate closely. Besides, these are usually put out with dynamos of 110 to 125 volts, so that half of the current is wasted in arc lamp.

Again, these equipments, consisting of a gasoline engine belted to a dynamo, require a great deal of floor space, which is not always convenient or obtainable.

Further, if the show be a traveling one, the standard engine of even medium capacity, weighs, with dynamo and equipment, from 2.500 to 6,000 pounds; involving much extra labor in handling on cars, or expensive wagon and team equipment.

In the Brush Electric Lighting Set, aif the difficulties referred to in the foregoing are overcome. The 100-page catalog issued by The Chas. A. Strelinger Co., Bates street, Detroit, Mich., is undoubtedly the most complete work on small, isolated electric lighting plants ever printed, and gives a mass of information of great value to users of electric light and power. This catalog is sent free to any address, and will be found invaluable, even to those who do not remotely expect to make their own electricity.

Christmas Greetings

The Billboard wishes to extend to its readers in all climes, cordial Christmas greetings. This is the season of peace and good-will throughout the civilized world. At the same time we take occasion to express our sincere appreciation of the friendliness evinced on all sides through the co-operation and patronage of those who are identified with us as readers, as patrons, as correspondents and as representatives. There is another class, the boosters, to whom our thanks are due; for their eagerness to proclaim the merits of Old Billy Boy, we are always grateful. We are not unmindful that the splendid support extended The Billboard throughout the year imposes an obligation which we cheerfully assume—an obligation to continue to hold fast to the disinterested, unprejudiced and impartial attitude towards all branches of the profession which has characterized our policy in the past. Unhampered and unfettered by alliances of any character, The Billboard will exert its every effort towards conserving the interests of the profession of amusement.

The year just passed has been one of delightful associations. The growth of The Billboard indicates beyond the possibility of successful controversion that it has been a year prolific of newly formed friendships and a closer cementing of the old ones. To those who believe in us, and to The Billboard's multitude of friends throughout the world, we repeat:

A Merry Xmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

THE SHAKE-UP IN THE BOOK!

who knows his own booking wise manager agent these days. The shake-up in the booking field that occurred the latter part of last season and which has extended into this season in an even more aggravated form, has managers of the atres and attractions in different sections of the country guessing as to what attractions they are going to get. At times, they do not even know whether they are going to get any. The traveling manager for his part does not know from one town to another in several sections of the country whether he is going to play one house or another until he gets into the city where the engagement is to be filled. Wrangling often occurs. Sometimes the traveling manager will find that if he plays according to contract, he will seesaw back and forth between Klaw and Erlanger's and The Shuberts' theatres indefinitely. This is the result of a subsequent change in the circuits that occurred after he had made his contract with one or the other. A little chain of theatres here, that yesterday belonged to the big Klaw and Erlanger Circuit, is today being booked by The Shuberts, and over there another chain of theatres that were being booked by The Shuberts is being booked by the Klaw and Erlanger offices today. Sometimes the manager of a traveling attraction will insist on playing the theatres according to his original contract, then a wrangle takes place, and bad feeling ensue. This was the case with Al. G. Field, the minstrel man, in the South this season. He insisted on playing houses according to his original contract, and he did play them. The result was that in each stand where the booking was in contro-versy, he was forced to put up a guarantee fund, and this fund in the aggregate now must amount to many thousands of dollars. On the other hand the manager of a thea-tre which was formerly a link in a chain booked in connection with one of the blg circuits finds that his booking office has transferred its affiliation, and left him on a high sea of uncertainty.

These chaotic conditions prevail for the most part in the South, and the Northwest, and may be ascribed the insurgent movement that Was started last spring when Jul-ius Cahn and Mose Reis severed their connection with what is known as the theatrical syndicate (consisting of Klaw and Erlanger, Frohman and Hayman, and Nixon and Nirdlinger) and affiliated them-selves with the Shuberts. They were followed later by the booking agents of chains of theatres ln many parts of the country, the most significant being that of John Cort, whose chain of theatres exthe tended through several states of the extreme Northwest.

It was first expected that the Theatrical Producing Managers' Association would repudiate the insurgent house managers and booking agents. The Theatrical Producing Managers' Association did repudiate the organization who styled itself the Theatre Owners' Association, but Wm. A. Brady was followed by several others of the Theatrical Produc-ing Managers' Association in declaring his independence from The Theatrical Producing Managers' Association, and aliying himself with the Theatre Owners' Association.

The latest development is the consummation of a sort of protocol between the antagonistic factions, which it is believed will result in a final arrangement by which the attractions of both big booking agencies will be reciprocally booked into the houses one of the other. If this condition is brought about, it will be the nearest approach to the ideal that we have made in this country. It is difficult to anticipate just what the effect of an amicable arrangement of this kind would be. One contingency is almost assured: a good many houses would be eliminated. for whereas there were too many attractions and not enough houses before the Messrs. Shubert broke away from the syndicate, so many houses have been built and opened since that time that there are now too many first-class houses for the attractions that are available. It more than probable that a great many of these houses will go over to vaudeville.

On the other hand, some observers of the situation maintain that the conditions will revert to first principles; that is, that the situation will resolve itself again so that managers of theatres will book their own attractions—that is, make their contracts direct with the managers of attractions—that is, make their contracts direct with the managers of the attractions, and disregard altogether the booking agents. Whether this condition would be healthy or not is a question. It would mean long jumps and uncertain engagements unless each manager of an attraction should maintain a regular booking staff on his own account. This would be so difficult as to be almost impossible.

So the situation stands chaotic in the extreme, with no immediate prospect of order. The syndicate bookings have reached a very high state of system. The local mansger had been almost entirely relieved of the responsibility of booking his attractions. He would depend upon his booking agents to supply him with a list of attractions of a very high a list of attractions of a very high average quality. It only remained for him to give these attractions the necessary sort of co-operation after they were booked, and when they came into his theatre, perhaps this elimination of responsibility on the part of the theatre manager was not the best thing for the business. In any case, the man-agers got out of touch with the pulse of the public; their energy in drawing the crowds waned; they came to depend almost entirely upon the drawing power of their at-tractions for bringing patronage to the theatres. Perhaps the manager vas too nearly eliminated as a fac-or. His power of observation became atrophied. Getting away from the daily grind he lessened his en-ergy and, to an extent, lost interest. In time he became to feel that his personality was not to be taken into consideration as an influence in bringing people to his theatre. All this was bad.

Personality goes a long way. The patrons of theatres even in the big cities like to come into personal contact with the managers of the with their weekly amusements.

No doubt the time has come when the theatre managers will have to return to their aiert seeking for patronage; when they will have to exercise their ingenuity to attract patronage to their houses. Where the owner-manager does not possess this quality of personality he may have to engage, and pay for the services of energetic men who do possess this quality to manage his theatres. Perhaps this is the solution and when all the edges have been rounded off, and all the corners have been success-fully turned, we will return to that state of settled bookings, plus local manager's efforts, that characterlzed the days before the revolution in theatrical amusement in America. It is hardly probable that, as some contend, the day will come again when managers will book their attractions independently. This plan would entail too much expense and involve too much uncertainty. It would, of course, restore the old order of competition, but competition in the amusement business is usually accompanied by a degree of chaos and extravagance of expenditure that, coupled with the essential absence of rules for success, precipitates affairs into the states alternately of feverish panic and passive indifference.

Individual bookings are more consistent with the successful conduct of vaudeville than of the "legitimate." This is because it is more expensive for entire companies to travel than it is for individual acts to find their way from town to town.

There would be little chance for big companies employing barnstorming methods. In the days and in the districts of barnstorming, salaries were as uncertain as the weather in April, and where salaries are uncertain conditions are unhealthy.

In any contingency, somebody is sure to get the worst of it. The very secret of all perpetuation is natural selection.

AUDEVILLE is as different from the old-time variety as a healthy and fully developed child sprung from the amusement of our days of development. ville is the amusement of our days of maturity as a commercial community. Variety was a sort of illegitimate off-spring from the French revue. Vaudeville stands alone as a peculiar and characteristic form of amusement. It is different in America than in England. We believe that the American vaude-performance is better than that given in the English Music Hall. the English point of view to the contrary notwithstanding. We are just as certain that vaudeville is superior to the French revue. Let us see what vaudeville is: In the revue which corresponds more closely to our comedy than our vaudeville does to it, there is sort of a wraith of a plot manifesting it-seif here and there; insinuating itself where it has no business, and trying to make its presence felt in spite of all obstacles. The description of the French revue is really the definition of vaudeville according to the true significance of the word, but vaudeville has out-grown its definition.

The American vaudeville performance is put together to enter-tain all classes of people and people of all grades of intelligence above the lowest. That is where It finds its success.

In the early days of vaudeville, or rather in the days when variety was in its prime, there were comparatively very few theatres de-voted to this form of amusement in the United States. There was no systematic method of booking vaudeville attractions. Variety troupes trooped where they could get engagements, and invariably they traveled as organizations.

To-day is is all different. The bills are made up according to the plans of the managers of local vaudeville theatres. Each manager selects those acts which he knows from experience with his public will please his patrons' taste. Ind "Indirectly then, or by representation, the American public in each section, in each city, or town is choosing tho vaudeville acts from week to week that will afford it the most pleasurable kind of entertainment

But this is not to say that the vaudeville booking agents are without voice in the matter. They are primarily responsible for the high standard to which vaudeville has attained. It has not been a great many years since F. F. Proctor, B. F. Kelth, E. F. Albee, Percy Williams and others were not only in-dependent of each other, but were engaged in the strongest kind of .The growth of vaucompetition. deville, its development in resources, made the combination of these powerful generals possible, and conto the usual rule in such matters, the elimination of competition contributed to a general elevation of the vaudeville system as a whole Today, the vaudeville performer can not only get bookings from coast to coast with short jumps and week engagements throughout the whole trip, but he can cross the Atlantic on the same contract and play many weeks' bookings in Europe.

A few years ago, William Morris was a salaried employe in a vau-deville booking office. Today he is one of the most powerful booking agents in the world. There is hardly an instance in amusement annals where one man practically without capital ever succeeded so far in attracting the investment of other people's money to meet his enormous capacity for conceiving and executing vaudeville coups. Within a very short period of time Mr. Morris was able to make contracts with vaudeville performers for extensive engagements throughout the United States. He alone, on his own responsibility and without any great amount of capital of his own, succeeded in accomplishing what others, with seemingly equal experience and ability and an unlimited command of capital have falled to do.

In the West we have such doughty spirits as Martin Beck, who, having strengthened his own forces to the point where he was in absolute authority in the West, attained to the point where he had an equal voice with his Eastern compeers in making terms. The Orpheum Circust has long been one of the strongest organizations of theatres devoted to vaudeville amusement. Suilivan & Considing in the far West operate a chain of houses that reach all the way to the Ohio Valley. There are numerous others, like Sun and Pantages, who have attained to a very high degree of success in the operation of vaudeville circuits of theatres and catalogues of acts.

It's a great business, this thing of amusing the brain-fagged American public, and not the least great of the several branches and forms of amusement is vaudeville. A few years ago, in a Western city, a man without capital but with unbounded confidence in his own ability, opened up a little theatre, the main entrance of which was on an alley. Vaudeville was variety then, and this little theatre was the only one of its kind in the city.

only one of its kind in the city. People went to it. They found the entertainment so pleasing that they went again, and finally became reular patrons. The manager's business grew and the manager grew with his business. He improved his house, and as far as it was within his power, he improved his performance. Finally the house was rebuilt with the entrance on one of the principal thoroughfares. Then the manager reached out and ac-quired interest in theatres in other He became a power to cities. reckon with.

This in a concrete instance, mpies in the abstract might cited without number. They show not only the possibilities of vaude-ville for amusing the public, for interesting the people, and attracting their money, but they show also the possibilities open to the man of brains and ability, whether he has capital, or not. One man's ability may lie in managing theatres; another's may lie in providing acts and performances for those theatres; but there is money in vaude-

From the professional point of view: many a consummate artist of the histrionic kind has been attracted from the so-called legitimate stage into vaudeville. One of the latest instances of this is Frank Keenan, whom William Winter once called the representative American actor. Amelia Bingham seems to prefer vaudeville to the theatre where regular dramatic performance are given. formances are given. Numerous examples of alienation from the legitimate to the vaudeville stage might be mentioned. They would all tend to the same end: to show that variety (or vaudeville) has been divested of all its unsavory attach-ments. Vaudeville stands to-day as a form of amusement that is as "legitimate" in its make-up as is any other form. Vaudeville is legiti-

PROCEO

The public taste in amusement changes. The change is the result of progression and, deductively, the progression is the result of competition. Of competition there will always be sufficient in vaudeville.

It is reckoned that by the year two thousand there will be four hundred millions of people in the United States. With such enormous growth the resources for amusement will be strengthened, and, while the present generation is not vitally interested in what conditions will be ninety or a hundred years from now, it is conducive of peace of mind to know that no retrogression is anticipated. One time a public speaker stated incidentally that the world is expected to come to an end in about seventy-five million years. A man in the audience jumped up nervously and interrupted him.
"How—how long did you say?" he asked excitedly.
"Seventy-five million years," replied the speaker, surprised at the interruption.

"Oh," said

said the questioner with an audible, sibliant sigh of relief, "I thought you said seventy-five thousand!"

ARNIVAL OF THE DRESENT

ARNIVAL companies have discarded ali the old methods of graft and fakery, and stand to-day among the legitimate forms of amusement. A brief years ago, the carnival was enjoying the acme of its success. Its halcyon days were fewer than they would have been had not the attraction of the carnival, as a means of making big profit on small capital, enlisted under its banner, unscrupulous men of questionable principle, who gave no thought to the future of the but were satisfied to get what they could out of it while it. This spirit sounded the knell of the carnival business as the most increasive form of amusement the United States has ever known.

The carnival started modestly. Frank W. Gaskill, of Canton, Ohio, is generally credited with having instituted it in the form which became most popular. Mr. Gaskill's immediate and tremendous success advertised the possibilities of the business to such an extent that Frank Bostock and Francis and James Ferari joined their capital and experience in the expioitation of a similar kind of amusement. Immediately there were imitators beyond the space to enumerate, and the carnival business took on such a boom as no entertainment of the indoor and outdoor character had ever experienced. Methods of booking were peculiar. The advance agent (who immediately became known as a promoter) would go into a town and by some ciever device engender a carnival spirit month the merchants manufacture. among the merchants, manufactur-ers and business men of the community. A meeting would be called and the promoter would put his proposition before the members present. Then a guarantee fund would be raised. The whoie idea being based upon the prospect of increased business in the town because of the attraction. The carnival aggregation usually consisted of a number of separate and dis-tinct shows, concessions and amusement devices set up on the main street. The managers of these various shows, concessions and de-vices and in addition to them the vices and in addition to them the privilege men, all paid either percentage of the gross recelpts or stipulated amounts of privilege money to the company in control of the outfit. So in addition to the guarantee fund or bonus money, which was usually sufficient in amount to carry the aggregation from town to town, the so-called proprietors of these communities of shows received large amounts in aggregate percentages from the various attractions and privileges. It was a unique business and es-sentially a business capable of large returns while its popularity lasted. But as any man of organizing ability could launch a carnival com-pany (provided he empioyed promoters who could make contracts with local committees), and as the moral character and business integrity of the majority of these organizers was conspicuous by its absence, the carnival, or street fair business, took on a quality of unsavoryiness and discredit among the better class of citizens that made it practically impossible for local committees, however strong their influence, to secure the use of the streets from their city governments for carnival

The first serious blow that the carnival business received, however, was its repudlation by the Supreme Lodge of Eiks. Up to that time, was its repudlation by the Supreme Lodge of Eiks. Up to that time, Elks' lodges, being composed usually of the most progressive and enterprising men of the various local communities, were most readily made to see the commercial and business possibilities contingent upon the holding of street fairs, and as the fame of the carnival business spread among the Elks' lodges scattered throughout the country, the efforts of the carnival promoters were reduced to a minimum. The secretaries of the Elks' lodges, often being instructed to seek to induce carnival companies to visit the cities represented by these lodges. In a short time, however, the bad repute of the carnival business and its ciose aliiance with Eiks' lodges, threatened the reputation of the Elks themselves, and at the Grand Lodge convention, heid in Los Angeies, the edict went forth, placing a ban upon the sponsoring of carnivals by the local lodges. Of course, Eiks' lodges continued to father carnivals ciandestinely and surreptitiously, but when this was done, the influence of the Eiks auspices was lost, and the result was not as gratifying as it had been before. Meantime, unscrupulous carnival men con-tinued to present meretricious, saiacious and demoralizing attractions, such as Egyptian dances and other performances of equally debasing character. From the warmest approval, local communities went to the extreme of irreconcilable repudiation of the carnival business, and a great many of the real progressive and far-seeing managers of carnivals were driven out of the business along with their unscrupnious colleagues and competitors. To-day there are probably a dozen carnival competitors.

etitors. To-day there are probably a dozen carnival of real importance operating in the United States.

Their methods of doing business have been systematized and disciplined to the extent that these shows are assured of a permanent if not a feverish popularity in the sections they visit. During the past two years a good many cities that had been closed to carnivals by the bad repute of the business, have again opened, though there is little prospect that the carnival business will ever again reach the popularity that it enjoyed during the seasons of 1902 and 1903.

That the carnival business has kept alive at all, is due to such progressive and undaunted spirits as C. W. Parker, James Patterson, Herbert A. Kline, Harry Snyder and several others.

A year or two ago, Harry Sny-der, of The Great Cosmopolitan Shows, conceived the idea of an enormous tent under which his attractions, concessions, privileges, and devices were to be sheltered from the elements, but on account of the difficulty attendant upon the erection and taking down of this enormous canvas (which was bigger than that used by any of our biggest circuses), the project was finally abandoned at a great loss to The Cosmopolitan proprietors.

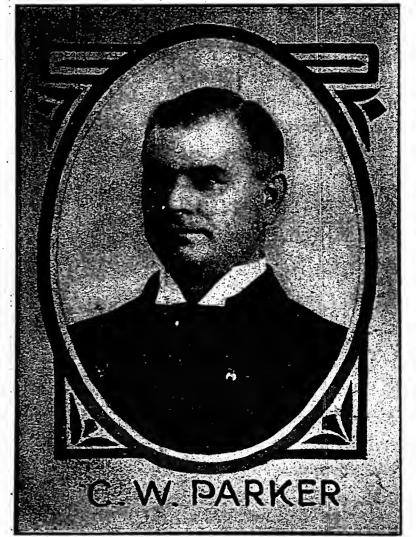

Whatever may be the future of carnival business--whatever may be the stigma attaching to it in its iowest form, it stands and vill probably continue to stand as the most prosperous while it lasted as well as the most popular and the most widely self-advertising form amusement ever known in this country.

After the American Street Fair came so tremendously popular, amusement promoters in other parts of the world, seeing its advantages, were enterprising enough to institute the same form of amusement in divers places. The carnival in reality spread to the Antipodes, and while it never enjoyed the vogue anywhere else that it did in America, it has proved very popular in other piaces. In the Azores, the pleasure-loving Latins took readily to carnival amusement, and it flourishes there to-day from season to season. During the great popularity of the street fair in America, a carnival man visited Gibraitar, and selecting street fair in America, a carnival man visited Gibraitar, and selecting a post card showing the precipitous character of the country, he wrote upon it to a friend in America: "This would be a heli of a good carnival town if there was only some piace to put up the shows."

A great many of those enterprising showmen who made fortunes in the carnival business, and who were either forced out or abandoned it of their own accord when its popularity waned, have since engaged in other forms of amusement, where their carnival experience has stood them in good stead. So the carnival served its purpose. Its day of greatest popularity constitutes an epoch in the amusement business. Those showmen who have clung to the business are now deriving a very substantial profit from season to season, though their returns are nothing to be compared with what the same aggregations would have netted them a few years ago. KING DEMAND FOR MUS

EMAND for popular music is best created in the theatre. The growth and development of popular music publishing in this country, if treated chronologically and with the necessary degree of sentiment, would read like a romance.

It remained for Americans to discover, or invent, a systematic means of exploiting popular song successes. It is iogical (as it is strange that the discovery has never been made before) that the vaudeville performer should have been chosen as this agency of popularization.

In Engiand they had long had the music hall, which, in its turn, was a development from the Saturday evening singing sessions in the public house; but in Engiand the custom has been, as it still is—for each singer to practically teach the words and air of each song to his audience. This, of course, eliminates the possibility of wide circulation for published music.

This custom of inculcating by repetition, dates back to the time when the visitors and patrons at the public house selected a chairman. whose duty it was to teach the members the words and tunes of all the latest songs.

The English music hall never outgrew this, and the custom is as boorsome to the visitor from forelgn shores as it is discouraging to him who contemplates the publica-tion of popular music in Englan i, as conducted in the United States.

Traditions in England are not easly overcome.

So it is that the publication of popular music in America is unique in its methods, founded on the strongest foundation for success, and characterized by principles of system and national predisposition that make for its prosperity.

When we hark back to the tremendous vogue of Little Annie Rooney, Mary Green, Comrades, Down On the Farm, After the Baii, and their innumerable successors in public favor, and temporary popularity, we begin to realize that those pioneers who were responsible for the exploitation of these songs on the system that gave them popularity in all sections of the country at the same time, had discovered a medium well calculated to supplant the oid method of dissemination through numbers that were sung: At the same time it gave rise to the music publishing business as it is conducted to-day. But for future generations in America, the phrase "the songs ihat mother used to sing" will not have the meaning that it now has, for the system is different. There was a time when songs spread like infection through the army and the villages spectrum. the army and the villages scattered throughout the land. They were taught and learned without the printed page. That is not true of the present system.

The increase in circulation and the possibilities of circulation of popular music to-day is largely proportionate with the increased number of planes in the homes. The plane manufacturer and the publisher of popular music have worked hand in hand without even the semblance of co-operation. It is true that the progressives in the plano manufacturing business have appre-It is true ciated this most potent factor in the demand for pianos, but the greater majority of them have failed to do so. Still, we are satisfied that the publication of popular music has created the increased demand for the cheaper grade of pianos. On the other hand, the rule works inversely, and the growing demand for pianos has fostered and nourished the in-

There was a time, and it was not long ago, that the music publishers were almost overwhelmed with their own success. Song writers invested their royalties in plants for the publication of their own compositions and those of other writers who had not yet become their own publishers. The earnings were so great and the sysiem so primitive that many of them were swamped in the high seas (no pun is intended) of their own prosperity. These flascoes have been so recent that to specify them would be considered (and would probably be really) an injustice. · Fut out of this chaos grew system and order. The song writers who had temperament and little business acumen returned to the writing of songs, and left the publishing of them to those of better business

To-day the publication and distribution of popular music is conducted on the strictest business principles. It would entail many pages to describe these methods. Suffice it to say that the business of music publishing never was on so high a scale of commercial conduct, and never was the outlook for its future brighter than it is to-day.

The process has been "survival of the fittest;" elimination of the unfit; destruction of those supererogations of composition that once threatened the entire industry.

threatened the entire industry.

So we see that those conditions, indigenous to America, which gave rise to our system of popular music publishing, and which have fostered and nurtured it through many vicissitudes, still obtain—are, in fact, indestructible. We have passed the time when the subsidization of singers and instrumentalists can can work material harm to the industry whole. We have also passed the time when the song writer was deceived by the mirage of prosper-ity as a publisher. Factors have found their proper places; conditions and circumstances have adjusted themselves.

What could be written about music ln general and song writers in particular could be strung out in-definitely, and would occupy miles and miles of writing space; but what's the use? The publishers are too busy to read all of it, the writers would only be really interested in the parts devoted to their personal mention or a reference to their compositions, and the public would rather listen to the song itself than to a word description, an essay conto a word description, an essay con-cerning its class, or an analytical discussion of its origin. The music publisher operates a peculiar insti-tution. If you don't believe it, ask one of 'em yourseif. Their's is a field of endeavor fundamentally commercial, but with surface show-ings that indicate "art" in its softest sense. Plaglarists infest this field. They revel and delight in its pilfer-They revel and delight in its plifering opportunities.

We do not believe that there is nothing new under the sun. didly, we are of the opinion that just as the rolling stone often acquires a beautiful polish, so a song running the gamut of claimants may improve in transit; and by evolution be decidedly benefitted. At present there are more than a few "lm-provers" who choose material and rehash and tone with good results. These song doctors are artists in their line; so much so, in fact, that they seldom lose a case. They are ingenious if not ingenuous workers; certainly are they willing. How-ever, it may not advisedly be said that the conscientious writers of original music are in the minority.

The current epoch in the history of music is as replete with authors and composers as any period of time in the annals of the business. If their contributions are not as enduring or their style as edifying and noticeable as in other years, biame it on the uitimate consumer, the public, whose demands govern and are responsible for the quantity and quality of the production. The publisher caters to this public.

With the advent of the ten cent theatre came the revolution that gradually educated the patron to vaudville, the patron in time grew more exacting. They wanted more acts and better acts, which widened the field and at the same time increased the managers' weekly salary list, until he was forced to either raise his prices or build larger placesgenerally both—to accommodate the patrons. Thus, the "store show" gradually gave way to the vaudeville theatre, until now there is scarcely a town worth mentioning that can not boast of at least one vaudeville house—some towns, two or three—where they are offering acts and paying salarles that would have been thought impossible a few years ago. All of this has, of course, necessitated the booking of thousands of acts, a large percentage of which use either instrumental music or songs.

BURLESQUE BURLESQUE GLEANED HOUSE

URLESQUE is to-day regulated by the highest de-gree of system that characterizes the operation of The exact any form of the theatrical business. route of every show is laid out in immutable form for the entire season before the attraction opens its first engagement. The manager of every burlesque house knows just exactly what attraction he is going to have for every week and every day throughout the season. As the buriesque system is the most highly perfected, so is the buriesque patronage the most nearly stable. These qualifications combine to make buriesque a most attractive form of amusement from the professional point of view. There is no speculation connected with the casting of one's fortunes with the buriesque attraction. There is no contingency, however remote, of two weeks rehearsals without pay, two weeks more of hard work on the road, and then a sudden closing. A burlesque contract is as good as a United States bond, so long as its provisions are carried out by the actor.

It was not always so. Buriesque has matured and developed into a legitimate form of amusement very rapidly. Only a few years ago, ali buriesque companies were what the buriesquers now call "turkey" shows. That is, attractions that filled promiscuous engagements, as the "wild cat" company does in the legitimate. Buriesque was then in very bad repute. It based its claim very bad repute. It based its claim for any popularity that it enjoyed clandestinely on its salacious and suggestive features. The buriesque show drew people to the theatre who were ashamed to have their friends know that they were there, or who went openly in face of the stigma attaching to such habits. The burlesque attraction was a contraband attraction. A man never mentioned his intention to go or his having been there to his family. He usually evaded this by the pretext of a business or club engagement, in anticipation or in expianation of his absence from home. All kinds of alibis were de-

This condition has changed. man may take his wife to a bur-lesque performance now, with the same degree of assurance that her sense of modesty will not be vio-lated, that would attend his taking her to a theatre where the musical comedy brand of attraction is being presented. It is a far cry from such discredit to such approval, but burlesque has accomplished it thoroughly, steadily and without chance of reversion in the past few years.

It is interesting to note the pride with which the reformers of burlesque speak of their work. The have gone about it seriously, know ing the obstacles that confronted them, but with a definite, tangible task to perform, and with a thorough grasp of the methods and means necessary to its performance. Practically everything that was venal has been removed from the burlesque show that was popular in the days been removed from the burlesque show that was popular in the days of its undignified vogue. The Egyptian dancer, upon the advertisements of whom managers based their chief claims for patronage, has been almost entirely eliminated. Suggestive lines with double meanings that once constituted all burlesque dialogue, and upon the conception of which writers of all burlesque sketches expended the greater part of their energy and ingenuity, have also been relegated to the limbo of unnecessary and undesirable things. The burlesque performance of today moves with a snap and ginger that is highly commendable, and that has never been imitated, either upon the legitimate comedy or the that has never been imitated, either upon the legitimate comedy or the musical comedy stage. Scenic and sartorial accessories have been ameliorated in the same proportion.

Those who are indifferent to what burlesque used to be or who have forgotten its quondam unsavoryness, may best draw their comparison between the burlesque stage of a decade ago and of the present time, taking the contemporary performance at the Moulin Rouge in Paris a representative of the former, and any of the seventy attractions that make up the shows of both "Wheels," Empire and Columbia Circuits, as representative of the latter. In The Moulin Rouge brand of performance, we find the story dealing with such incidents as are seldom found outside the red light district of a big city. The plots are meretricious, the dialogues are salacious, and the performance is generally debasing. The American buriesque show, on the other hand, is put together to amuse rather than to pander to immoral thoughts and procivities. The buriesque show, as we know it in this country to-day, is about as good a recipe for meianchoiy and ennut as can be formulated. The comedy quality is of a generally high standard. The plot is obvious enough not to weary and at the same time slight enough to allow the The comedy quality is of a generally high standard. The plot is obvious enough not to weary, and at the same time slight enough to allow the liberties necessary for the rapid carrying forward of the show as a vehicle for the cleverness of the various performers who participate in it. The comedians are selected because they are superior in the delineation and presentation of certain lines of grovesome and genteel comedy.

of grotesque and genteel comedy work. The principal women are invariably good singers and at least passable comediennes. This perfection of detail, this harmony of grouping is due to the able efforts and perspicacious fore-sight of the men who stand at the sight of the men who stand at the head of the buriesque combination as producing managers. They are without exception, men of wide experience in their work. They are generally men of moral stamina and high character. They have taken buriesque out of the category of forbidden things, placing it among other forms of approved en-

Buriesque, perhaps, has not reached its highest standard even yet, but it has gone far. The men who are promoting it promise a still further regeneration. We have confidence in the successful achievement of their aims, because of the success they have already compassed in their past perform-

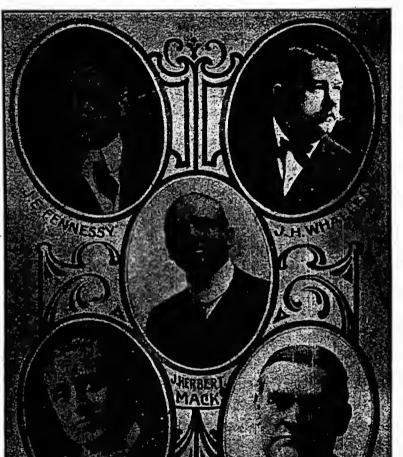

With the energy and intelligence that is now being directed towards its regeneration there is no reason to believe but that it will continue to progress as systematically and as surely in the future as it has in the past. It is the amusement of the busy man in a strange city, and what city has not a considerable floating or translent popula-tion of liberal spirits who enjoy nothing in the way of theatrical amusement more than catchy music, choruses and ensembles pleasing to the eye and rapid-moving, obvious comedy of the innocuous sort while they enjoy their cigars and forget that they are deprived temporarily of home and its companionship. It is this class that makes up the preponderating por-tion of buriesque patronage to-day, and through its enlistment buriesque has found it possible to abandon its one-time appeal to the outcast spirits whose philistinism has no stronger alibi than a kind of daring swagger, and devote itself to the legitimate entertainment of he business-fatigued mind of a higher grade of intelligence.

Buriesque may never be the accepted family amusement, but it has already undergone a degree of regeneration that augurs well for its

The chief interest of all who are engaged in the promotion of any kind of amusement as a business or as a profession is its immediate and its ultimate success. The principal concern then of all who are identified with buriesque as a business or as a profession is its perpetuation on the highest scale of success consistent with healthy growth and ation on the highest scale of success consistent with healthy growth and natural development. He who is in for a day or for the present and obvious opportunity is not to be considered. In a measure the public is to be left out of the consideration also, or to be considered only secondarily; but we need have no fear for the public which, with Anthony Comstock's assistance will take care of its own interests.

Ail hall to the burlesque of the future,

THE PROGRESS OF NELODRAMA

ELODRAMA has left the cheap theatre, and taking on the necessary refinement, has gone into the higher priced houses. The situation has been made thus complex through the advent of the motion picture melodrama. By this agent it was forced out of the cheap house, but all other things being equal, it is more than probable that melodrama in its more refined form would have become popuin the higher priced houses, and with more cultured audiences under any circumstances. Melodrama usually deals with vital aspects of life. Sentimentality may be over-concentrated in them, but over-concentration is always a sort of compromise between the artistic and the real. Coincidence must necessarily be exaggerated in drama of any kind. Incidents and happenings must be made to follow consecutively in order to sustain the inter-

The writer of melodrams must conceive of the possible happening of mental crises in each of the members of the small group, that in real life would extend possibly into the experiences of only one in a thousand people, and cover a period of many years: But every serious drama must partake some-what of the nature of the melo if it would be vital. So the writer who is dealing with the joys and sorrows, the haps and mishaps of life, must play to a certain extent upon the impressionableness of his

Melodrama, next to tragedy, the oldest form of playwriting, and the line of demarkation between melodrama and tragedy must nec-essarily be very closely drawn. Remove a few of the features of the old Greek classics, and you have melodrama; divest Shakespeare of his philosophical dialogues and soliloquies, and in all his heavier plays you will find melodrama as the basic quality. Going a little further we may even assume that melodrama is the pattern into which the warp and woof of all living drama is woven. Dramatists have never got away entirely from the old idea that love between the sexes is a scourge. It is through the intensity of a love theme that the incidental features of any play are carried on with the es dramatio interest.

Impressionableness is a part of. human nature. It may be covered up and glossed over by education and refining environment, but it is never completely eradicated. Inversely then the smaller the oppor-Intunity for education and culture. greater the degree of sentimen talism and the more leeway given to impressionableness.

The writer of melodrama for the masses bullds upon this foundation. writes in the simple language of the grown-up child about matters and things that are of interest to the person who has matured physically while remaining mentally undeveloped. Many the washerwoman whose tears drop into the steaming suds as she mentally rehearses the experiences of the distressed heroine of the previous night's performance.

But the day of Lincoln J. Carter and Theodore Kremer is over. Their methods were different; but each made his peculiar appeal to the proletariat. Carter was the David Belasco of cheap melodrama; perhaps he may even more correctly be compared with Clyde Fitch. Every one of his successes depended chiefly upon the successful working out of some ingenious, though crude, device of stagecraft. Lincoin Carter was a genius in his line. Blood and thunder may have constituted his chief claim to glory among those who are not mentally above attributing glory to such causes, but he handled his blood and thunder with an understanding of his audience that is deserving of commendation. Theodore Kremer was not a genius. His plays, if plays they can be called. were lacking in originality, but what they lacked in originality, they made up in intensity of crude, unshackled emotion. Both these men are due more credit than they have ever been given, for surely it is not a function below distinction to contribute amusement (even though it be expressed in the shedding of many tears) to those poor souls whose corporeal handicap entitles them to the deepest sympathy.

But as the uncultured mind thinks in pictures, the advent of the motion picture melodrama spoiled the business of Kremer, of Carter, and of their colleagues and contemporaries. The audiences that formerly sat in the melodrama house eating peanuts and weeping briny tears, giving way to uncouth cachinatory expression of amusement and delight, now buy the same sensations for five cents a reel, and sit in the front rows of the motion picture theatre. That is why some manufacturers of motion pictures find it profitable to produce melodramas for projection on the screens. There will always be a demand for melodramas, whether pantomime or acted by living actors on the stage at every performance among the Brahmin caste of our own United States.

Among cultured folk in America, the melodrama was held in abeyance by the popularity of the war play, the Western drama, and the drama of society. American audiences do not differ from those of other countries in desiring to see the whims and foibles of society put before the footlights. But, perhaps, after all, it is not the ex-position of these whims and foibles that interests them so much as the belief that they are learning how real society acts and ought to act. That is why the society play has held the public's fancy so long in this country where necessarily, society is still in the process of formation. But of recent years the close observer has detected a ten-dency toward the preference for melodrama qualities in the plays presented in our first-class thea-tres. One might cite numerous examples in support of this conten-tion not the least convincions of tion, not the least convincing of which would be Clyde Fitch's last play, The City, over which New York literally went wiid, and was followed by the rest of the country in its enthusiastic approval of a vivid picture of emotional intensity.

We may then expect a vogue for melodrama in our first-class theatres that will extend over a more or less lengthy period of time. We do not believe that this vogue will mark a retrogression of taste. For several years the drama has been becoming more and more anaemic. The nublic cannot lose by the inrhe public cannot lose by the injection of more real feeling into its drama, for by this injection the venal qualities of cynicism will be forced out.

Within the past few weeks company has been incorporated for the express purpose of probeen incorporated ducing melodrama over a circuit theatres that will be operated along the same lines as those con-stituting the two burlesque stituting the two burlesque "wheels." This does not look like a symptom of pessimism among those who are interested in the business to the extent of putting their money into it for its promotion and perpetuation, but indicates true optimism for it.

There is little doubt that Messrs. Stair and Havlin: will combat this enterprise by booking melodramas of a higher grade of merit again into their houses that have, during the past two years, been given over to musical comedy and to motion pictures.

Who will write these melodramas, is a question of more interest than of immediate importance, but what is probably of more signifi-cance is the quality and nature of the melodramas themselves. There is little doubt that the return to melodrama will be a reversion to a higher sort than has ever constituted the standard before,

In England, where culture is, confessedly, on a higher plane generally than it is in America the melodrama has never ceased to be popular. The writer recalls having sat in Drury Lane Theatre from a quarter past seven in the evening till "alf paust" tweive while a long drawn out melodrama of the most sensational (though clean) kind was being enthusiastically applauded by a characteristically elite audlence such as can always be seen at Old Drury.

Perhaps this is what melodrama will get to in America.

THEAMISEMENT PARK

AUL D. HOWSE, of Chicago, has long been considered an authority on all that pertains to the amus ment park. His experience and success have justified this confidence. Asked what, in his opinion is to be the future of the amusement park in America, he replied:

"What is the future of the amusement park? This is a question propounded to me ten times a week. It is put by park owners, concessionaires and those whose only interest in the subject is based on delightful hours spent in these great outdoor resorts.

That the park business has fallen off during the last two years cannot be disputed so that the question is one in very general circulation.

My reply generally is about like this:

"The park business has passed through the bonanza stage which follows the establishment of any new enterprise which catches popular fancy. Its patronage has set-tied down now to a regular and normal basis. Many parks were built at too much expense and too many were built in many cities. As soon as the surplus is wiped out and park managers learn by exper-lence the class of attractions which are lasting, the business will be a steady and very profitable one. The future holds much in store for the amusement park today."

The establishment of so many vaudeville and moving picture thea tres all over the country has had much to do with the decrease in the park patronage. Again so much money was invested in park attrac-tions, particularly buildings, that their owners have hesitated to de-stroy any of them and substitute and more modern forms of amusement.

Again a number of parks have been designed and built by archi-tects who have had no knowledge of the park business and the de-mands of park patrons. These parks have been overloaded with buildings when rides should have been built. Even today this same mis-take is being made. Within the past two weeks I have received from a Southwestern city, plans of a park laid out by local architects which I am certain will be an absolute failure. The plans call for ten or twelve buildings and one small ride. Buildings costing several thousands of dollars are planned for penny arcades and the like. This park owner will never see his money back and within his first season he is certain to have half of his buildings vacant and bringing no revenue. Not only will he suffer from loss of revenue but the empty bulldings will give his resort a deserted appearance which is certaln to be injurious.

Not over two or three show buildings can bring any return to a park owner. Outside of a good sized vaude-ville building one other show building would be the wisest investment. His money should be invested in rides, a ball room and such other attractions as the public wants and from which a good revenue is certain.

The park of 1911 should be designed with an eye to the future. Ali spaces should not be filled in merely to form a solid wall of one attraction after another. In 1912, when a new feature comes out, the park should have a space for it without destroying the investment of 1911. Rides should be built so that after a couple of years they can be rebuilt and the form of them changed at a nominal cost. Every improvement should be made with an eye to the future.

Recently I visited a Southern city at the invitation of some intending investors in an amusement park. I spent two days looking over the situation. I found in a small city one park in existence which was rather modern and doing a profitable business. I advised my friends not to build another park but to buy the present plant and put their money in alterations. Instead of investing $100,000 as was contemplated they will be able to acquire a park for less than half this sum. If they built a new place, the business would be so divided that neither would do well.

In one park I have under construction. I placed a figure 8. Several persons remarked to me that they doubted my judgment in putting in a ride of this character. They thought a giant coaster would be best. I explained to them that the park was new to this locality and that after the figure 8 had operated a year or two I could rebuild it into a modern coaster at nominal cost and bring it up-to-date. With this explanation they agreed with me that the idea of the future of the park had not entered into their calculations.

My energies have been directed towards cheapening the cost of parks and their attractions, particularly riding devices on the coaster order. I and their attractions, particularly riding devices on the coaster order. I recently submitted to a traction company for a city of about 25,000 population, plans for a park to cost $25,000, including a theatre, band shell, grill room, one show building, several booths and two riding devices. These plans cut in two the investment contemplated for such Another set of plans for a park in a city of 150,000 called for a total investment of $50,000 and this plant I have now under way. In both of these parks there will be ample spaces left for the meritorious attractions which de-velop during the next few years without destroying any of the investment now being made.

In future park building we must depend on the experience of the past and profit by the knowledge gleaned of the public's taste for open air amusement. The park must be designed for operation at nominal figure and with ample earning capacity.

By making $6,000 worth of changes in a park which had operated several years, I recently modernized the entire piant and cut its operating cost from $350 per day to $225, yet at the same time I increased its earning capacity. This park operated at a loss in 1909 and showed a handsome profit in and showed a handsome profit in 1910, after the changes had been made. The entire cost of the changes was charged against this season's operating expense.

So in the long run, the future of the park business, in my opinion, depends upon the judgment used by the park owners and managers. It is not discouraging, but promis-

How to draw the crowds! That's the perplexing problem which con-fronts owners and managers casting their destinies with the amusement business in any of its phases. For generations the park purveyor has taxed ail his resources of inventiveness in an effort to de-vise something new which would be vise something new which would be effective in juring the always curious public to the box office or ticket window. He has spent many a sieepless night arguing the pros and cons of his newest ideas along this line. Owners and managers of parks and their ampleyees have parks and their employees have called into play a great variety of devices for amusing the fickle public, and to beguile the possessors of feagle" into their confidence, and eventually influence a change of ownership in the Uncle Sam piece. Who is it that doesn't remember the wild, insane fervor with which people spent their money at the World's Fair in Chicago? There was but one meaning to this: the noveity was so new and the unique methods of showing so strange and pleasing that it captivated all lovers of diversion in amusement. There were new features never before introduced to the public. There were also some old attractions, but they were served up in such a delicious style that they seemed new. Everything, with but a few exceptions, went with a snap and bang.

So variety and change to meet the progress of the times are the secrets of success in operating the amusement park.

The manager of any park makes a mistake when he reigins any device or concession after it has lost its novelty and attractiveness to the public. The manufacturers of several of the devices most popular for a few seasons have gone into bankruptcy trying to promote their sales, and so keep their factories running after the novelty and attractiveness had worn off.

The public demands noveity.

HEMOTION PICTUI

HE motion picture as a form of amusement has come to stay. Its very progress determines that. Less than half a decade ago, the Biograph, the Edison and other companies which are now alied under the banner of The Motion Picture Patents Company, were making nothing but outdoor pictures. None of them operated a stock company, and the number of exhibitors outside of the regular vaude-ville theatres which put the pictures on merely as an incidental feature, was very small. To-day the manufacture, sale, rental and exhibition of motion picture films, is an industry representing the output of many millions of dollars. The motion picture has grown in merit as it has increased in popularity. The principal manufacturers of America devote themselves almost exclusively to the production of entertaining pictures, and do not, like Pathe-Freres, of France, principally, and several European companies, make a large number of educational a large number of educational films. The educational films there-fore are mostly imports and these importations and distributions are handled chiefly by Mr. George Kieine, who is one of the most important figures in the American motion picture business.

The manufacturing end of the industry is represented now by some twenty-five or thirty compa-nies, each of which releases from two to three reels of film per week. More than half of these manufacturers are members of the Motion Picture Patents Company, a com-bination of all the original manufacturers of flims in America, and claiming to control the patents on motion picture cameras and projecting machines to such an extent that any other camera manufactured or used in America is characterized by them an infringement. The other faction of manufacturers who call themselves the Indepen-dents are producing films with European made cameras and projecting them with various brands of machines. Those exchanges or middlemen who buy their product from the manufacturers represent-ed in the Motion Picture Patents Company, rent them to exhibitors who are under contract to use only the films manufactured by the Patents Company and to project them through the Patents Company's machines which they do not buy outright, but upon which they pay a license or royalty or $2.00 per week. The Patents Company is a very strong organization.

On the other hand the Independents of the patents of the line periods.

dents so-called, sell their film to exchange men, who in turn rent to exhibitors at a scale that is made to compete with the Patents Company's scale, and who project the pictures through any manufacture of projecting machine that they may prefer to use.

So there is strong competition in the field. Licensed theatres and independent theatres are situated side by side in all the cities throughout the country, and while the fight for supremacy between the two factions is very bitter, the public cares very little about the struggle of the manufacturers, and seeks only to be entertained by the best pictures available.

The American Biograph Company has long represented the acme in quality of films. Their productions have been made at the greatest expense, both with regard to the selection of the company engaged to act out the pantomime plays and the technical handling of films. Pathereres have also represented quality in another line, and until recently, their European pictures were in very great demand, but since they have instituted an American plant for the entire making of the pictures, the instituted an American plant for the entire making of the pictures, the demand for the domestic production has largely superseded that of the importation. The Vitagraph Company's pictures, The Edison Company's production, and that of Selig, Kalem, Essanay, Lubin and other European pictures, which are imported by Mr. George Kieine, are each characterized by their own individuality, and each occupies its own position in the preference of the public position in the preference of the public.

To Mr. Cari Laemmle, who started in the business as a dealer in licensed films, but who afterwards "went independent," is largely due the strenuousness and success with which the efforts of the independents tc establish system, bave been carried on. There are other men of brains and ability in the Independent field also, and who manufacture productions that have their demand on the part of the public through the medium of the exchange.

The degree of progress that has been made in the manufacture and distribution of motion pictures during the past three or four years is almost incredible. Whereas there were only a few hundred theatres (which were theatres in name only, for the most part being store-rooms transformed into places of exhibition for the motion picture) three years ago, there are now thousands of theatres operated exclusively for the exhibition of motion pictures. Some of them have been built at tremendous expense and are elaborately, even sumptuously equipped.

Competition among the exhibit-ors has brought the motion pic-ture "performance" up to a very high standard of quality. In larger cities, in the down-town districts, three reels of film are usually shown, with an illustrated song, and in some instances, a vaudeville act or two of more or less merit, to break the monotony. These exhibition theatres are provided with comfortable seats and an orchestra consisting of from one to three pieces (including the drummer who works the "effects") and are made to conform entirely with the fire and sanitary ordinances.

The only obstacle in the way of the continued progress of motion picture popularity seems to lie with the manufacturers. Recent productions have been characterized by a lack of originality of subject and by a sort of sameness in the working out of plots and a tenden-cy to revert to old subjects that proved popular. Perhaps the manufacturers are not anxious to continue too strong a struggle of competition, realizing that this would increase the cost of production. It seems manifest to the close observer of the situation that there is a tacit agreement among them to leave further increase of popularity and prestige making to the exchanges and the exhibitors. Perhaps they are right, but it would seem that this is not quite fair to the exchanges and exhibitors. It may be, though, that the per cent. of profit is being more justly equalized now that the exhibitor has to provide more comforts for his patrons and the exchange man must rent his films at a lower scale of prices. For a long time the man-ufacturers bore the brunt of the battle of progress and, maybe, they are entitled now to lie back for a time and reap the profits from their pioneer effort.

However this may be, it seems probable that there will soon be ng manufacturers. They will have renewal of the old competition among manufacturers. They will have to buy a better grade of scenarios, and they will have to employ better actors to produce them. The manufacturers that have been devoting themselves entirely to Western pictures (horse-back riding, representing posses, hunting, road agents, etc.), will have to find stronger themes upon which to base their stories, if they hope to keep up with the progress of events in the motion picture field.

Alterether, the progress is most encoursed to the progress of events in the motion picture field.

progress of events in the motion picture field.

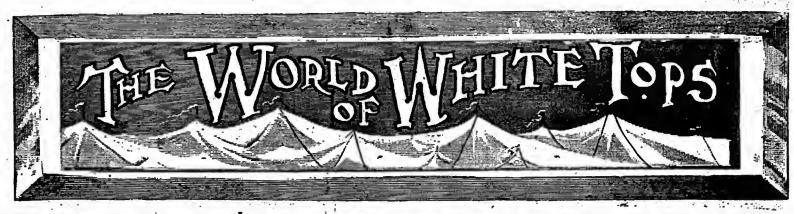

Altogether, the prospect i most encouraging. There is no occasion for anything but optimism in the outlook.

American manufacturers of film are gradually finding a larger field for their product in Europe. The Edison Company, for insiance, recently disposed of twenty-three copies of one reel of film in London alone, and while this is probably the top-notch reached by American manufacturers, it is estimated that each one of the film producers most popular in America will dispose of an average of one hundred copies to each film produced in the European market.

The sale of film in America will be equalized by the dropping out of

The sale of film in America will be equalized by the dropping out of theatres in districts that are over-crowded with them, and the opening of others in locations that are at present without them.

TOGETHER the circus season just passed has been among the most successful ones on record. First, there were more big circuses en tour throughout the season than there have ever been before in America. Ringling Brothers had three big circuses out this season; the one that bears their own name, the Barnum & Bailey, and the Forepaugh-Sells Show, the last; named having been sent out for the first time since it was bought in by James A. Balley at the Columbus, Ohio, saie, in 1905. The Hagenbeck-Waliace Show

John Robinson Ten Big Shows took the road in their usual and the John Robinson Ten Big Shows took the road in their usual magnitude and magnificence. The wild west contingent was strongly and adequately represented by the Buffalo Bill-Pawnee Bill Wild West and Great Far East, and the Miller Bros. and Arlington's 101-Ranch Wild West. Numerous shows of smaller size were represented in the circus horoscope. Uan R. Robinson metamorphosed his carnival aggregation into a circus, calling it.

The Robinson Famous Shows. J.

The Robinson Famous Shows. J. Augustus Jones sent out a wild west in addition to his other shows. The Sells-Floto Circus played at reduced prices of admission throughout the Western territory.

It was a season of strong oppo-sition throughout. The first sensa-tional encounter occurred at Co-iumbus, Ohio, were the Hagenbeck-Waliace Circus and Miller Brothers' Wild West competed for patronage on the same lot. A great deal of opposition billing was done; all summer, however, good crops and flourishing industries contributed to excellent receipts for all particl-pants and practically every show that started clean pulled into winterquarters with a good big balance on the right side of its ledger.

Only a few incidents of an untoward nature, and these of only minor significance, occurred during minor significance, occurred during the season. The most disastrous accident, but one in which no person was injured, was the burning of the Barnum and Bailey tent at Schenectady, N. Y., on May 21. There was no serious railroad accidents or disastrous blow-downs. The entire season passed off without a single serious catastrophe.

The only premature closing was

The only premature closing was at of the Norris & Rowe Show which was taken over by the creditors at Newport, Kentucky, on May 9, and transferred to the Hagenbeck-Wallace winterquarters at Peru, Indiana, where the show was sold at auction to satisfy the claims against it. A peculiar inci-dent of the sale was the purchase of a larger part of the dutfit by one of a larger part of the dutift by one of its former proprietors, Walter Shannon, who was backed up by H. E. Brotherton, of Ashtabula, O. At the end of the time allotted by the court for the purchase money to be paid over, Mr. Shannon acknowledged his inability to raise the necessary funds, thereby forfeiting the $3,000 guarantee which he had put up as a deposit.

At the second sale, Mr. Shannon again appeared as a bidder, and was announced as the purchaser of the outfit for the sum of $15,000 plus the $3,000 guarantee which he had deposited. But the court ruled against this sale and Messrs. Shannon and Brotherton were in a good way to lose a large part of the $18,000. But the subsequent and final sale of the property brought a sufficient sum to pay off the debts incurred in quartering the show during the time it had been held in abeyance to the action of the purchaser and the decisions of the court, and to satisfy the chief creditors. As the case stands, Messrs. Shannon and Brotherton are reputed to have lost in the neighborhood Shannon and Brotherton are reputed to have lost in the neighborhood of $6,000 on the transaction.

Another notable incident of the season was the testing out of the Texas license by the Ringling Brothers. The state revenue agent pro-Tests license by the Kinging prothers. The state revenue agent protested against the continuous performance device which the Messrs. Ringling instituted while the Forepaugh-Sells Show was in Texas, as a justifiable means of evading the enormous and exorbitant license fee levied by the Lone Star State, and the case was tried. No final decision has been heard on this matter, but inasmuch as the Federal court an injunction restraining the state revenue agent from interfering through arrests and other persecution with the continuous per-formance arrangement, there is little doubt that the Ringling Brothers will win out in the final hearing. This will mean a victory for all cir-cuses which will naturally adopt the same means of evading the exorbicuses which will naturally adopt the same means of evading the exorbitant license in Texas if the state does not revise its laws affecting them. It is estimated that for the Forepaugh-Selis Show alone the Ringling Bros. saved more than $14,000 by the continuous performance device.

Mr. H. H. Tammen, proprietor of the Selis-Floto Shows, endeavored, during the early part of the season, to induce the city-councils in territory booked by his competitors to pass ordinances by which shows would be taxed on a graduated scale in ratio to the number of cars carried. Mr. Tammen's efforts were generally recognized as a subterfuge for the purpose of making licenses prohibitive in the towns included in the itinerary of his competitors and which they would be compelled to exhibit in because their rairoad exhibit in because their railroad contracts had already been made so the scheme proved as futile as it was inexcusable, and Mr. Tammen's unprofessional methods were finally given the rebuke they deserved.

Altogether the season was grati-Altogether the season was gratifying to proprietary showmen as well as to the performing contingent, among which there were unusually few accidents and scarcely any suits for unpaid salaries, except in the instance of the Norris & Rowe Show which closed in the middle of the season.

In this connection it may be observed that recent years have witnessed a gradual decline in the number of forced and premature closings and in the number of suits for unpaid salaries growing out of that as well as all other causes. This condition is due to the progress in systematization of shows and to the rise in affluence that makes it possible for most show-men to start out now each season with sufficient capital to meet all emergencies of weather and peradventure that may arise.

The most notably characteristic feature of the circus business is that the men now at its head have for the most part risen through all the gradations of change and d velopment in this same busine With the single exception of H. H. Tammen, proprietor of the Sells-Floto show, all those successful spirits who are concerned with the circus business in a proprietary way have had their education in this business and in no other—have served their apprenticeship and their term of skilled workmanship in the circus shop, and were not recruited from any other business. This fact would seem to inness. This fact would seem to indicate that the circus business is so unique in its nature that, however altractive it may be from the standpoint of dividends, no financier whose education has been gained in the counting-house is doughty enough to chance his investments in an enterprise that can be intelligently directed only by those who have had years of experience under the white tops and who have learned to view with complacency the loss of thousands through the caprices of the weather and of the circuspatronizing public.

The circus business is peculiar in many of its aspects. Its beginnings were devoid of all dignity, but through the perseverance of its pioneer promoters, and through the prosecution of those principles of progression and reform that underlay even its humble station it has taken on the dignity of a legitimate form of business that has a virtue peculiar to it through its mission to amuse and entertain.

The menageric feature of the big circus attaches to it an educational feature that, whether real or imegined is feature that, whether real or imagined, is responsible in large degree for its success.

Already preparations are under way for next season, and the mammoth scale with which they are being carried on indicates that those who are in the highest degree responsible for the circus business in its chief essentials are inspired by true optimism by the prospect upon which they are looking out.

USEMENT— EATURE OF FAIR

AIRS, both county and state, their rapid growth and development, and their importance to the people generally, is a subject now commanding earnest. thought in practically every section of the Union, and, that they be not allowed to retrogade in their onward march of progress, it is very essential that sound, conservative business methods be employed in their management.

From the small acorn springs the mighty oak and so, from the earlier exhibitions of our forefathers-sarily limited in their scope and influence—have developed the modern county fair and the stupendous state exposition, each now universally recognized as a factor of the greatest importance in the development of our arts and industries.

Education is the cardinal principle of all modern expositions—great small—and that the lessons to be learned may be properly pre-sented it is necessary that each department be systematically organized, both as to management and arrangement of exhibits and dis-plays. We will not attempt to here treat this subject from the exhibit viewpoint, but will briefly present few hints regarding systematic department management, in reference to the duties and responsibilities of the superintendent.

Years ago there was but one official of a fair—the secretary; but the day has long since passed when the success or failure of an exhibition is dependent upon the efforts of one man, and to-day at each suc-cessful fair will you find a loyal band of energetic, progressive men composing the board of managers, each charged with important departmental duties. They act in unlann with the secretary, and the fruits of their united effort are shown in the success that now at-tends these exhibitions. They have thus been lifted from the plane of a froile to institutions of real worth and merit

Each department of a fair should be independently organized, with proper officials in charge, and rules neither too stringent nor too lax should be established for its government. The enforcement of these rules should be placed in the hands of the head of each particular department, he to reign supreme in all questions or disputes that may arise, except those of such moment as in his judgment require action of the full board of managers. so investing the superintendent with absolute control of his de-partment, you will eliminate many, if not all, of the minor complaints that now reach the ears of the busy secretary. Trivial complaints, such as the issuance of the proper number of passes, disagreements regarding space, etc., should never en-croach upon the secretary's time, unless brought to his attention by the superintendent. Errors in entries properly belong to the secretary, and by him will be promptly adjusted, but aside from these there should be naught from the various departments to vex and worry him. His time and attention are fully occupied in the executive department of the exhibition, and his troubles are many, without added burdens.

In selecting your superintendent, do so with a view as to his spe adaptability for the department assigned; impress upon him strongly adaptability for the department assigned; impress upon him strongly the responsibilities of his position; insure him that the full strength of the board of managers will sanction his every act when in accordance with the governing rules; make him a superintendent in fact as well as in name, with full authority over his department, and many of the rough spots that now serve to clog the wheels of smoothness will disappear. Rules are established to be observed, therefore rigidly enforce all those that anyment in your established to be observed.

Each department should be equipped with a full corps of helpers, capable of transacting all business pertaining to that department, and so arranged as to be unnecessary for any exhibitor to call upon the secretary, except to receive his premium voucher or correct entrance errors.

Abandon the committee idea and place your trust in one capable man for each department. It will please your exhibitors, as when they have a grievance or request they know where to find the proper official, and a grievance or request they know where to find the proper official, and are not "jack-eyed" from one man to another, as is now prevalent at many exhibitions. This same rule should apply to concessions, and you should not expect your concessioner to always appear pleasant when perhaps after being located by the man he presumed to be in charge, another member of the committee sternly commands him to move, as that location has been reserved for the swing man. It is the small details that perfect the mechanism; the large errors are so giaring that all may see.

How often does it happen that Mr. Exhibitor or Concessioner, in quest information, seeks the superintendent, and by that official is referred to the secretary for reply. This entails, in a majority of cases, a trudge across the grounds to headquarters, and there he inquires of the cierk for the secretary, and is politely informed that that official is engaged at present. It then becomes nee sary for him to await his turn, with perhaps a dozen or more gentlemen, until that officer is at leisure to hear his request or complaint.

After the loss of much valuable time, he secures an audience with the secretary, only to be informed that the matter in question will be adjusted after a conference with the superintendent or committee in charge. He departs, vexed and disappointed. How different would it be if Mr. Exhibitor, approaching the superintendent, is informed that the matter will have the immediate attention of that official. By this method there would be no weary walts nor loss of time, and harmony would prevail in the department. It may be a little more high-sounding to inform the exhibitor that his request will be referred to the committee or secretary, but it is much more business like for the superintendent to immediately adjust all differences in his department. How many societies are there that have lost a valued exhibitor or a profitable concessioner by these red-tape methods, when, had the superin-tendent been empowered with proper authority, all would have been serene. The fallacy of the old adage, "Two heads are better than one," was never more forcibly presented than in the settlement of minor disputes and complaints be-tween fair societies and exhibitors or concessioners.

Ohlo stands pre-eminent as the leading fair state of the Union, and of its eighty-eight counties, no less than seventy-five are annually conducting agricultural and industrial exhibitions. Their directorate is composed of the most progressive men of the state, and I dare say that here at a majority of these ex-hibitions, the superintendent is supreme in his department, while personally I know of many state and county exhibitions in the sister states that are still in the dark ages, or, to be more explicit, the departments are under committee management. I will not attempt to go further in a discussion of this subject, but will leave these few thoughts regarding the duties and responsibilities of the superintendent for your consideration. The subject of Systematic Fair Management is a broad one, and through the columns of The Billboard we could probably discuss it through the long winter months. By the interchange of ideas much good would result, and we trust its colthe interchange of ideas much good would result, and we trust its columns will be freely used by fair managers for that purpose.

The lazy man who went out to the pasture field and sat down on a stool and waited for the cow to back up to him and be milked, is sitting there yet—with an empty bucket. That lazy chap wouldn't be worth a cuss as secretary of any fair in the world. It takes a live wire to be a successful fair manager. Any man who can swim up stream can arrive at this stage. It is very much like the poet said of the lightning bug:

"The lightning bug is a brilliant thing

But the insect has no mind,

So it goes on stumbling through the world, s on stumbling through the world, With its headlight on behind.

The Metropolitan Vaudeville Situation

Description and Discussion of Conditions Prevailing in the Metropolis

By A. K. GREENLAND.

What is more attractive than the glitter of he vaudeville atage; the pretty places depicted at the scenery, the merry jungle of the dancing leet, the cheerful echo of the werbling voice and the mirth and joility of the happy cominant. What could be more alluring than this seasant ertificiality; than this vocation whose she purpose is to entertain? Yea, indeed, so it a for the observer of poetic temperament who sees music in the hiades of grass and hears ymphonies from the humblest reed. He sees it things with a glorious touch to them.

True it is that the vandevillian is a dispenser of merriment—he does make people isugh or rown at his will—there are moments of much indeed and it is that the vandevillian is a dispenser of merriment—he does make people isugh or rown at his will—there are moments of rimbons ishor and wearisome surrender to the hardsessor in his work—but there are also mosents of displeasure, discouragement, of irk-nome ishor and wearisome surrender to the hardsessor of despond—air castless irrected and air castles destroyed.

It has been ofttimes remarked hat the stage, especially that of randevilla, is no place for the mail meaning the top-ranker) enjoys ha pleasances of the profession. SORCHO IN VAUDE-

Capt, Louis Sorcho, champlon deep sea diver, who for the past fifteen years has been one of, the most popular park and fair, stractions before the public, inaugurates his first vandeville season on Dec. 12, opening, at the New Majestic Theatre, in Paterson, N. J., on the United time.

Capt, Sorcho, ever since, the sinking, of the hattieship, Maine in Havana, where he was employed by the government to recover many of the bodies of the United States asilors, has; facured prominently in the public eye. Many times darling, his professional carver he has been called upon to examine anuscan vessels with the view of railing them. He has investigated many of the proposed sites for new channels, and it was Capt. Sorchowill carty two package cars of paraphernalis. The act represents a tril-rigged sailing vessels to the first scene, showing it sinking, sand the different modes and methods of life asving. In the second scene is represented the bottom of the Man. Wife a hinge tank filled with 80,000 galloons of water. A diver is sent to the bottom. Capt. Sorcho, in a comprehensive explanatory lecture, manifests the details of the daogers and difficulties of deep sea diving, how bodies are recovered from sunken ships, examined, and how the treasure is removed from the bottom of the sea. Also an interesting feature of the act will be easiend to talk to the diver, as the latter works under fifteen or twenty feet of water. There are twenty-five people in the act, which has been sailrely rebuilt, at an actual expense of something like fifteen thousand dollars.

A Mid-Season Comment on Things Theatrical Along Broadway

It takes a real pessimist to look backwards optimistically over the theatrical season so far only half hurdied. Last year it was the same—the year before and ones preceding that not quite so strenously disastrous. The past few years have seen the total elimination of certain forms of entertainment—the public has turned the merry wheel of fancy a terrific twist, and managers wonder just what number to play. There have been a few notable successes and many failures. Managers alone are to blame for things that went bad—and the real manager takes unto himself full credit for misjudgment—the piter—along with the fellow who believes that all yuletide writings should be toned down irrespective of truth—thinks the public taste a hard one to cater to—not a bit.

New York is assainably concelted—most of those who bluff it through here try hard to be allest the world worth while stops at 125th street—Manhattan in the past has shrogated to itself the folly of atamping success of failure on theatrical yenture—that time has gone—the public to-day don't care a whit whether Broadway likes or likes not a show—the erities are realizing—public also—that they are a one-pencil matitution, and even managers who formerly had an extra cigar, a good fellow, har money for the scribes, are realizing that newspaper bunk does not make a success.

New York should not, and will not in the future be the theatrical clearing-house—the very nature of our audiences inhibit this. We are too cosmopolitan—to insanely crasy to spend money and grab on the lap-robe of pretention to ever reach a high, disinterested place in real criticism.

inp-robe of pretension to ever reach a high, disinterested place in real criticism.

Broadway strives for the omega in everything—the last word in fashion—living and spending is a little folly all our own, and each tries to outdo the other.

The real New Yorker does not support Coney Island—the real New Yorker contributes but a little to the managerial opolence or the play's success. It's our country cousin, who, after many months of expatriation, wraps a few century notes around good intentions and immediately starts for Broadway—and Broadway is, waiting—two dollars is the average price charged for fairly good seats—except from speculators—and country cousin seated in the real luxury of red velvet, elbowing bediamond society—in on a pass—thinks the show is great—chiefly because in his home town, fifty cents is all the best seat is worth—and a few days ister be goes back; tells the folks what a swell fime be had, thinks of that two-dollar seat, and ecvacies over the great show—no man likes to admit he's been stung. That's one of our critics.

Society — another — rambles over to the opera—to look over its neighbor—pays eight or ten dollars per look—and is well astisfied—and knows all the lingeric friend neighbor—bor wore.

And now comes the regular New Yorker—the real fellow—hom when the contributes of the present of the company of the present of the perameter o wore.

And now comes the regular New rice—the real fellow—bon viron—suicidal squanderer and egotit does him—and he must like or he'll stay away—and, bewe me, hother—no manager ever must the money he has on the band floor—he looks at the batty and the roosts—there's where e wherewithal for salaries and

cony and the roosts—there's where the wherewithal for salaries and royalites linger.

Our critics have long enjoyed the free ticket system—they get so as to expect contesies—and nothing is held so cheap as the thing which costs you nothing.

Mister Critic goes to the show perpetually, and sooner or later falls in a rut of fault finding. Then, too, they suffer from mental dyspepsis, just the same as the high living epicurean. And from these sources we derive our criticisms, the supposed "vox populi" on theatricals—it took the managers a long time to wake up—but the come has disappeared, showmen realise now that once and for all they must cater to the public—dirty theatricals are over with—melodrama will come back modified—vandeyille will undergo, a severe change—burlesque looks to be a favorite—Shakespeare will not do for New York withe vogue of farce comedy will pass away in a season or so and plays of the underworld will give way to the lighter fancies of extravaganza and musical nothings. The failures this season have been many, the successes few but lasting. New York suffers from overproductivity—years ago stage managers rehearsed their casts for months. Now: a commission is given a playwright; and two weeks later the show; is produced—in stock company hurry at Broadway prices. There are managers who fenubate productions on short notice and usually the output lives but a short time.

The current bills are doing nicely. Fred Terry and Julia Nelson are creating a furore with their essentially high-class work. Their latest effort is Henry of Navarra.

This is a better play for the Terry-Nellson and the audience's cordial reception of the reforces than was the predecessor. The Scarlet Primpernel, better, that its for American audiences. It is better acted, too, and it had need be. In England Henry of Navarre has been one of the chief Terry-Nellson successes. It is alkey to serve this well-known pair of players to more advantage in New York than the plece which was even more popular in England. It is more interesting, and it gives Mr. Terry more opportunity to display his qualities as an that he'll meet the right girl out there. But the fact that one can make a good guess at the outcome doesn't matter in the least. The authors don't disappoint, and thay do inject complications that keep things going merrity.

There's the tenderfoots trial, for instance, with a jury of Westerners acting, after they had been persuaded to "do it lawful," and not to string up the accused on circumstantial avidence. In this genee Mr. Collier acts as his swy lawyer, and in addition to the interest in the situation, as it is worked out to a climar, there is a delicious suggestion of antive on legal procedure when my means with other objections. The cast is something of a funity affair, for william collier, Jr., makes his first appearance as an actor in a small boy part of some preminence; Helena Collier, Garrick and Paula Marr, sister and wife of the star, have the principal wemen's parts, and there's also a brether-is-law in the company. Mim Garrick, as the keeper of a mining camp boarding house, deserved honors second only to those of her brother, and william, Jr., showed that he's an actor, too. He can be and was at time as imprehensive the object of the company. His wole was fully equal to it. actor. For Miss Nellson, perhaps, it does not do so mnch. She, at any rate, makes Margnerite de Valois so like the French actress who in The Scarlet Pimpernel became the wife of the adventurous Englishman, that no way occurs to the speciator for telling, the two ladies apart. But Mr. Terry catches and depicts certain traits of the Protestant king as history and ancedote have reported them, and he depicts them with much force and insight. The Catholic king, Charles IX., is so well played by Mr. Malcoim Cherry that the work of this actor in this play is easily the second in meril.

The incidents chosen by the dramatist see in the main, of course, Henry's odd wooing of Marguerite, and the plots which culminate in the St. Bartholomew Massacre; the several attempts of Catharine de Medici upon Henry's life; the efforts of the Duc de Guise to obtain the love of Henry's queen; and the superstitious belief of Catherine and Charles in the fortune-telling of the adroit Italian poisoner-astrologer, Cosmo Buggieri. Many of the characters in the play are but shadows. Some little history, or legend which has the effect of history, is twisted and suppressed for atage purposes. Marguerite's alleged relations with sundry persons of the court are not even suggested, nor are her abundant learning and her many-sided character. D'Anjon is nothing but a pale fool, and Navarre merely kisses the hand of Mme. de Sauve. However, the dramatist has made an interesting play of the romantic order, filled it with movement and effective situations,

AN AMERICAN AERONAUT DESCRIBES Amusements in the Orient

By CAPTAIN J. W. PRICE

San Jose, Cal., November 25, 1910.

416 Elm street, Cincinnati, Ohlo:

Dear Sir—As I have lately returned from an extended tour of the Orient, I thought I would write you, as the story of my travels might be of interest to Biliboard readers.

I left San Francisco on the Pacific mail steamer, Asia, Dec. 7, 1909, bound for Hong Kong, China. I took with me two balloons and my airship, "Messenger." Wm. Baldwin, the great aeronaut, accompanied me on the trip. After six days of pleasant sailing, we arrived at Honolulu the gem of the Pacific. Honolulu is a very prosperous city of 60,000 inhabitants, and is one of the best show towns in the world. It has an up-to-date opera house, a vaudeville house, and no less than eight picture shows, and a skating rink. Most of the picture shows are putting on vaudeville acts, and they are all doing well, at 10c, 15c and 25c. Honolulu is also a fine circus town.

eral years ago with my own circus, and did very well. After a stay of twenty-four hours at Honolulu, we salied for Yokohama, where we arrived ten days later. Yokohama is a very fine city, with a population of about 300,000 people, including about 2,000 foreigners, but it is a very bad show town. They have a very bad show town. They have a small opera house in Yokohama (foreign style), and two picture shows, run by Japanese, and a great many native theatres. The prices of admission to the native theatres and picture shows range from 1½ cents to 25 cents. Japan is called the showman's graveyard, as so many shows that go there go broke. A Japanese syndicate has recently started an amusement park in Tokyo. It is called Luna Park. The price of admission is 5 sen, 21/2 cents gold. After a stay of three days in Yokohama, we sailed for Kobe, Japan. Kobe is a fine city, has a native population of about 500,000, and 400 or 500 Europeans. Kobe has many native shows, but none run exclusively for Europeans. We stayed twelve hours in Kobe. Then on to Nagasaki, sailing through the Inland Sea of Japan, one of the most beautiful water journeys in the world. The Inland Sea is dotted with beautiful islands and crowded with picturesque fishing boats and junks. Nagasaki is a very pretty place, nestling under beautifully terraced hills, but the place is absolutely dead.

After coaling, we sailed for Shanghal, China, where we arrived forty-eight hours later. Shanghal is one of the finest cities in the Orient, with a native population of over 500,000, and a white population of about 6,000. It possesses many, beautiful buildings, built in foreign style. Shanghal is a fine show town. It has an opera house, and two up-to-date picture shows and two up-to-date picture shows that play vaudeville. They have a fine race course in Shanghai, and have excellent racing twice a year, in May and October. After a stay of twenty-four hours in Shanghai, we sailed for Hong Kong, arriving there two days later. Hong Kong is one of the best show towns in the Orient. It has a native population of 500,000, and about 8,000 Europeans. It has a fine Town Hall, where the European companies play, three up-to-date picture shows (or cinematographs), as they call them out there. They are coining money at prices ranging from 30 cents to $2, Hong Kong currency. Hong Kong has a fine race course, situated in Happy Valley. They hold two meetings a year, October and February. Harmston's Circus and the Hippodrome Circus generally visit Hong Kong twice a year, playing about four weeks each time, to good business. Boxing is booming in Hong Kong, and many good bouts are pulled off there in the winter time. I made a balloon ascension in Hong Kong on January 29, 1910, and done very well. I left Hong Kong on February 16 for Penang, in the Straits Settlements, 2,000 miles south of Hong Kong. I arrived there safely ten days later. Penang has a mixed population, Malays, Chinese, Hindoos, Japancee, and a few whites. The business is all in the hands of the Chinese.

It supports two picture shows. Bysack's Hippodrome Circus was playing Penang when I arrived, but business was poor. I made a balloon ascension on March 7 and left the next day by steamer for Delhi Mecan, Sumatra. After a pleasant run of twelve hours, I arrived at Delhi, and found it to be a very good show town, but small. Population, about 60,000, 2,000 Hollanders, the rest Malays, Japanese and Chinese. Delhi has one cinematograph, which is coining money. Bysack's Circus was there also, doing well. I made a balloon ascension on March 18, and done very well. After my ascension, I was approached by the private secretary of the Sultan of Langkat, and was engaged to make an ascension at his palace, at Tan Jong Poera, Sumatra. On March 20, I made the ascension, and landed in the jungle, which is infected with tigers and deadly makes. The Sultan sent about 100 men of his guard after me, and they soon got me out of the jungle safe and sound. The Sultan made me some very handsome presents. I left Tan Jong Poera on March 22, for the Federal Malay States. I arrived at Ipoh, F. M. S., on the evening of March 23. Ipoh on the evening of March 23. Ipoh is a thriving town, in the center of the tin mining district, and is a good show town, of about 6,000 inhabitants, Malays, Chinese, Japanese, Hindoos, and a few whites. I made an ascension in Ipoth, April 2, to a good paying audience. Ipoh supports one cinematograph, which is making money. Bysack's Circus arrived here as I was leaving for Quala Lumpar, F. M. S., and will undoubtedly do very well.

I arrived at Quala Lumpar on April 4. Quala Lumpar is a fine town, possessing many fine buildings and beautiful streets. It is the capital of the Federated Malay States. There are many rich tin mines and rubber plantations in the vicinity of Quala Lumpar. There are two cinematographs and many There native shows in Quala Lumpar, and all are doing well. I made a balloon ascension April 9, and done very well. Leaving Quala Lumpar by train on April 10, I arrived at Ma-lacca on the 11th, where I took steamer for Singapore, arriving there on the 12th. Beautiful Singa-pore, with its wide streets, beautiful buildings and fine docks. Singa-pore had a population of about 300,000, and is distinctly cosmopolitan. Nearly all races are repre-sented in Singapore; no less than thirty-eight languages being spoken Singapore has two cinematographs, which are coining money at prices ranging from 10 cents to Singapore currency, two shows a night, pictures only. Both cine-matographs are owned by a Chin-ese gentleman. There is a fine Both cine-Town Hall in Singapore, where the-atrical entertainments are given, etc. Made two balloon ascensions in Singapore on April 18 and 23, to

I left Singapore on April 25, for Bangkok Slam, by N. D. L. steamer. Arrived there four days later. Bangkok is a very beautiful city, but very unhealthy in the summer

Bangkok is a very beautiful city, but very unhealthy in the summer time. Cholera was raging when I arrived. Bangkok has three large cinematographs, and they are all colning money. It is a good circus town. I played Bangkok for six weeks with my own circus fourteen years ago, to big business. I also made an ascension with my big balloon before the king fourteen years ago, and I landed in the harem. As the cholera was so bad this time, I concluded to go on to Hong Kong, and return later. I sailed for Hong Kong on a N. D. L. steamer on May 2, arriving in Hong Kong on May 9. From Hong Kong I went to Formosa, and had a look around the capital. Tarwan is a city of 30,000 inhabitants, and it is fine place, but not a good show town. From Formosa, I went to Yokohama, Japan, where I remained until September 27. I sailed on that date for San Francisco, on the Pacific mail steamer, Mongolia. I arrived in San Francisco on October 16, and was giad to get back to God's country.

In every country that I visited, I did my best to boost old Blily Boy. This last trip to the Orient was my tenth, and I expect to return again in the near future.

Yours truly, CAPTAIN J. W. PRICE.

The Amusement Week in Chicago

THE NIGGER AT MeVICKER'S.

THE NIGGER AT McVICKER'S.

Chicago, Dec. 1 (Special to The Billboard).—
This is the second week of Edward Sheldon's The Nigger, at McVicker's Thestre. In their review of this production the critics had the following to say:

O. I. Hall of The Journat: "A well-made, deeply interesting play in which we are shown where the South draws the color line. Gny Bates Post's acting remains unchanged. It is a complete expression of a fine study of tharacter. Is instinct with feeling and hig with power."

The Chicago American: "The sudlence sank back into its seats at the end of the second net and gasped. Men of racial prejudice cursed beneath their breath; women's cheeks flamed red, then blanched. Then came the realization that in the hands of these players a brutal story told bruttshily had been lifted out of abyssmal depths of repugnant exposition of the naked animal in man in stand out at once as a triumph of dramatic art, and finally in the ultimate climax really to teach a lesson in the manlisess of man."

Frederic Hatton, of The Post:: "The essential melodramatic quality of the play was emphasized last night, however, and one saw more of the obvious then he did when the New Theastrep layers, who had had little of the indiscriminate applicates of the road, patched over the poorer spots by refusing to be drawn into undue emphasis of points and situations."

INFERIOR SEX AT. LYRIC.

INFERIOR SEX AT LYRIC.

INFERIOR SEX AT LYRIC.

Chicago, Dec. 1 (Special to The Billboard).

This is the second and last week of Maxine Edilott's appearance at the Lyric Theatre in The Inferior Sex. Following are remarks taken from the reviews of the critics:

Percy Hammond, of The Tribune: "Miss Edilott's new play is a somewhat vacuous tittle-entertainment, not, bowever, without its 'grain of observations,' dealing inconsequentially with the habit of misogyny. It is set in that comfortable environment of affinence in which Miss Edilott's most ornamental, and it permits her to revel extravagantly in the insistent melodies of gesture and diction which are such an important property of her acting manner."

Eric Delamarter, of The Inter-Ocean: "It has piquancy and sparkle: it has the benefit of novel locale—that of a yacht'e cabin and deck—and it is cursed with a flabby last act. Otherwise it enjoys. fair-to-middling health. It helps to pass two hours pleasantly, and it is perfectly proper."

O. L. Hall. of The Journall. The story there yell rold occasionally to the accompaniment of a -bit of 'excitement, but is as thin apons as the conversation of average mortals. Three-fourths of the entertainment is in the acting; one is rather liberal in giving the anthor a quarter of the credit."

James O'Dounell Bennett: "This lark abourd a yach' is a piceity thiospen trife with hardly material enough for more than a playlet, but Miss Maxine Elliott, who gets to be a better actrees every season, gives a charming performance in it, and the theater rippled with laughter almost all the evening."

CHICAGO'S . HOLDOVER . SHOWS.

Chicago, Nov. 30 (Special to The Billboard).—At the Grand Opera House, The City, with its efficient cast, continues to attract the many who have heard of this splendid play. The Committees at Powers' Theatre, is offering comedy, of a nature that is wholesome and enjoyed by all who visit this showhouse. Lower Berth 13 is making good at the Whitney Opera House, and is proclaimed by those who have seen it to be a worthy production, full in good songs and many laughs. The Spendibrift at the Chicago Opera House, with its combination of strong drama and good comedy, is entertaining the addences of this showhouse in a manner that a pleasing to them. There is no let-up in the popularity of The Sweetest Girl in Paris at the LaSalle Opera House. At the Garrick, The Chocoste Soldier is swaying its andlences to the rivthm of the beautiful music this production contains. The Deep Purple is in its tenth week at the Princess Theatre, and as big a drawing card as ever. Frank Daniels is convulsing his audiences as much as ever at the Studebaker in The Girl in the Train. His interpretation of a judge presiding at a divorce trial keeps his audiences in one continuous roar of laughter.

AT CHICAGO'S NEIGHBORING PLAYHOUSES.

Chicago, Dec. 3 (Special to The Billhoard).—The thriller at the Bijon this week is the stirring melodrama, The Great Jewei Mystery, while Sapho moves from the Bijon to the Criterion. The Smart Set is at the Globe, and The Patal Wedding is entertaining the patrons at Weber's. The Rosary is still entertaining Chicagoaus and this week is making its home at the Crown. A Winning Miss is the offering at the Haymarket, and The Smil Kiss moves from the Crown to the National. The Marie From the Crown to the National. The Marie week interpreting Hearts Desire, and the resident stock company at the Mariowe is offering The Lion and the Mouse. The New College Theatre Stock Company is offering Going Somwith Johnny Evers as the special feature.

CARRIE KING IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Dec. 2 (Special to The Biliboard).—Carrie King, who will class with any of them when it course to promoting a production, is in Chicago doing some great things for The Mayoress, which opened at the Colonia: on Sunday night, Dec. 4. The play, in a way, deals with the suffragerite question and one of her stunts was to distribute handsonely engraved cards amount the suffrageties who attended the Land Show which was held at the Coliseum.

Incidentally Mrs. King, tella a good story about Siles May DeSonsa, who is appearing in The Mayoress. Miss DeSonsa, it appears, bought a small-farm in Bockland County, New York. Being all wrapped up in her new venture, she decided that her friends should know how happy she was, so called up Enth Dinmick, of The Telegraph. The conversation that ensued was something like this:

"Hello, Ruth, did yon hear about the farm I bought. It's just the dearest, dumpling yon ever saw and I shall just revel in it. No, I shall not trouble New York much until regular rehearsals begin. I shall only run down to the Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday mathees, and once in awhile I shall stop over Sanday. It know that I am going to enjoy the country and I am going to attek close to it."

She undoubtedly forgot to add, Monday, Tuesday and Friday.

CHICAGO BURLESQUE.

Chicago, Dec. 3 (Special to The Billboard).— The Big Banner Show is the offering at the Star and Garter. The Lady Buccaneers are at the Folly and the Passing Parade is entertaining the patrons of the Empire. The Star and Gar-ter Show is at the Albambra.

AMERICAN LADIES BAND EN-LARGED.

Chicago, Dec. 2 (Special to The Billboard).—
The American Ladies Grand Concert Band, under the direction of Col. G. E. Skiff will be considerably augmented this season. It is the Colonel's intention to add to this already famous organisation, The Scotch Lassies Band and the Irisb Colleens and Irish Harp Players and Vocalists, together with opera singers. This will increase the band-to sixty people, each member an accomplished musician. A number of novelties of an original nature will be introduced. Numbers selected from the greatest masters and classical pleves will be readered as well as the best popular selections of the day. Miss Helen May Butler, who last season directed this organisation, will not be connected with it, but in her place is presiding Lora Antoinette Reifer, a young lady of great shillty

CHICAGO FILM NOTES.

Chicago, Dec. 2 (Special to The Billboard).—
Another film exchange has made its appearance in Chicago. It is known as the T. A. Mick Exchange and is conducted by Miss Mark, formerly of the Kileine Optical Co. Miss Mark is indeed well fitted for the work she has undertaken and the schooling she received whilsi with the Kleine people is now atanding her in good stead. Miss Mark is a husiness woman of ability possessed by few and it is evident from the outset with ambition such as she possesses that success must attend her.

Mr. Plough, of the Anti-Trust Film Service. Ms. Plough, of the Anti-Trust Film Service. has secured the Illinola and Wisconsin rights for the Boffalo Bill and Pawnec Bill Wild West and Far East Films. He classes it as one of the biggest feature films he has ever handled. The booklet recently issued by W. R. Rothacker of the fudustrial Moving Picture Company, has resulted in many landifies as in the nature of this firms proposition. Needless to say what the result will be. It is a case of a bird in the hand is worth two in the hash.

THE FASCINATING WIDOW AT THE COLONIAL.

Chicago, Dec. 3 (Special to The Biliboard).—
Julian Estinge, the famous creator of reminine characterizations, opened his three weeks Chicago engagement at the Illinois Theatre last Monday night, Dec. 5, in the new Hanerhach and Hoschna musical comedy. The Fascinating Willow. This play has to do with an athictic collège boy, who is in love with the daughter of the matron of the girls' section of the college. To win this young lady, he disguises binself as a widow in order to show up his rival in his true colors. This he does so well that the chap who is engaged in the girl throws her over and proposes to the widow. The company

BIG VAUDEVILLE ACT IN PREPA-RATION.

Chicago, Dec. 2 (Special to The Billboard),— L. Hirsch, who has offices in the Chicago Opera riouse Block, has an act in preparation that looks like a winner. It has an electric curtain and a see-saw effect, such as was used in A Kuight for a Day. Phil Coleman, the singer, who has an international reputation, will be a the head of the company. He will be assisted by six pretty girls, having exceptional voices and gorgeous costumes.

IMPERIAL STOCK COMPANY.

Chicago, Dec. 3 (Special to The Billboard),— Manager Frank Gaszolo, of the Imperial Theatre, Western avenue and Madison street, announces the following players for his new stock com-pany: Frederick Julian, Lee Elisworth, Ida Glenn, Harver Hays, and Louise Glaus. When the piny-house opens Christmas day, Miss Glenn will be seen in her original role of Mrs. Byder in The Lion and The Mouse.

GEORGE U. STEVENSON WITH PERCY WILLIAMS.

Chicago, Dec. 2 (Special to The Billboard).—George U. Stevenson, well known in Chicago as a writer of ability, is now associated with Percy Williams in the capacity of assistant press agent to Nellie Revell. It is evident that with this combination at the publicity helm Percy Williams' enterprises must be breaking into print in great shape.

SAID AND SEEN IN CHICAGO.

DUNROY WITH THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER.

Chicago, Dec. 2 (Special to The Billboard).—Will Reed Dunroy, who has been doing press work for the various theatres about Chicago, inow associated with the Chocolate Soldier Company playing at the Garrick Theatre in the capacity of press agent. He is also taking care of the publicity for Lower Berth Thirteen now current at the Whitney Opera House. Mr. Dunroy was not so long ago Assistant Sunday Editor of the Record-Hersid. His past work makes it evident that his efforts in behalf of the Chocolate Soldier Company will greatly benefit that production.

THE MAYORESS AT COLONIAL.

Chicago, Dec. 1 (Special to The Biliboard).—
On Sunday evening, Dec. 4. The Maynress opened at the Colonial Theatre. This musical comedy is the result of the efforts of John T. Hall, who composed the music, and Arthur Lamh, who wrote the book.

The play deals with the political situsilon of a New England city, in which the voters have elected a atrong-minded woman as Mayoress.
The Mayoress, of course-tries to live up to all the promises she has made her constituents, with the result that disaster soon threatens the town, and the men again come into their own.
The cast incudes, May DeSonsa, Lucille Sanndera, Edith Sincialt, Grace Leigh, May Bouton, Clandie Clarke, Edna Cunningham, Harry Renham, Edward Favor, Max Freeman, Frank Shea, Augustua Vaughn and Engene Savovard.

SALOME CALLED IMMORAL AND IS WITHDRAWN.

Chicago, Dec. 8 (Special to The Billboard).—
Salome has been withdrawn from the repertoirs of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, during their stay in this elty sad for the season at least. The opera proved offensive to certain ratrons of the Anditorium and they called Chief of Police Steward'a attention to it and he in turn forbid future performances of it, it was claimed that the dance of the Seven Vells enacted by Mary Garnien was immoral.
This, however, has not cast any reflections on the company and their future endeavora. They still enjoy the same prosperity of the first weeks of their stay here.

TWO MEN AND A GIRL AT CORT.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

Chicago, Dec. 3 (Special to The Billboard).—
It is obviously the intention of Manager Glover, at the Majestic Theatre, Chicago, that not merely one or two acts in the hill shall be exceptional and entertaining, but that all the bookings shall represent the highest possible range of available taient and skill. Thus, for the week of Dec. 4, there is a solid array of high-class artists, be

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL

Chicago, Dec. 3 (Special to The Biliboard),— Owing to the tremendously successful enthusiasm evoked by the anniversary hill of twenty-two acts, William Morris, ine., announces that the policy of twenty-two giars on each hill will be continued indefinitely, in order to substan-tiate Mr. Morris' intention of keeping the atandard of his programs at the bighest, deeplie expense, he announces for next week a hill of Ring's latest success. Tell it to Sweeney, in his latest song, It Wasn't What I Thought It Was, At All, was good.

Metzetti Troupe, prohably the greatest of acrohatic and tumbling acts on the American atage, were certainly deserving of the closing position on the All-star hill. The feats performed by these people are indeed too dangerous, as it might mean the loss of a life at any performance.

Tudor Cameron and Panels Cartesian.

Jack Ark, the world's champlon of diabolo, was good. This is a novelty set and takes well.

Tudor Cameron and Bonnie Gaylord, in a comedy sketch, entitled On and Off the Stage, with their own settings, are comedians of exceptional character. Cameron is nee at the theatre this season.

Count de Beanfort, who was held over for the second week, attil coutines to draw the crowds, and is the great box-office number. He still continues to tell what he pleases about himself and gets away with it. The Count has learned, a new dance for his first song.

The Zigeuner Quartette, who are Europe's celebraied musicians, gave the andience about eighteen minutes of high-ctass music, which was beantiful. This act is a riot.

Joe Welch, in A Study of Life, in his Jewish sayings, was immense. Those who have seen Joe Welch at past performances, need an introduction to his class of work.

Mison and Bart, who are probably the greatest, bar artists on the Morris time, perform some marvelous feats.

The Bitss Trio, dainty dancers, were good.

Austin Brothers, eccentric comedians, were also pleasing.

Dave Nolin, who does a singing and talking act, gives imitations of an elevator, a burlesque on grand opers in four octaves, and a dog and cat fight, was excellent.

Chicago, Dec. 3 (Special to The Billboard),— Such an aggregation of high-class acts has not been seen heretofore at the Trevett this sea-son. Adair and Dahn, noveity tight-wire artists, who opened the hill, are indeed artists of elever merit. This act creates entities and ascess that it was.

Adair and Henney, in Classical Tomfoolery, have an act that would go much better should they put in more substantial matter. However, the one number in their act, entitled When the Right Girl Comes Along, was rendered in great, atyle.

Ed. Pierce and Marie Roslyn, The Operation of the Comes and Emity Darreil, in their own original idea, entitled Scene Seen Behind the Scenes. This is one of the most novel and herrosing acts aren on the Western Circuit this season. Delmore and Darrell are certainly entertaining and pleased the andlence.

Violant, who rendered a few selections on the violin, was excellent.

Torcat, the great French comedian, assisted by Mile. Flor d' Aliza, presenting the only troupe of trained game roosters in the world, was interesting.

trained game roosters in the world, was interesting.

The Four Piccolo Midgets, the smallest comedians in the world, presenting some new and unattempted feats in the acrobatic circle, were clever.

Emile Bubers, one of the Georgia Minstreta, in songs and sayinga, was the bit of the bit. He had the andience in fits of langhter during his eleven minutes on the stage.

Bose Kavelle, who sang Love Dreams, and Winter, has a beautiful voice but is a little bit ginning with the famous and beautifut young English actress. Fannle Ward, who will play a bright comedy. An Liniucky Star, which is additionally fitted to ber conspicuous taients. Miss Ward played for a year and a half in one play ward played for a year and a half in one play ward played for a year and a half in one play at a London theatre, and ber beauty and grace became. Hierally the tonat of the rown. With this new play she has been a decided success in vandeville, taking ber place among the important dramatic stars who have gained recognition in this difficuit field.

Aside from Miss Ward, the hill includes the Four Fords—brothers and alsters—who are noted as the wreatest clog and fancy atcy discrets the world. Eyan and Richfield, who rank as the best of trieb stars, will play one of their convolution, farces, which is always certain to liven up any program. Frank Tinney, the eccuritie councilian, whose novel comedy has carried him into the front rank within the past two years, is another welcome favorite, who always leaves the audience asking for more, and College Life. a hreesy music-taden playiet, with a lively-aniversity ione, will be another appetizing feature. The Three California Girls, charming dispensare of popular music, and the Rig City Four, one of othe beat of male quartets, will provide an attractive musical interfude, and Lillian Ashtev, the lively shuring comedience, will be another favorite on this remarkable hit. One of the favorite of the American stage, An nette K-tilermann, the perfect woman and sensational swimmer, will come to the Majestic Dec. 12.

prised, the European presidigitateur, is a marician with a few clever tricks, but talks too much. Should be eliminate his speech, the act would go much better.

Slegic and Mathewa, comedy musicians, were exceptionally good, but were placed too early on the hilt.

Miss Elsie Faye, Mr. Joe Miller and Mr. Sam Weston, in The Act Dainty, presenting songs, extraordinary investment, including the following notables: Grace La Rue, the sensational American musical comedy air, recently at the bead of Madam Troubedour, and Molly May: Hilda Spong, the famous dramaile air, and a carefully selected commany presented by Arnold Daly, in Bridge, Mr. Daly's vivid one-act play: Invey and Fony Monce, Eilla tsland, with Joe Welch, and a company of fifty people; Carimet's and Harris, Garcia, Conneily Sisters, Harry Joi son, Dora Martini, Zigeuner Quartette, and others of note, making up a full array of twenty-two acts.

The Anniversary Week at the American Music Hall was indeed one of the largest weeks Colonel Thompson has had aloce the opening of this beautiful vandeville house. With twenty-two allestar acts, the entertainment lasting from 1:30 to 5:30, and from 7:30 to the midnight hour, we are not surprised at having seen the sign "Sold Out" in front of the theatre at every performance.

sign "Sold Ont" in front of the theatre at every performance.

William Van Allen, musicat comedian, who opened the bill, was excellent.
Charlee King, illustrated songs, was in the class with Van Allen.
Kara, the greatest of modern juggiers, who was the fourth on the bill, was reviewed test week. We cannot understand why this wondernit juggier, was nisced so early on the program. It must have been to inspire cuthusiasm, Clayton Kennedy and Mattle Rooney, in the eccentric comedy, entitled The Happy Medium, and Foster and Foster, in music, mirth and song, were good.

Builty Dillon, the man with a thousand songs, and the anthor of Keep Your Foot on the Soft, Soft Pedai, Hyp-hyp-hypnotise Me, and Blanche La Pelite Mignon, who impersonated Marie Dressler. George Cohan and a few other celebrities, was excellent.

The whole sill was one of merit, and one that was enjoyed by everyone who witnessed it.
With one or two dramatic aktebea added to thia marreiona bill, a little of the comedy would be suppressed; which might be better.
Colonet William A. Thompson informs the Chicago public that he will continue this twenty-two-act all-star bill until further notice, as the public want it, and he is there to see that the public get it.

· MURPHY'S NEW PLAY.

Columbus, O., Dec. 3 (Special to The Bill-board.)—Last night at the Colonial Theatre, marked the premiere of Tim Murphy's new play, Judge Barmelee, written by F. E. Dumm, a local playwright. The play is in three acts, and deals with the widely discussed local-option constitute.

Jadge Barmelee, written by F. E. Dumm, a local playwright. The play is in three acts, and deals with the widely discussed local-option question.

The first act is the best of the three. It develops the alimation of a family ruled by a tyrannical wife, who is so absorbed in the cause of temperance that she is allowing her own household to run to ruin. Mr. Murphy has the part of the weak and henpecked hunshand, a character which he makes both hunsorous and pathetic. The main idea of the play is expressed in the following speech:

"Too frequently out of the so-called model home come both the cause of reform and the reformer."

The play was greeted by a large audience. The company received several curtain calls at the end of the third act, and Mr. Murphy was called upon for a speech, which he gave in a very captivating manner. Mr. Dumm was called for, but, unfortunately, was compelled to leave during the first act on account of illness. The following is the east:

The box of the machine is made of mission oak and bolds two reels of 5,000 tickets each, two price tickets if necessary and of any size and make. It can be placed in any box-office easily. When a person calls for a ticket, the operator turns a crank, a ticket shoots from the side, which the operator does not touch, and at the same time a bell rings and an automatic register records the number sold. This does away with the chance of the operator selling tickets twice. As the register is locked, the manager earrying the key, the operator has no means of knowing how many tickets have been sold. The greatest feature of this invention is its accuracy. Many of the largest amusement parks in this country have already placed large orders for these machines. NEW THEATRE IN BEAUFORT.

He has taken special interest in the Hospital for Crippled Children and the limates have often been his guests at the Maryland Theatre. The homa for these crippled children is et present located on North Charles atreet and Mr. Kernan has arranged with Canghy, Hearn and Carter, local real estate agenta, to purchase a large tract of ground in Walbrook and to erect a handsome and commodious bone for the children in the anburbs. The land includes sixty acres, which cost Mr. Kernan $50,000. On this land Mr. Kernan will erect modern buildings of the latest approved type. Mr. Kernan is one of the most prominent and tuffocutial men in Baltimore and ha is known as one of the most charitable citisens. His generosity is unbounded and he has shown a halping hand in a thousand ways. His donations to hospitals are very large. It is expected to have it completed by the spring of 1912. Mr. Kernan will make a further announcement regarding the details of his plans.

MARION ENJOYS THANKSGIVING

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Nov. 25.—Even Geo. L. Marion. the convicted 'theatrical agent, was happy Thanksgiving Day. He was thankful to know that many of his own profession, located in various parts of this country and as far as New Mexico, are still his friends. Their friendship was fittingly displayed when John D. Shea, provider for liotel liart, was unbered into his cell at the county jail, and presented him with an elaborate Thanksgiving dinner, or, as Marion expressed it, "a dinner fit for the goda."... The dinner was sent to Marion through funds forwarded to Mr. Ehea by actors. One subscription was received from E. C. Filkins, manager of Richarda end Pringle'a Minstrels, now playing in Raton, New Mexico.

When Mr. Shea was abown lato Marion's cell hy tha keeper, and the actor told that this Thanksgiving dinner had arrived, Marion arose from his cot and threw his arms about the hotel man's neck and said, "I knew my friends would remember me." The ector agent gladdened the hearta of many of the prisoners by sharing his dinner with them, as no special dinner was served at the prison. Marion also received some good cigars.

THE CALL OF THE FOOTLIGHTS.

(A Schoolboy's Meditetion.)
Oh, gee, I wisht that I was on the stage, a real live actor man; I'd give a lot if I could stand behind those white tiu-sheltered lights and hand out: Grecian wisdom of a Shake-speare sage, like Bob Mantell or Sothern. Or clse, if I was but the leading man to that there Ethel Barrymore and ran and rescued her from some mad, treacherous fats, I'd be well on toward Ethopia's gate. If I could go, myself the star, behind the scenes until my cue was ripe,

He will be with the Young Buffalo Wild Weet and there in those mysterious wings, with pipe, just know that out in front the people paid to see me act—if I could look just once outside above the dazzling door, end watch the night unturi the 'lectric lighted letters of my name! Ah, then from my leaping breast each antilled, cherished hope I'd hurl, and live content in such cherished hope I'd hurl, and live content in such histrionic fame.

ORDINANCE AGAINST SPECULA-

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 3 (Special to The Biliboard),—Ticket apeculation alleged to have run its course during the sale for Ben Hur last week has led to the probability of the passage of an ordinance which was to-day brought to the attention of city council by the manager of the local theatre himself.

Ben Hur appeared here last week undee direction of Klaw & Erianger. There were due performances at the Columbia Theatre and a full house greeted them all. The tickets were put on sale at 7 o'clock in the morning, uumbers having been given out at 3:30 in the morning of the sale.

There were some criticisms because large blocks of the tickets were bought in hy pengle purchasing for special parties. One town it the Stata sent a man over who bought 125 and some of the other towns bought large lots of tickets. This naturally led to some speculation ideas and during the closing day or two of the sale some tickets were beld by those who had bought them for higher prices.

Manager Brown, of the Columbia Thestre, did all in his power to have the sale of tickels go smoothly but he could not prevent speculation. He has suggested as a remedy in futurences the passage of the ordinance which provides that any person found guilty of ticket speculation shall be liable to a fine of $40 or imprisoned for thirty days.

Minneapolia, Minn., Dec. 1--(Special to The Rillboard).--Larry Lund, owner and operator of the Isla, Novelty and other moving picture theatres, narrowly escaped serious injury when he ran his automobile into a atone curbing to avoid striking a motorcyclist who attempted to cross directly in front of the mechine. Mr. Lund was shaken up but suffered no serious bruises; Manager Jack Schmidt, of the Scenie Theatre, who was with Mr. Lund, apraised his limb while jamping from the auto. The machine was hadly damaged.

COL. SEAVER'S PLANS.

COL. SEAVER'S PLANS.

Young Buffalo's Wild West Show will heve as a feature among a quartet of sharpshooting experts, next season, the renowned wing and rifeshot, Annie Oakley, whose fame as the greatest woman abot in the world is known in all civilised countries. The contracts for the season of 1911 have just been closed by Vermon C. Seavee, with the intention, it is asnounced, of making his abow one of the higgest and best wild west abows on the road next season.

The other stars of this remarkable quartet of grm experts are: Curtis Liston, the champion rific shot of America; Captain Bogardis, for quarter of e century the peer of all shot-grm artists, and Captain O. D. Stevens, another luminary in the galaxy of target experts.

The foregoing feature performers are said to be only a few emong many headliners Mr. Seaver will have with his show next season. These four names in themselves, however, should prove a great attraction as their fame is widely known.

Miss Oakley's reputation was gained by such exploits as hitting 1,016 small discs throws into the air is succession, without a single miss. The discs were little more than an lach in diameter. Another feat of the wonderful markswoman was to puncture the ace on a playing card 25 times in 27 seconds, at a distance of twelve yards.

Curtis Liston is the official champion rifle shot of America, he having won the champion rifle shot of America, he having won the champion rifle shot of America, he having won the champion rifle shot of America, he having won the champion rifle shot of America, he having won the champion rifle shot of America, he having won the champion rifle shot of America, he having won the champion rifle show in the spectators.

Curtis Liston is the official champion rifle show in the spectators.

Fifth Avenue, In One; Full Stage; In J. The Lorch Family, Risley Act. Colonial, Full Stage.

This is the special Christmas Number of Old Billybuy, and only an All-star collection of apperlative acts could properly grace its columns. Above is this week's selection of mighty acts, all top-notchers in their respective departments. Of course, Gertrude Hoffman lands feature position and affords a very fitting headiner for this big special issue. Surely no one doubts her drawing power—all know her ability, concede her superisrity and willingly assign the hig place he superisrity and willingly assign the hig place he its proper owner. Her review was so long, so hig and withal, so meritorious, that she occupies positions G. and H. Clarice Mayne and Juliet (?) were rivals, but not strong enough to reader the -artistic-dancer's position disputable. Another, act that deserves its position because of superior merit is that of Tom Terriss and Company in his adaptation of Charles Dickers A Christmas Carol. The book its-it is a literary achievement and the character of Ebeneral Scrooge requires a most potent artist to maintain the same standard of the production is acting as it enjoys in literature. The charming sketch is thoroughly handled and could be ver for a minute be denied the final position before intermission. Cliff Gordon, the coule philosophical German Senator, who is so worried about what may transpire in the future: the Larch Family, excellent risley artists, and the Bellectaire, Brothers, acrobata, fit very appropriately into their respective places.

Hawtherse and Burt as well as Claude and Famile Usher, had much competition including Chas, Birelow and Missie Hajos, Mabel Fenton and Charles Boss, Bert Kalmar and numerous others, but are both big enough to hold their own on his stellar bill. Acts suitable for second place were lacking in this week's offerings. The struggle lie between Perry and Keston, banjoists, Ed. Foster and Dog, and one or two others. However, Foster's canine is so clever and so well trained that it has a right to its seat in Station E.

Any theatre, regardless of its location, woul

New York, Dec. 3 (Special to The Billboard.)

From Percy Williams' house, the All-atar bill claims the following acts: Lorch Panily, acrobata: and Albert F. Hawthorne and Prank A. Burt. In their offering. The New Recruit, which claims much of its value through the clever comedy accomplished by Frank A. Burt. His accentric dance was a small riot—be is certainly supple. Clarice Mayne n cessarily occupies as important position—the English singing comedian is are at—o la ber planist, who most assuredly should have his name on the program. Ha is half the act and by far one of the most clever performers at the plano to-day. Tate's Mutocing, previously reviewed, was (here—also Bobby Pander and brother. Bert Kalmar and Jessie Brown were on Iroadway for the first time his assoon. They have put in a fine ending by dancing out as well as ainging, That's Right, No, That's Wrong, Julius Steger and Company in The Way to the Heart, went deservedly big. This is one of Steger's last performances, before entering the legitimate field. Inge and Farrell, alogers and dancers, pleased mightily with their clever work—their act is good. Al. Rayno's Rull Terriers, who reproduce the Yale-Hayvard 0 to 0 football game, opened the show. The dogs are good, but one is particularly head and shoulders above the rest and thereby makes the others unffer in comparison. This clever canine accomplished a series of backward somerasults nothing short of marvelous.

The Whole bill was due and well arranged.

THE AMERICAN BILL

New York, Dec. 3 (Special to The Billboard.)

A long show, interspersed with some very strong acts, entertained the audiences of the Morris house last week. To begin with, several acts: clinehod their places on the All-star bill and therefore need no further discussion. These were Cilf. Gordon, the German senator; Tom Terrisa and Company in his adoptation of Dicken's A Christman Carol, and Ed. Foster and Dog. Several acts offered very close competition to those who are occupying All-star positions. These were La Freya previously written up. Ches. A Bigslow and Mirst Hajos in The Geri and the Guy, very cleverly portrayed by the Envirten Ross and Fentou in Just Like a Wessen, well up to the two stars ability, and Fred Karne's Co., in A Night in an English Hasis Hall, too well-known for further mention. Percy and Keston, beniglists, Harold. a highlip-inlevited violinist, and Joste and Willie Earthers boom up as worthy acts, not quite the englate of the afore-mentioned. Juliet (7), of course, is worth separate, mention. She is a building, in need of pungency: May Ward, very good; convincing as the "wop peddler"; Pullman Porter Maidz, good: while Ned Navion Porter Maidz, good: while Ned Navion stands cort as the one good feature especially the issue, Bellere Ma; Fields and Coca, good; in his song, Bellere Ma; Fields and Coca, good;

Brothers Carpatti, good in their acrobatic line, but off on the comedy; Ed. Estus, head juggler and gymnasts, good; and Loretta Boyd, a song alide singer, passable. Altogether, however, the hill was very good.

KEITH & PROCTOR ENCOUNTER

New York, Dec. 3 (Special to The Biliboard).

—The fiva New York Keith and Proctor houses were without their accustomed stage hands, who walked out on a strike for union wages, and threatened to remain idle unless their demands were respected. The stage employees at these theatres have not been members of the Stage Hands' Union, although union members had been trying to talk them into their fold for some time. It was not until Monday morning, Nov. 28, however, that their persuasion showed results. The trouble has been traced to the Fifth Avenue Theatre, where Manager McCune asked his stage manager, Wm. Myers, to order his cles for those of vandeville. The doo occupied important roles in the Sam T. Jack abow.

Sidney Grant bids adieu to vandeville for a role in the Madame Sherry road company for Woods, Frazee and Lederer. Grant made much of his reputation as Chautecler in the Barayard Romeo. Anna Tasker, May Onive. Lottle Kendell, Anna Boyd, Dallas Welford and William Cameron also have engagements with the same company.

Cameron also have engagements with the same company.

New York giadly receives Ruth St. Denis into its midst. The exponent of classic grace began Monday, Dec. 5.

Three new acts of the larger proportions made their entry to New York last week, and seemed to receiva the indorsement of the managers—The Fonda Troupe, Mason and Murray and Chas. P. Moore and Helen Starr, in a pisylet. The Serifice, which deals with the morphine question.

Chas. Bigelow enters vanderille under Wm. Morris in a characteristic monologue, while Robert T. Hainen will tour under the United Banner in a sketch entitled, Derelicts. Who is next?

Mr. Dean was former junior partner in the theatrical firm of Harris. Britton and Dean, trolling a circuit of theatres in the principal cities, but for the just six years on the executive of David Belasco. This season Mr. Dean represents Mr. Relasco on tour with Frances Starr's (pany in Engene Waiter's play, The Easiest Way.

men down early Monday A. M., to erect the hig acenery for Gertrude Hoffmann's review, which having been lost in transit, had not appeared until the early hours of Monday. But the men did not return, and Mr. McCune found, npon his arrival Monday, that a general walkout had been declared, for the other Kelth and Proctor managers also proved to be without the services of their regular help also. The situation required prompt action, which was immediately given, as each of the five 'managers' donned working clothes, and with the assistance of doorman, ushers and helpers from the booking offices, soon had all in readiness for Monday's matinee, which went off on schedule time, and with well regulated stage manipulation. By the time the matine had expired, men to take care of the stage requirements had been secured, and things began to progress with their usual smoothness.

Although, much annoyed, the different managers found the incident amusing to think back upon. Outside of Manager Bock, of the Fourteenth Street Bijou Dream, all were more or less green at their stage duties, but as Manager Schumann, of the Twenty-third Street house expressed it. they left us their lobe, and we soon found how well we could do them.

where he is immediately discovered and where the young woman guest promptly falls in love with him.

In one of the chapters of his book, the writer has described a daring flight by night over Long Island, and a facetious friend who has accompanied him, circulates the rumor that it was the "book man's" personal experience, so that besides being the author of the year's "best seller" he is halled as a hero of the air. This adds spice to the situation and the hero is having a fine time describing his imaginary air journey, when along comes a genuine avairate from France equipped with two aeroplanes, and the sporting his odd of the male guests of the resort having been aroused by the "book aviator's" vivid rectilat of his mythical conquests of the air, they propose a race in the stone to settle their supremacy.

The Frenchman agrees and proffers the loan of one of his aeroplanes to his rival and the sathor, who has persistently recited his visionary trip into the misty to the bewildered guests, is induced, much against his will, to enter the second control meaning this will, to enter these which be wins, to the great surprise of the meddlesome friend whose atory invelgied him into the life-risking venture and his own devout the kindness for the successful termination.

New York, Nov. 20 (Special to The Billhoard.)
—In writing of Mrs. Lesile Carter's new play, Two Women, which opened in New York, Nov.
29, the New York World has the following:

"Mrs. Lesile Carter began ber season of emotional pyrotechnics at the Lyric Theatre, Tresday night, in Two Women, a play hy Rupert Hughes, who acknowledges that it is an adaptation of The Statue of Flesh, an Italian drama by T. Cicconi. His admission, while in keepfing with literary integrity, seemed almost superflows. It was only too apparent that the feweriah trades which crowned each of the five acts could hever have been written by an seperious. It was only too apparent that the feverish tirades which crowned each of the five acts could never have been written by an American.

"Of course, the ptayhouse was crowded. Of course, the audience roared with delight when firs. Carter—may her lung power never grow less—began to set off the sky rockets, roman candles and pin wheels of her passion. Of course, too, it was all theatrically effective and at the same time as untrue to reasonable plausibility as any etage performance could possibly be. A few thomsand people who will split their glores applauding during the next six weeks will disagree with this statement, but it is true, nevertheless. Such is the tribute that lungs and tingo always win from the crowd.

"The parentage of this eld-fashioned melodrama of perfervid emotions is not difficult to trace. Even if it were written hut yesterday it beloegs to the vintage of the middle sixtles. Dumas must have been its grandfather, and Camille, Froe-Fron and all the rest are its litthe hrothers and sisters. The model on which it is built is so rigid and the mould in which it is built is so rigid and the mould in which it is built is so rigid and the mould in which it is built is so rigid and the mould in which it is built is so rigid and the mould in which the characters are cast is so conventional that every experienced playsoer knows them by heart. "There was the modest, vine-clad cottage to which Comite Remy da Margyl took Jesnnette Moreau—note the names—after she had dragged him from the gutter. There they billed and cooed whila she did the family sewing and he painted pictures of her lovely face. There, too, Jesnnette died. As dissonition came after her ten minutes' harangue to the empty air it must be inferred that she talked herself to death.

"In plays like this the second act must provide a contrasting scene. So it pictures the Bal Tabarin, with its half-clad women of the deminonad and their drunken and paretic appendages in high revel. And here Comite Remy de Margyl meets the villest of its ha but a moment for him to engage her to go to the country to ait as a model for the portrait of his dead wife.

"Back to De Margyl's cottage we go in the third act. Jeannine, tike Camille, is now re-formed. She talks only of chickens and cows and milk. Bet De Margyl is blind to ber pure and ardent passion. So once more to the giltter and profanity of the Bal Tabarin she goes in the pext act.

war. Virtue wins and she drives Pascal out into the night. Then the contrite DeMargyl appears. She receives him coldly. He embraces her. At the next moment they have sworn their eternal devotion. Bet enjly for a moment. Back comes the Marquis to taunt his rival and expose his old mistress in all her perfiddion treachery. There is the expected hlow, the invitable challenge and out into the world ferformly strides the embittered Comte.

"This writer did not see the final act, but he will wager his reserved seat coupons against a last year's door-check that the dnel is fonght, the Comte is wounded end is nursed back to health and happiness by Jeannine in time for the final curtain.

"This grand old fustian was moented at the Lyric with great prodigality. Mrs. Carter's rapid-fire elecution was in good order. Her soos, smilles, gurgitations, moans and shrieks were let off at exactly the right mements. But one-thing was lacking. May we be so unkind as to, auggest that hirs. Carter no-lenger conveys the filusion of a frolicsome, youthful ballet dancer? The flerce white light which heats upon an emotional star is apt' to expose the secrets of the make-up table. We have not one word to say against hirs. Carter'a lung power, however.

"Altheogh there were fifty in the company, only three or four characters were important.

of the hest of the Collieriums develop. It matters not that the end is no atronger than it should be. Fercival returning to civilization a fabbloosly rich young man, who liquidates his accounts with his fether and marries the girl of his choice. The preceding acts bave served to show William le all his amusing sides: the audience has had the fill of laughter, and the Collier family collectively has reasonable assurace of a comfortable living for some time to come.

And William la not the only funny Collier in this laeghable family reunion. His sister now end then gets an opportunity to prove that the Collier wit is a family helpoom, and even William Junior manifests a bright and happy side as the little bandit who is saving money to go East as far as Cincionati and Cleveland. So, therefore, while we man not look too impertinently into the laws of cause and effect to fied a reason why people laugh at hi comedy, the fact that they do must plead for its popularity.

A. DARING PERCH ACT.

New York, Dec. 8 (Special to The Billboard.)

—The Royal Tokyo Japanese Troupe, now playing United time, have recently invented one of the most difficult tricks ever performed by an acrobatic troupe. It is easiled a perch act. The Japanese understander raises a long pole on his aboulder. Attached to the top of this pole about thirty feet from the ground is a horisontat har. Two Japanese hoya are sent to the top of this and go through the regular acrobatic evolutions on this pole. Those who have witnessed the act may it is the most daring perch stant ever attempted. There are nine performers in the troupe which is eeder the management of Arthur W. Tada.

HENRY OF NAVARRE.

New York, Dec. 3 (Special to The Biliboard.)

Julia Nelison and Fred Terry, the London favorites, changed their bill November 23, to Henry of Navarre, at the Knickerbocker. The play is from the pen of William Devereaux.

The subject deals with the conspiracy that makers in the historical massacre of Bartholomew and the coming to Paris of Henry to woo Marguerite de Velois, sister of Charles IX, and daghter of Catherine de Medici.

One exciting episode follows another and the whole piece is as theatrically effective as a piece can possibly be that is designed to appeal on senastional premises. History has been conveniently ignored where it threatened to interfere with this atriving for effect, but Marguerite's character as a loving bride is beautifully maintained. (Continued on page 64.)

TWO WOMEN.

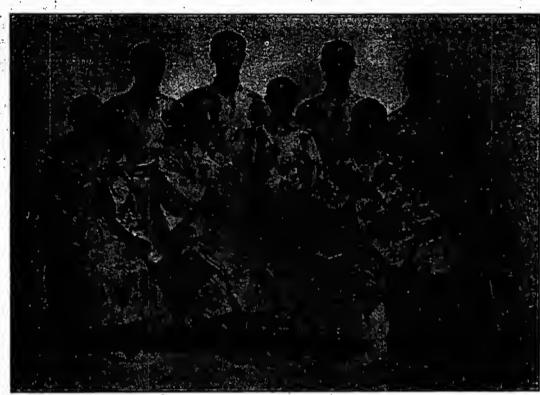

Naw York Dec. 3 (Special to The Billboard).—Mrs. Lealle Carter came in for on oration from the largest audleace of the season when they greeted her at the Lyric last Monday evening in Twe Women. a play adapted by Enpert Hughes from the Italian of T. Cicconi. The audleace greeted her with storms of applause, and called her out again and again after the fourth act, even compelling her to make a speech. The production is generally regarded as itvaling anything abe ever appeared in under Belssco. Strange to relate, there is a atrong party in New York that is anxious for Mrs. Carter "to come hack" and show her former manager a thing or two. This party always gathers in full ferce to damonstrate it appreciation of her art and to encourage her to continue the fight for independent recognition. This party la probably strong enough to fill the theater for several weeks, and, as her engagement is specifically limited to six weeks, the Titlan-haired actress will go on tour with no cases to complain of her support in Gotham. Besidea, to the average playgoer Two Women la a dram that peculiarly answers his demand for atreneous histrionic and besetiful mountings.

Music and the Profession

A MID-SEASON REVIEW OF THE MUSIC PUBLISHING BUSI-NESS OF NEW YORK.

With a Backward Glance at the Score:

By FRITZ THAYER.

With the hoe and cry, since the past election, from 'all parts of the country regarding the general slump, in business, it seems that there is one line in particular which has not felt a jar—music publishing.

Taking into consideration the ups-and-downs and the immense growth in this business in New York in the past few years, the output and demand for oew material seems to grow, instead of diminiah, daily. And from a general canvass among the music men in the Metropolia, they are one and all of the same tenor in voicing "that the present year is the music men in the output in the nation," In the output in the hardory of the music publishing business."

On the oher hand, with the great department storts throughout the country, the fiva and ten-cent atores, and the army of small cutrate music stores seiling even the high priced music, which only a few years ago brought fortry and fifty cents a copy, now running bargain sales at five, eight and ten cents, the outsilon arises, is there still as much movey for the action and publisher as under the oil regime? The answer is proved to be yes on a "writer of a popular "bit" received five cents worship per copy, he now receives only one-cent per copy, he ontwo receives only one-cent per copy, he ontwo receives only one-cent per copy, the ontput and demand has so increased that at the present day his royalities are greater than when music sold at the higher sate and his royalities were larger.

About seven years ago, when the department stores first took up music on the cut-rate heals, they attack in the first hig music war, they dropped the price to ten cents a copy, and although this was only two cents below music stores first took up music on the cut-rate heals, they attack he part the sum of the properties of the price to ten cents a copy in thousand lots. This is just an instance going to almow how ait the later on, during the first hig music war, they dropped the price to ten cents a copy income and the price to the contract of the price of the sum of the price of

HOW TO FIND THE SOUL OF YOUR VOICE.

By MISS LEONA WATSON.

EVERY voice has its Soul, of that I am positive, but it takes years and years for one to find that Soul and to bring it to life. In other words it means the hard work of cultivation. I have a treatise on the voice that I believe will awaken you to the realization this than a Soul that is merely passive and awaiting the proper means of hringing it to life. The qualities a tone must have to give satisfaction are:

I—Metallie.

2—Clear (of the right height).

—Metallie.

—Clear (of the right height).

—Strong and full.

—Firm, not trembling.

4—Firm. not trembling.
5—Durable.
Let us enter more closely into the promises which cause these qualities.
A strong, healthy chest and good respirator and vocal organs must be named as the first condition for the production of tones; without these a good tone is impossible, although it is not thereby said that these qualities alone will cause a good sound to be produced.
The quality of the mucous membrane coverlog the vocal chords as well as the power of vibration of the vocal chords themselves, the width of the fauces and the oral cavity, thr amount of air the cose is able to bold, as well as the laryax, the thickness of the soft palate with the urus and of the tonsils, greatly induced the tones. All of there may be inmenced to advantage. The sooner this is done, the more advantageous it will be.

We know that the lone, produced in the largus only reaches its variety in timbre. Its fulness, its roundness, and altogether, its beauty. In the resonanter. We said herelo, but only becorrect use of the resonator, "Can the resonator," I in the resonator. We said herelo, but only becomect use of the resonator.

"Can the resonator be used incorrectly?" I have often been asked. Certainty! The resonators of artificial instruments cannot be osed locorrectly, for they cannot be changed; but the resonator of the homan voice and vocal organs, is capable of great changes—changes which are cansed on one hand by speech on the other by incorrect use of the organs at and in the resonator to which line and tongue, teeth, soft palate and rousils belong.

In order to use these organs correctly, it increasing that we should attain a complete mastery over them by means of grammastics, and know how they should be used. In this mastery great results can be obtained if we have the will to obtain them.

The metal and elegences of a tona dependa opon the condition of the uncous membrane covthat are harely touched by celebrated opera-lingers. This is due to by system of traching. And if you will follow by instructions herein yoo, tou, will find the Soul of Your Voice.

RUSSIAN BALALAIKA ORCHESTRA CHARMS NEW YORKERS.

The past week, New York beard something bried new in orchestral concerts during the visit of the Imperial Russian Court Balaisita Urchestra, which made its first aspiratnore in the hig Metropolia at Carnegle Hail. The programme consisted majory of quaiot Russian folk source, chantols that the boarmen alog on the Volga; twilight seage, delicate and soft.

All the instruments used by the Raislaka orchestra, with the exception of two delcimera, are curious three-stringed instruments, not unlike mandeline, and have been perfected by W. W. Anireoff, the iradir of the orchestra, who has given twenty-two years to the work.

Between the orchestral numbers, Reta Fornia, of the Metropolitan Opera Home, favored with irlightful renderings of The Song of the Shepherd Lehl, and a vocal setting, by Mme. Viardot-Garcia, of a Chopin Maxurks.

The airrength of the tone may be increased if the chert and lungs are widened by means of deep breathing and gymnastic exercises. At these exercises also strengthen the organs of respiration, the evenness of the tone is also infinenced, as this depends upon the evenness will which the air is dispelled from the lungs.

The power of duration of a tone depends upon the attength of the muscles of the larynx, and can be attained only if these paris are nourished by animal food and by a gradual heightening in singing, but never without allowing the necessary rest to follow.

This is the case not only with the singer, hol also with the orator as well.

also with the orator as well.

Before the muscles of the vocal organs have attained the necessary atrength, the voice will always more or less vary from the correct pitch, as well as tremble. This will also be the case of poor musical hearing and of poor methods of teaching. Strengthening of the voice, cultivation of the hearing, and correct method of teaching are the chief conditions for the prevention of singleg out of tone.

Burlesque and Burlesquers

THE WORLD OF BURLESQUE.

By SYDNEY WIRE.

The onward march of improvement in the quality and standard of the burlesqua attractions goes steadily forward, and the guiding spirits of both wheels seem to be aver attriving to modify and improva conditions in every department of the business. One of the most important questions to which all too little attention is given, is the problem of atage management, and a betterment of the present axisting conditions will be warmly walcomed by all who are watching developments in his sow popular form of antertainment. Under the present system that general run of shows on both wheels are relying npon the efforts of one of the performers, usually the principal comedian. For their atage management, and the results are in many cases most unsatisfactory. A principal with any kind of a gart, has all he can do to attend to his cues, and in making his changes, so that he is quitamable to give proper attends to the master the proper attends to be a green attend to the company of the stage, and an attend to give proper attends to the company of the stage, and an election of the stage, and an election of the stage, and the battle, and it matten that he work is earliess or lacking in naison. With almost every burleone toorns will be found one or more girls who "cheat," either in staging or in the dancing work, and the presence of one or two of these "stallers" is unsally sufficient to spoil the whole casembla. The girls know that there is no stage manager watching their work, and are consequently carriess and neglectific, often spoiling a "resily good number hy their willful lack of interest. With some abows, where the stage management is nucesally lax, conditions become almost disciplina enhanced from the original work recognised from the original work recognised from the original work is a substanting, and when the show has been a fewer and substanting and the stage in a disordering and the work is the breaking up of the work before the number its original work. A few days ago the lander of a certain Eastern Wheel theatre gave instructions to his orchestra to cease playing in the middle of a certain number where the chorus ware falling to hold np the singing and. The orchestra stopped suddenly in the middle of the chorus of a popular song, with the result that scarcely a sound came from the stage. After the curtain was rung down, the stage manager of the show angrily siked. "What is the matter with your orchestra?" The counter question of the house leader was: "What is the matter with your chorus?"

Lawrence Weber's Parisian Widows has changed but tittle since I last saw the show, a year ago at the Star and Garter, and the waterial of the past three seasons is still retained. There are a number of changes in the personnel, some of which are for the better. The Actura' Boarding House, with a nice naw infore setting, appears brighter than of yore, and when I saw the show, a week ago, all of the parts were capably handled by those to whom they were easigned. Lee Hickmann, as the legit, Arthur Bell as Harry Colo, Hal Groves as the Irish comedian, Harry Bentley as the closely. Arthur Bell as the trian comedian, Harry Bentley as the Jow Comedian, George Niblo as the stage door Johnnie, Ike Wall as the property man, Rella Bell as the teading laify. Clars Berg as Ballic Lees, Julia Sinciair as the inndisdy, and Emily Miles as Snala Moore, alt worked hard and appeared to get the most out of the founy aituations with which the show is replets. The rehearsal scene is as funny as ever, although Benny Pierca is missed at times. Ika Wall is the whole show in this ecces, and appears to be making a higger hit each season. One of tha triampha of the show is in the interesting feature where the artge is set-in full view of the andience, which seemed highly interested and loudy cheered the versatils like as the finat adjustment of the grand drapary completed the attractive stages reference and gave a view of a bandsome palace interior with a set of stairs at center atage, down which trooped a handsomely dreased and good-looking chorus of well-shaped girls. The finale of tha first part, although pretty, is hardly as picturesque as the gaudy Drury Lane march of last season, and tha atage picture with like Wall and his beer can as a center-piece, leat much of its effect. The burlesque, Fun in a Department Store, is tha asma as before, although the work at the soda founlain appears to be less tiresoma, and the part formerly handled by Harry Sanber is considerably improved by Lee Hickman, wnn gets a taugh at avery "All right."

The musical numbers are fairly good, and are helped materially hy the efforts of a better than the avarage chorus. The favarite numbers were Jungle Band, by Julia Sinciair; Espanola Prauce, by Clara Berg; I Love II, by Clara Berg, and Mandy, by Neille Lockwood. Miss Lockwood, is a chorister who sings nicely and is possessed of a charming figure, and leads her number in a satisfactory manner. The olio consists of four acts, and is opened by Lee Hickmann and Harry Bentley, in a clerrer talking act, which was well received. Hickmann is by far the best feeder that Bentleverer worked with in my recollection, and although I have seen the versatile Harry working with a number of former partners. I believe that he bas now a belter act than ever act, and is one of the brightest of prasmants in the whole abow. She looks well, dresses well, sings well, and, abovo all, is possessed of a magnetic personality which immediately wins the hearts of her house from boxes to wins the hearts of her house from coars and gallery.

The Parisism Widows is a good show and will pass muster with the general run of the better shows this season, but any feture changes will have to be made with tact and judgment.

Morris Wainstock's Rector Girls were reviewed in this colomn in an earlier issue, so that there will be no necessity to again cover the show, which is practically the same as at the opening of the season. There has been quito a number of changes in the company, of which a correct list is: Morris Wainstock, manager; Charles Franklin, ageal; Tom McRea, George C. Johnson, William Johnson, Joseph Falardo, Anna Senette, Lydis Josepy, Lora Harvey, Romeo Brianss, Silvio Landino, May Smith, Blauche Bookar, Jessia Clark, Marle Daniels, Edith Sandars, Hida Hayen, Winnia Crowe, Ethel Crane, Clandte Siewart, Evelyn Robinson, Gertrade Turner, Pessle Bolan, Helen vynn and Geraldine Fleming.

Irena Mantell, a chorus girl with The Bector Girla, closed with the abow last week, and will return to vaudcville, ppening on the Sullivan & Considine time, at Chicago, December 18. Mr. McRea will represent tha third principal comedian Tha Rector Giria has had this season, having upened the season with Tom Robinson, who was succeeded by Sullivan, who, in turn was succeeded by Tom McRea.

Newcomers with The Parlaian Widows are Arthur and Belle Bell, who replace Keiso and Leighton, who closed at Washington last week, Emily Miles, who recently closed with The Box Tous, has also joined the show, and will play the ingenue part. With Reli and Bell with the show, and The Gordon Highlanders, the show will have two musicat acts to carry, so that we may look for some more changes before the show gets very far west.

Anna Rana, who was formerly with The Time, the Piace and the Girl, joined the chorus of The rarisian Widowa at Washington last week. Miss Rana will replace Nan Ryan, who closed.

Harry Bentley seems to manage to find a new partner every season. I recall a few of the names I have seen billed with him, and believe these to be accurate: Clifford and Bentley, Hawley and Bentley, Sanber and Bentley, and now Hickman and Bentley, Keep it up, Harry, the more the merrier.

Hooper and Brown, the singing and dancing boys, who opened the season with Ed Rush's Bon Tone, are back in vaudeville again, and are playing a faw convanient weeks for Gus Sun.

Joe K. Watson, of the Lady Buecaneers, hates to be interrupted by off-stage disturbances while working, and severely reprimands any stage hands who fall to go shout their work in as quiet a manner an possible. Last week, while the show was playing Harry Williams' Academy, at Pittsburg, Joe loet his tamper, and gave one of his chorus a strong talking to; in fact, the talk was so atrong that the offended choristan obtained a warrant for the comedian's arrest. Joe was fined $8, and returned to the theatre. The choristar also returned to the beatre and dressed for the performance, but just before the curtain went up she was handed her salary, and with it her notice. The stage, with The Buccaneers is a tomh of alienca ever since.

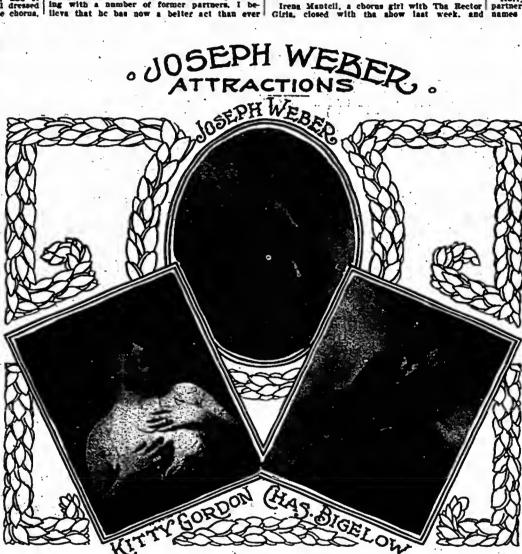

A letter from George Marion informs ma that our unfortunate friend is not antirely neglected, and that many performera visiting Wilkes-Barre, Pa., find time to atep over to the county prison and spend a few cheering muments with the lonesome prisoner. On Thanksgiving Day, Mrs. Raymond Silit and John D. Shea, propriator of Hart's Hotel, sent George over a full-course Thanksgiving dinner and a box of clears. Mrs. Heap personally accompanying the measurager in an anto. Mr. Shea has geen very generous to posting the measurager in an anto in manying the measurager in an anto in manying the measurager in an attention, and has done much to make thing-comfortable for the ex-actor and manager who lives in a terror of suspense awaiting the decision which will either mean a long tarm of imprisonment or a death sentence. All who knew George L. Marion in his troubles, and those who are familiar with tha true facts of the case are nuanimous in the belief that the deed was committed during a mental abertaling hand hereding, and is possessed of the peculiar and high-strung temperament of the South: Where George was reared and raised, men hava a diffarent view of infidelity and have a deep and profound respect for chastity in woman. George loved and loved too well, but we all feet that there were circumstances and conditions in coonection with the case which unbinged the mind of the man who now lingers in captivity and who is awatting, with alsepless nights the final decision of the court.

Margaret Howard and Millie Blair, of The Passing Parade, are rehearsing a sister act, which they will endeavor to book over the Sultivan & Considing time, at the close of the season. They may probably frame a larger act, carrying about seven girls, with several changes of wardrobe. The act will then be managed by a well-known amusement promoter.

I am in receipt of a copy of Gayety Gua-aip, the breezy little sheet which is being pub-lished by Bernard Denny, manager of Hyde and Behman's Gayety Theatre, Brooklyn. The midget paper has created a deal of interest and its existence is niready known over the entire of limbla Circuit. It contains many bright and witty features, and is a credit to its editor and an bonor to the city of Williamsburg.

Julia Sinclair closed with The Parisian Widows on Saturday last, and raturaed to Naw York, where she will probably remain for the balance of the aceson. The part of the laudiady played by the popular Julia, will be taken care of by Arthur Bell, who had the part last season. Miss Sinclair left the company owing to a slight cold which had affected her voice.

before. The Musical Gordon Highlanders foilow Hickmann and Bentiey, and open with the Scotch bagpipes, which they play well. The act consists of two brawny and handsoms sons of the Scotch highlands, and a talented hat picturesqua daughter of the hills all attired in the brilliant uniform of the Gordon Highlanders, one of Great Britain's most popular infantry regiments. The trio excell in versatility; and in addition to their clever selections on many instruments, they also sing nicely and dance gracefully. One of the features of this unusually clever imported act, is the combination of metal instruments which includes a unique plece of musical mechanism known as the silver plano. With selections on a variety of instruments, ranging from the bagpipe and ecacertina to the mandelin and trombona; and with some worthy singing and equally clever dancing, the Scotch Gordon Highlanders is an act which is well suited for a horiesque ollo, and which is bound to make a hit on any well halanced hill anywhere.

George Niblo and Helen Spencer foliow the Highlanders with one of the best dancing acts in the business, and their success is wall deserved. The cilo is closed by Hal Groves and Clara Berg in one of the best dancing acts in the business, and their success is wall adscerved. The cilo is closed by Hal Groves and Clara Berg in one of the best singing and talking acts aver seen in a burlesque elle and our friend Hal is to be congratulated in having secured the partnarship of one of the most talking acts aver seen in the bags. I have seen Hal with several formar partners, all men, but there was no comparison whistever. As a atraight woman, Miss Berg is anpere, and appears to possess the happy faculty of getting her atoff over at Just the right ime and in just the right manner. The talk is hright and witty, and is of the description which is proceeded to Pittston, Pa., whare she is lo be married to a non-professionat. Nan Ryan, formerly of tha Sisters Ryan, and one of the best workers in the chorus of The Parisian Widows, left the show at Washington last week. Missikyan was andering from a severe cold, which made it impossible for her to remain on the road.

There is a young man shead of Harry Hast-ing's Big-Show, who is setting a good example to buriesque agents. He is working hard to hoost his attraction, and is making every effort to secure newspaper recognition. In every town he visits we newspaper offices and leaves a stick of as of copy with the dramatic critic or the city editor. A lot of the old-timers may laugh at this young man, but he is making good, and what is more, is landing a fair percentage of advance dope. This is something that many in the wise ones haven't been able to do, and they'il have to take their hats in fo this energetic young man, who is doing the bard work, and is acting as tha win of a wedge in his effort to thaw the long-existing ice barrier which has kept the buriesque end of the show business from gretting its share of free advertising in the daily newspapers. The young man I refer to is Frank L. Smith, who has graduated from the right school, the circus advance car, and who can bandle a paste hrush or tack a banner when occasion requires. Go ahcad, Frank, and may good luck follow you.

THE WORLD A'WHEEL

The Week's News of Rinks and Skaters—Julian T. Fitzgerald's Letter

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 3 (Special to The Billboard).

—In the three-quarter mile open amateur race skated at the Ice Palace, Nov. 23. In which aix of the fastest of Class A skaters competed, one of the most evenly races so far skated at the Ice Palace was witnessed by the apectators present. A. C. G. Anderson, being out of the race, left the halance of akaters so closely matched, that until the last lap it was hard to tell who would be the winner. The following akaters lined up at the tape: Walter E. Gunderson, of the Illinois Athlatic Club; Harmon Newell and Nels N. Jacobson, of the Irlah American Athletic Club; Hoiger Jeasen, Fred J. Marsotph, and Otto Larsen. At the crack of the gun, Jensen look the lead and carried the skaters around at a merry clip for one lap, then gunderson forged ahead and bedt that pace for two laps. At this point, Newell tried to take the lead, but Jacobson, who was also trying to gain his posilion, blocked Nawell, forcing him on the inside of the track, and took the lead limself. This gave Gnuderson a good chance to make him jump, which he did on the seventh lap. With a grand aprint, won the race by twenty yards. Jacobson finished aecond, and Marzolph third. Time 2:21-5.

whith a graind sprint, won the race by twenty yards. Jacobson finished second, and Marzolph third, Time 2:23 1-5.

CARNIVAL IS BIG SUCCESS.

On Thanksgiving night, the first masque carnival at the new ice Paiace was held. It was a hig success. One of the largest programs so far booked at the Paiace was nicely arranged and pulled off on scheduled time. The first event on the program was two heats of the one-mile Class "A" acratch race, in which eight of Chicago's fastest skaters competed. The first heat was won by A. C. G. Anderson, Fred J. Marzolph, second, and Holger Jensen, third. Time 1:37. The second heat was won by W. E. Gunderson, Nels N. Jacobson, second, and M. W. Leedy, third. Time 1:37. The next was an exhibition of harrel jumping by Morral Baptie, world's all-around champion akater. The finat heat was captured by Anderson, the Westarn champion, she was a grand event, and was captured by Anderson, the Westarn champion; Gunderson, second, and Jansen, third. The time was 3:09 2-5. After the finat of the Class "A" race, the grand march of the masque carnival was carried out, and about ninety of the most beantiful costumed akaters ever seen in an event of this kind lined up for the march. Miss Dorothy Smith, who was one of the first ladles to skate at the new ice Paiace, won one of the most valuable prizes. She wore a heantiful Mexican costume.

DOUGLAS SKATING CLUB BR-ORGANIZED. DOUGLAS SKATING CLUB ER-ORGANIZED.

The Douglas Skating Club, which disbanded three years ago, has re-organized. The club quit because of the weather conditions, which interferred with many of their scheduled events, but it now has the fee Falsce to fail heak-on in emergencies. Mr. W. Leedy was elected president, and Bobert McLean, vice-nresident of the new club. The club has a membership of over fifty members to start with, and before the season is well under way, they will have one of the largest skating clubs in the country.

RINK FEATURES.

RINK FEATURES.

Greensburg, Pa., Dec. 2, 1910.

Cincinnati, Oblo:

I have read the letter of Mr. Lee Largent, manager of the rink in Belott, Wia., in The Billboard of Nov. 12, and heartily agree with him in what he says with regard to rink managers publishing their features in The Billboard and occasionally write a story of what they are doing in the way of special features. The Billboard would willingly publish the same, and the roller rink page of The Billboard would become a very profitchle page for all rink managers.

We have a beantiful rink in Greensburg in which the amount of $25,000 has been invested. Tha rink and the floor are kept in the best possible condition, and always looks inviting to our patrons. We are beginning the fifth season of the rink husluess, and business continues about as good as the first season. The week of Thanksgiving of this reason was one of the best in the history of the rink. We had large crowds of skaters on the afternoon and evening of Thanksgiving Day.

During the week of Christmas, we will have a monater Christmas tree in the center of the rink. The tree will be designed and constructed by Mr. Elmer Kunkle, one of the owners of the rink. The tree will be designed and constructed by Mr. Elmer Kunkle, one of the owners of the rink. The tree will be designed and constructed by a small electric motor.

We have a Moonlight Carnival every Friday evening, with special decorations, incinding sa filminasted moon that appears to be slowly rising over two big mountains. We have a special program for this occasion, and also souvent programs for all akaters. Among the features we have are: Spot parties, mid-summer carnival, and get out a large number of old-time akaters.

I think if all rink managera would read The Blitboard and would write a story for it occasionally of what they are doing; do plenty of newspaper advertising, and keep up the spearance of their rinks, there would be quite a revivat of the roller akating husiness, which is certainly one of the most profitable as well as one of the best amusements there is.

I would also suggest that the roller akate mannfacturers offer some inducement for the rink manager who will furnish the best feature for a roller rink.

Yours very truly, 5 ... BILLY HOOVER.
Manager Greensburg Roller Rink.

New York, Dec. 3 (Special to The Biliboard).

William Blackburn, the professional champion, won one of the best victories Thursday night at the Matropolitan Roller Rink, when he defeated a large, field of the fastest skaters in the East, in a two-mila handleap race, in the fast time of 6:40 2-5. The race was ehracterised by considerable fouling, and two of the contestants, Harry Burke and Frank Brewer, both from Bridgeport, Conn., were put out of the race by the referee, Mark Misuse. The former was in good form, and when he committed the foul, atood a fairly good chance of winning. J. Lownay, another Bridgeport skater, finished second from the 50-yard mark, with H. Allison, of Long Branch, 80 yards, third,

HE "CAME BACK."

New York. Dec. 2 (Special to The Biliboard).

"Joe" Jordan, of New York, former A. A. U. champion, came back to his own again Monday night, when be defeated a large field from scratch, in the three-mile handlesp race for smatters, decided at the Metropolitan Roller Rink, Broadway and Fifty-second atrect. Jordan akated a heady race, and caught-the handlesp man one by oug. His time for the race was 9:41 2-5. J. Tinney, of the Belleville A. C., of Newark, N. J., also atarting from scratch, finished second, with Edward Gall, his club-mate, third.

The Toronto Telegram, in its report nf the Merry Widow Company, playing week of Nov. 21, at the Royal Alexandra to that city, handed out this nice bouquet to Charile Meakins, of Hamilton: "The captivating waits, given with the graceful and yet bewitching abandon of Miss Mabel Wilber (Soula), and Mr. Charles Meakins, and the Prince), had to be repeated half a dosen times to astisfy insistent ascores, at the Boyal Alexandra last night. As Prince Danilo, Mr. Charles Meakins plays the part skilfully. His agility and abandon as a dancer are mayvelous, and his rendering of the solos is as acceptable as ever."

agility and abandon as a dancer are marvelous, and his rendering of the solos is as acceptabin as ever."

BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Misa Jesale McAlister, who is one of Brooklyn's teading women, and has appeared with many of the best stock companies, has returned to the Forbes-McAlister Stock Company, at Percy G. Williams' Gothsm Theatre.

Herbert Kelsey and Effe Shannon presented for the first time on any stage, a new one-set play. The Enemy, at the Orphenm last week, and the offering proved to be one of the best that has been seen in vandeville for a long time.

and the offering proved to be one of the best that has been seen in vandeville for a long time.

'three ring vandeville has started in Manhattan, and so far the Brooklyn vandeville managers have no cause for alarm. Brooklynites are good judges of vandeville, and desire to see a vandeville entertainment given in the same manner or policy that Percy G. Williams has pursued in his chain of vandeville theatres here, which is nine or ten acts of excellent quality. The public will soon tire of any vandeville hill with four or five good sets mixed in with sixteen acts of inferior quality.

Marie V. Fitzgerald'a new play atili remains without a name. It was presented at the Bijon Theatre last week. The play is patterned after the type of Madame X and Mother. Corse Payton has offered $25 to the person who will say gest the most appropriate name for this play.

Circus acts are very plentiful in Brooklyn this week. The Boys' Toklo Jape appear as an extra attraction at the Gayety, the Periscoffis sweek. ALBANY, N. Y.

Thankagiving day was the occasion of a family party of well-known atage-people at Harmanus Bieceker Hall, where Grace George presented her new play, Sance for the Goose. William A. Brady, Miss George's husband, was on hand, supervising the performance, which has been out but a few nights, and William A. Brady. Jr., the image of his clever mother, ast in a stage hox, the most interested and enthn-siastic person present.

So great was the demand for seats for Miss George's play that Manager Gordon was obliged to displace. Prof. Bendell'a oschestra to accommodate the crowd.

At all the theatres Thankagiving Day, a collection was taken up for the local tuberculosis pavilion. Through the courtesy of the managers, curtain speeches were made by local physicians, explaining the cause for the collection. Grace George wrote a substantial check for the fund. Albert Chevalier made his first appearance in Albary in fifteen years, in Daddy Dufard, Nov. 25-26. His play looks like a winner.

The New Theotre Company will make a two weeks' tour around New York, while a special company presents Maeterlinck's Mary Magdalene. Albany will be visited Dec. 9-10.

NEWS BRIEF

TOLEDO, O.

Daniel Tibbets, the tewn marshal in the Coltege Wittow. Is being played thin week by Charles V. Berton, the menager of the company. A man engaged in Buffalo to play the part did not show up and late Friday night, after an unsuccessful search of Toledo for an ector, Mr. Burton immped in and said he would pley it himself. Burton has not played a part in years and therefore his little son Jimmy, two and e half yeers eld, has never seen his father in make-up. Last Tuesday, just before the matinee curtain rang up, Mrs. Burton took Jimmy hack to see his father. The kid looked him over and didn't recognise him until Barton spoke. The kid intently took the make-up of his father in and said to his mother, "Dada is so fauny." "Which the audience would think so" said Burton. Airs. Burton and the kid went out frout, and when, in the first act, Burton appeared he got a great laugh. Coming off he asked those in the wings if they had heard the reception his careful make-up and husiness had received and they said they had and congratuated him on it. Not until after the matinee was the secret of the laugh disclosed. Mrs. Burton and Jimmy, were sitting in the last row and when Burton appeared, the kid caused the laugh by yelling along, "there's Dada." Manager Burton is now treating all cemers.

F. F. Nordmann, a showman from Chicago, prevented a panic that might have resulted seriously in the Crystal Moving Fleture Theatre, Sunday, Nov. 27.

Nordmann hed just entered the theatre, which was crowded with the usual big Sunday afternoon sudience, when he discovered amoke issuing from a crack in the Soor. Realizing that a panic might easue if the audience became aware of the fact that thera was e fire in the cellar. Nordmann resorted to e elever scheme to get the crowd out of the building.

Fortunately the operator was changing reels, and the acrees was dark. Nordmann, much to the surprise of the menager and attaches, announced thet the picture machine was broken beyond repair, and that it would be impossible to continue the show. The audience filed out as orderly as school children going through the form of a fire drill.

A few minutes laier cleude of amoke were pouring out of the theatre. The blusse was confined to the cellar, but it was impossible to give a shew Sunday evening noting to the attitug smoke scent that perveded the place.

Nordmann's prompt measure was warmly commented by the local press.

A attauge coincidence was the fact that the operator was adjusting the reel to the film of The Fire Chief's Daughter when the blaze was discovered.

There have not been many changes. A new the stre and one completely remodeled, is about the extent of new developments in theatricel circles in Kansas City.

The Willis-Wood Theetre, during the summer months of 1910, was redecorated and now more than ever deserves the title given by its admiring patrons. The Willis-Wood has a large elientele and draws for its patronage not alone on Kansas City but the surrounding towns and even from a distance people come for some of the hig theatrical offerings et the Willis-Wood or one of its famous W.-M. concert series.

The management atill remains in the firm name of Woodward and Burgess, with the ren mame of Woodward and Burgess, with the ren menegement io the capable hands of Mr. Frack Woodward. Mr. Woodward is ably sasisted in the management of Mr. O. H. Buckley, the popular business and assistant manager. The Shubert Theatre is said to be by the Shuberts, one of the best paying in their long chain of high-class theatres. The Sam S. Shubert Theatre, to give it its full title, is a memorial theetre to the late Sam S. Shubert, but it is known to Kansaa City and the theatre patrons so "The Shubert" or "the house coay." The interior of the Shubert is all done in a warm, deep, red tone with a cream tone in the mural decorations and this, with the many damling electric lights mekes it one of the prettiest and coalest theatres in the country. A feature of the Shubert deserving of special mention is the lighting effect. The hores have a mirror background, divided into panele with electric lights at each smail panel. When the lights are lowered for "the curtaiu," the lights go out slewly all over the house end in the boxes the result is very fetchiog, for each individual light is reflected in the mirrors and the glow and dimuees of a turned-down light is over the house. The Shuberts have retained for thie season, Mr. Earl Steward, who alone his never the house. The Shuberts have retained for the season, Mr. Earl Steward, who alone his incumbebcy as resident manager, has made himself popular and well liked by every one. Mr. Steward is a real Kensas City boy and neturally has many friends in his home town.

Mr. Fred Steward, brother of Mr. Earl Steward, is the treasurer of the Shubert. Mr. E. S. Hensen is his exsistant in the box-office. PITTSBURG, PA.

Within the year nothing new or startling has taken place theatrically, yet it is a pleasurn to make mention of the fact that the good old times have again returned, and if reports are boua-fide as given me by the managers of the different playhouses throughout the city, then happy is the manager, the owner and all concerned. The invariable report has been that from twenty-five in thirty-three per cent. increase in husiness has been accomplished.

Taking the good reports as given me here aud compare same with the rumors current one would be led to believe the Pittsburg has been particularly blessed. Of course, we have had outling to brag for some time. Commercially, husiness hasn't been up to the standard, yet within the past month a spurt in all lines has been noticeable even though there has been adrop in the output of the different milis and the hig coke industries.

While it is true that the chances are for the respective maugers to claim improvement and to all outward appearances show, or claim hig increase in husiness, nevertheless I am in a position to note the conditions and must admit that more pleasing or favorable conditions have not been noticeable for some time.

For some unaccountable reason we fail to get some of the big stractione until they have played one-night stands for several months. The truth of the matter is, I can recall one particular play that has so far failed to reach us, and know that it mede quite a hit in New York, and am conditent there are others. The only one which comes to my mind at present is Madamn K. Of course there are others. The only one which comes to my mind at present is made to the particular play that has so far failed to reach us, and know that it mede quite a hit in New York, and am conditent there are others. The only one which comes to my mind at present is made at the particular play that here even the content would get all of them (et any rate those of merit) before the smaller tewns, where to play more than one night would mean a loss of merit) before the sm would get all of them (et any rate those of merit) before the smaller terms, where to play more than one night would mean a loss of money.

About the largest thing pulled off here that will be of interest to Elliboard readers, is the taking over of the Duquesne Amusement and Supply Co. and the Pittsburg Calcium Light and Film Exchange by the General Film Co. This deal was practically closed several months before consummated owing to the serious lliness of the atterney for the General Film Co. In a fixture in the Pittsburg field no noticeable chinge is either seen or heard from the other exchanges. They are still in existence and doing practically as well as aver, and this applies to the Independent as well as Association members; infact, there is no noticeable change in the business of the General Film Co. since taking over the two principal supply houses.

The tocetions of both plants will be coutioued as heretofore, Mr. Clark will have charge of the Fourth avenue plant (P. C. L. & F. Ex.) whils Mr. Lande will have charge of the Fourth avenue plant (P. C. L. & F. Ex.) while Mr. Lande will have charge of the Fourth avenue. With ever 400 customers to supply the General Film Co. has decided to continue the two plants, not that the hestices couldn't be handled under one roof, and to advantage of thet, yet to overcome any unlooked for happening, and as a protection to their many patrons as well as themselves.

Business is reported good from the different film exchanges, the Peeriess, the Independent, the Liberty, the Crown, end J. Frank Hatch, as well as from the Acme and the Out-Eate.

At the Nixon, our leading playbonse, there prevails a spirit of joviality, this owing to the great improvement of huisness this assoon and an exceptional bright outlook for the remainder of the Nixon Cafe. This resort has alway-an exceptional bright outlook for the remainder of the season.

Another feature which adde much to the comfort of all connected or visiting the theatre as well as the general public is the reopenia of the Nixon Cafe. This resort has alwaybeen popular with the players as well as the management and the public.

The Aivin, our other leading house, is making a record. There is no doubt but what this season will be the baoner. With this house as well as the others, the attractiona to follow are as good if not better than those already seen here, and husiness will continue good.

The Lycenn, where previously melodrama held sway, the same good reports concerning husiness are beard, I have from Mr. Wilson, the resident annuager, that the geason will show all fischesse over that of light by et-least thirty-three per cent.

The fact that the Lycenn his citized impledrama leaves us now without a house wherein this class of perfermance can gain entranchere.

At the Duquesne, where the Harry Davis Slock

this class of perfermance can gain entrance here.

At the Duquesne, where the Harry Davis Stock Company holds away, and which has become so endeared to the hearts of the thousands who love the etock company betler, are emphatic in their praise of the menagement. The news which was given to the pablic a few days are to the effect that the prices would be reduced so that no seat during the night performance would exceed fifty cents, and maklog twenty-are cents the limit for melinees means thousands more who will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing a most capable company present the leading plays of the day.

So far ea the Grand is concerned, the house where nuless you secure your seets early it is a case of stand or ret left, there is herdy any chance for comment. This house is another under the menugement of Mr. Harry Davis, where high-cless vandeville is given.

We have the two barlesque wheels playing our borlesque booses. This in itself tella a big story. We get the best in buriceque at the two bouses, the Gayety and Academy.

Mr. Kartsman, manager of the Gayety, gives a very flowery report of hasiness. He assures me this will be the banner season for the Gayety, and Mr. Harry Williams, owner end manager of the Academy is very jubilant over the way business hee improved.

We are new to be considered.

"OLD DAN RICE"

Career of the Man who Made People Laugh—The World's Greatest Talking and Singing Clown—The Pioneer of Shakespearean Clowns

No matter where you might go, traveling the world over, in every clime where the English language is apoken, there is probably none whose name is better known than that of the illustrious circus clown, "Old Dan Rice." Most people like to read of the exploits of a poor boy who began life in making his way through the paths of hardship and toll hy the earnest attention to duty and sweat of his hrow, rose to distinction and recognized the world over as the one great person who could instantly throw sadness into mirth, and completely, through his indicrous sayings and actions, be a complete panaces to drive away the bines and make you ready to elther cry with delight or scream with langhter.

The writer was an acquaintance of Dan Rice in 1868, and I can never remember, through association, of ever seeing him in a sad moodalways happy, no matter what reverses in life might bring. A good trait for all present-day people to follow.

Dan Rice was a figure most prominently associated with the development and growth of that great and wonderful institution, the American circus. Few men connected with the sawdnat ring were ever better known, and in his day this famous clown's name was as well known as those of Washington, Lincoln, Grant, Daniel Boone or Kit Cirson, all of whose actions were very much in the public eye.

It has been some years aloce Dan Rice was in "harness, so to speak," and to some of the younger generation he was only a reminder. With their parents, however, gobody quite took Dan Rice's place, and though other clowns were excruciatingly funny, fathers, mothers always informed their offspring, "You ought to have seen Dan Rice in his palmy days."

Dan Rice as born January 25, 1823, at the corner of Chambers and Mulberry streets. New York City, over the grocery owned hy his father. His father, Daniel McLarin, nick-named the boy "Dan Rice," after a famous clown in Irviand. After his fathers death his mother married a man named Monshan, who had a dairy near Freehold, Monmonth county, New Jersey, and Dan, when rider and hack driver.

After a little time, under the name of Dan Rice, he achieved prominence, if not exactived here as the owner and exhibitor of a learned pig, with which he and a man named Lindany traveled through Pennsytvania and neighboring states. Bice, and Lindsay sang songs and danced, but the pig was the principal attraction. Dan Rice, when asked about his early experiences by the writer, said, "that although it was many years ago, it was atill said to relate that the sudden death of the star performer—tha pig—broke np. that show," and he drifted out to Nanvoo, Hilnols, where the Mormons them were under Joseph Smith's leadership, and remained with them for a time.

He returned to Pittaborg and went to driving a hack again. He married there his first wife, and went to New York City in 1844, making there his first appearance as a clown and negro song and dance performer with Doctor Spaniding's company, in the old Bowery Amphithanter, then under the management of John Tryon. In the company with him at that time were Barney Williams, Daniet Emmett, Daniet Gardner, Frank W. Whiliaker and others, whose have since attained wide celebrity on the stage, and in the sawdust ring.

During the season of 1845 he traveled with seth B. Howes Circus. Seth B. Howes was a hrother of Naihan Howes, one of the old "fist-foot combination," which, slarted the famona Zoological Institute, at 37 Bowery. He billed and advertised Dan Elce more extensively than any clown was advertised before in this country.

One of his advertising dodges was to supply Dan with a special carriage and horses, with splendfully liveried coechman and foolman, to take him through the country. In the winter of 1845-6. Danial made his first appearance in Philadelphia in General Rufus Welch's National Amphitheatre, which was then at the corner of Ninh and Chestant streets, so the alte now occupied by the Continental Hotel: At that time he was simply a good "tough knock-about clown," in the phraseology of the ring, not contine and lance from the ring, mater and lanceent of any knowledges of the street and lanceent of any knowledges of sheepeare. He tried auccessively Nicholaa Johnson and Betty Young, both actors, and Horace Nicholis and somebody else in the capacity of ring master, and yet could not make a hit with eilber.

Finally he got Frank W. Whittaker, who was at the lime master of the ring for other ctowns in the same abow, assigned to him, and on his first night made a hit on husincis suggested by Whittaker, which estried him into instant popularity with Philadelphis andiances. That hit cost Sandy Jamleson, icader of the orchestra, a new violin, for part of the funny business consisted in Dan's tumbling Frank heading among the orchestra.

During the summer of 1846, Rice was a clown when they separated.

In 1853, in consequence of some icgal proceedings instillated by Spaulding for recovery of payment for a show with which he had fitted Rice out a couple of years before, Rice lost a haddome farm which he had acquired in Columbia county, New York. Shortly after that Dan Doughr a homestead in Girard, Pa., and a where the behalf acquired in the man of the columbia county, New York. Shortly after that Dan Doughr a homestead in Girard, Pa., and a where the behalf with the made the acquaint-mace of Philip Diefeobach, a stout German lad, who lived at Eric, Pa., with his parents, and Diefeabach, showing an adaptability to the circus hanness, Rice took him under his wing, and aver afterwards a friendship was continued with both men. Phil. Diefeabach was in later years, practically the originatur of the "tree years, practically the years, practically th

In 1866 he received $1.000 per week through the season as a clown with John O'Brien, and for a season of twenty-six weeks in 1867 he received $21,500 from the then famous Gardner. Hemmings and Cooper's Circus.

The shove salaries have never been duplicated in present day circus companies, as money in those days appeared to be more plentiful than water.

The above salaries have never been duplicated in present day circus companies, as money in those days appeared to be more pientiful than water.

Although it may seem odd to relate that Dan Rice's "war of destiny" from that time seemed to be sleadily waning. His property at Girard was swept away by the foreciteme of a mortgage. He had married again, His second wife, the dampter of a banker in Girard, owned a considerable amount of property in her own right, but Rice was ruised.

considerable amount of property in her own right, but Rice was ruleed.

Disappointment seemed to embitter him, and his habits grew worse, but he kept in the ring as elowing each season with the young eiters men of the day and could hold his own at all times and make good. During the Chiesgo season of 1870 he clowned one week for Adam Eurepangh, just to show that he was not all in. In 188t he was not with William Stow, under the firm name of live and Siow, but the partice firm name of live and Siow, but the partice in the season.

Some years afterwards he struck as off well on his wife's property in Girath, put my a derrick, set a drill to work, organized a stock company and sold stock to Avery Smith. Seth B. Howes and John J. Nathams and other "oth inters" of the circus hailses, but it was even ascertained that there was not a pist of patroland within 100 miles of the well.

people received a set back. Other schemes of the young people to win over the ald man are equally as dismal fallures as the first. Nothing daunted, however, Lee set about engaging the toughest-tooking man in the vicinity to waylay Laura, her father, and Boger. In the midst of the disturbance, Lee, the conquering hero, would rush up, knock each ruffian down and receive the old man's congratulations with his consent to their marriage. The scheme worked better than even Lee bad plauned—for just as the father was humbly offering his apology and bleasing to the bappy couple. Bill Allen's dog took a hand, sending Boger up a tree, where he was forced to remain until Bill came home several bours later.

THE PILGRIM (drams: release Dec. 14-length —).—The boys were holding an indignation meeting. That Pilgrim from the East. Jack Warren, had walked in and taken possession of the hotel as though he owned it. To be sure, old man Clayton was ill and the work was certainly too much for Jane; still she might have asked one of them to help. As it was, they meant to make things pretty warm for bim; and they did. A quarrel was al its height when announcement was made of Clav ton's death, effectively putting an end in the strife. Hostilities were, nevertheless, renewed a few days later when the boy found that Jane was still retaining Jack as her assistant. Jane now intervened and commanded the boya to leave. Then after they are gone, quietly but firmly she insisted upon Jack doing the same. Three months passed. Finding the work entirely too great for her atrength and the "help" most unreliable, Jane had sold the place and was leaving her old home forever. On the way to the station she is met by Jack. Gently he persuaded the girl to come to his cabin, while he harried away for a minister. But no sooner was the ceremony performed and the clergyman and his wife congratulating the happy pair than the boya barst into the room. They had arrived to run Jack out of lown, but the presceed of the minister such the sight of the marriage cert who always deem the Grand attractions worth while. The management is still kept on in the uame of Hudson and Judah, for Hudson is a well-known theatrical name, but Mr. A. Judah is the sole manager of the Grand. Mr. Judah has been manager of the Grand. Mr. Judah has been manager of the Grand dince it was a theatre twenty years ago and knows the show business from A to Z.

The Grand is a popular-price house but many dollar-and a half shows come to the Grand. Shows that elsewhere command this money play at the Grand for one dollar and perhaps this is one of the secrets of the Grand's success. This seen last year at the Willis-Wood for a dollar and a half were at the Grand.

Jason Batckin its the much-liked and esteemed treasurer and press representative of the Grand opera House. Mr. Ratekin has been treasurer at the Grand also, since it was a Grand, and it is impossible to think of this theatre without the pleasant, affable smile of Mr. Estekin. He has in the box-office as assistant treasurer, Mr. Everett Wilson, who also has many friends both in the theatrical profession and out. The Orpheum is the theatre that was completely remodeled during the summer of 1910. The entire front was torn out and a new and handsome commodious lobby put in and the entire item was torn out and a new and handsome commodious lobby put in and the entire item was torn out and a new and handsome commodious lobby put in and the entire item was to a completely redecorated, repapered and refinished, the tone color being a cool, restrul green, very pleasing to the eye.

The Orpheum presents high-class vaudeville. The Orpheum likewise has an enormous patronage. Every night standing room is all one can get at the time the show starts and even the matinees see the house almost filled. This is a record that is hard to beat by a theatre anywhere. And the reason for this patronage is the excellence of the shows offered always I the almost minimum fee charged for admission.

the excellence of the shows offered always I the almost minimum fee charged for admission. Mr. Martin Lehman is resident manager of the Orpheum as he has been for the past twelve years, or since the inception of the Orpheum. Mr. Jos. Sti-bel is no longer assistant manager. Mr. G. K. Highibotham is the assistant manager this sesson, also in charge of the Orpheum's press department and so the management and publicity are both well looked after. Mr. Higginbotham was formerly in yaudeville, being with an act known as Phoroso. Mr. L. A. Keller is still treasurer at the Orpheum. Even with the increased seating capacity, the theatre was not large enough to accommodate all that wished to see the show. It was estimated that more than a thousand were turned away mable to obtain even standing room. Manager Lehman said that he has never seen so many people at this theatre before.

The newest theatre in Kansas City is the

at this theatre before.

The newest theatre in Kansas City is the Empress, the Sullivan-Considine vandeville bouse. This theatre was thrown open to the public May 30, 1910 and since them has been running with three shows a day, one matinee and two evening performances. Mr. D. F. McCoy is resident manager of The Empress. The xandeville at the Empress as the posters announce, is "vandeville at you see in New York" and is well worth while.

Cop is resident manager of The Empress. The vanderille at the Empress as the posters an mounce, is "vandeville as you see in New York" and is well worth while.

A theatre that has undergone several chauges in the last year, although now back to its original position as a stock house, is the Auditorium Theatre. In January of this year, the William Morris people came here and secured the lease from Mr. O. D. Woodward, and for half a week presented Harry Lauder and a selected vandeville company. It was the lutention of the Morris people to have a theatre in Kansas City and give vandeville here with weekly change of bill. Mr. Martin Lehman resident manager of the Orpheum and acting for the Orpheum Circuit obtained a five-year lease on the Auditorium Theatre and so hioris was cut out of a house in Kansas City. Then the fate of the Auditorium was in doubt, so during the winter it remained dark, the Orpheum Circuit not deciding what to do with it. During the summer it was thoroughly overhauled and freshened up and on November 6, a new stock company commenced a season.

Mr. Lawrence Lehman, who was assistant manager at the Orpheum during the early part of this season, is now manager of the Auditorium Theatre. With the big Orpheum press department back of it and the capable management of Mr. Lehman there is no doubt that the new theatre is the oldest theatre in Kansas City. The Gillis is a popular-price house and has a big following. Even when the theatricals seasons were most streauous there was at all times very satisfactory. Capacity on Sundays and holidays is what the Gillis does with a very good showing at all the matinces and even up performances. The mauagement of the Gillis is in the hands of Mr. E. Brigham, who is a well-known figure in theatrical circies and a very able showman. Mr. J. K. Sherlock is treasurer. Mr. Leroy Simous is the business manager of the Gillis.

Both the burlesque bouses of Kansas City are doing a very excellent business. The Century is the Western Wheel home managem by Mr. Jos. R. Donega by Mr. Burt McPhail, a well-hown theatral name.

Here's wishing the theatres, the show folk and every member of the theatrical profession a very Merry Christmas and a most Joyous New Year. If the New Year is judged by the kindly action of old 1910, it will be a very successful theatrical year in Kansas Cliy. All ball 1911.

Exchange, Associated Booking Office, Royer's Booking Exchange, Gns Sun and Bittners. A few years ago, a booking exchange was a novelity, in fact when the Poliacks onlered the field here it was looked upon as a farce. Mr. X. Burke, of the United, has been here for some time and contemplates opening an office. Mr. and Mrs. Burke are at present making their headquarters at the Colonial Hotel.

Mr. Harry Poliack, of the Poliack Vandeville Exchange, is also the manager of the Kenyon Theatre, and has demonstrated what a good manager can do even under the greatest disadvantages. Mr. Poliack took charge of the Kenyon Theatre when it was a losing venture, booked the attractions and watched everything carefully until within a very short time the theatre was a paying honse. He has aloce accomplished the task of raising the prices from 25 to 35 cents and at present playing to higger houses than ever.

Business is good at the booking agencies without any exceptions. Mr. Morganstern, of the Associated Booking Agency, feels condident his will be the banner season aince his venture in this line. Owing to the fire about eight mooths ago in the Family Theatre, and the damage done to the offices throughout the initialing, the headquariers of the Associated wavetemporarily moved to Fourth avenue and Smithfield atrect, where they are at present. However, the old quarters will soon be ready for occupancy again and same will be fitted in the family Theatre, on the United.

temporatily moved to Fourth avenue and Smithfield atrect, where they are at present. However, the old quarters will soon be ready for occupancy again and same will be fitted and the fact of the Family Theaire on the United.

Mr. Royer reports that recently he has added five naw houses to his circuit, and has attractions contracted and hooked solid for twenty-six weeks. He feels very much encouraged over the favorable ontlook. Mr. Royer still retains his vaudeville house, the Casino, ou the North Side, and says business shows a decided improvement there laiely. This house runs from six to seven acts weekly.

At the Gus Son obce I found Mr. J. W. Todd, the eastern representative, a very busy man, booking new acts and giving instructions to the many waiting his commands.

The Liberty Vandeville Contracting Co., with offices in the Fulton Bidg., is a very hmy place, and Mr. McLanghin, the manager, is one of the finest reliows yon want to meet. With him it was a case of cheerfulness, good business and fine prospects.

An indoor winter circus will be put out from this city about January 1, aiready booked solid for eight weeks, mostly under the suspices of the Elks and Masons. The promoters are: Wm. H. Rice, H. R. Pollack and Geo. Dorman. The show will travel by special train of seven cars and carry also a complete menagerie.

The J. Frank Hatch Showa were sold as a whola to the Pittsburg Amusement Company Showa, a new company which has been incorporated for $100,000. Mr. John A. Blair is the president of the company; W. L. Wyatt, manager; W. H. Rice, general agent; Jos. Conlevadvance, and Ash Coleman, publicity. The Hatch Shows were sold as a whola to the present management, will be much enlarged and 20 new cars will be added The three shows combined will consist of 31 cars and will open May 1.

The Ice Skating at Duquesne Gardena will be discontinued this winter and roller skating will be substituted. The Gardena are now running full blast and are doing a fine husiness. From the tone of Mr. McSwigsn's conversation I am led to believe that it will be a good long time before lee skating will be resumed if ever; in fact the roller essent slarted off so much better than was expected that the chances are that roller skating will continue indefinitely.

The Anditorium Boller Bink has made great atrides towards the improvement of every condition and is drawing well. This house is a credit to the East End in every particular, and is attended by the best people from the residental districts.

A naw idea in the tent show is to be launched during the counting season by John Varley, the advertising agent of the Lyceum Theatre of Pittsburg, and C. G. Bochert, the press representative. They have organised the Oriental Amusement Company, interesting Pittsburg capital, and will carry, ont their conception of summer amusement amusement upon an elaborate scale. The plan is to give the classic dances made famons by Ruth St. Denis, Gertrude Hoffman, Era Tanguay and other mofed terpaichorean artists, under canvas in the towns and clifes throughout the country where thee noted performers have not appeared. Each dance is to be staged in a pretentious manner, the equipment being already under construction and a special tent with a large seating capacity and arranged for carrying only the lighting effects necessary for these dances being in course of construction.

MOVING PICTURE NEWS

Kansas City, Mo., Council Introduces Stringent Ordinance for Regulation of Moving Picture Theatres—Notes of the Manufacturers and Late Releases

as City, Mo., Dec. 3 (Special to The Bill-—If the ordinance introduced into the board).—If the ordinance introduced into the Council this week becomes a law, local motion picture theatre managers will find that many changes in the arrangement of their house will be necessary. There are several requirements which demand stringent regulations of the pic-

so of the requirements is that no seat in theatre shall be more than six feet from alide. This requirement will hit hard the lier theatres in which there are but two so, ose along each wall.

is also demanded that operators undergo examination, which heretofore has not been nited.

DIXIE EXCHANGE GROWING.

The Dixie Film Company, of New Orleans, La., of which H. Fiebtraberg is president, has experienced a wonderful growth in business during the past three months.

"Three months ago I was purchasing nine resis of film weekly, and to-day am buying twenty-four resis of film weekly of different makes," says Mr. Fichtenberg. "We are not advertising that we are purchasing doplical copies of any particular make, but have so lacted twenty-four different resis.

"From our point of view we consider that an exchange that will invest $2.400, for film, and $wi0, for cost of operation weekly, will be sufficiently equipped to handle the requirements of most particular exhibitors. This the Dixie Film Exchange is enabled to do."

The Dixle Film Company, is now handling the following films: Rison, Imp. Powers, Nester. Thanhouser, Actophone, Yankee Film, United Film Part, Ambrosio, Itala, Eclair, Lax and others.

PARAGRAPRIC PENCILINGS.

By CHARLES A. WHITE.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 3.—George M. Cohan spent a few hours in town Monday, Nov. 28, prior to departing for Columbus, Ohlo, where he will add the finishing touches to a second edition of Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford, which is underlibed for a run at the Olympic Theatre, Chicago, commencing Bunday, Dec. 4.

Mr. Cohan avers that his Chicago offering will be equal if not superior to the one which is now inspiring such favorable comment in New York City.

F. J. Warrell, who adjusted business matters for the Forepangh-Sells' Circus last season, is in the "Wildy City." visiting his brother. Mr. Warrell has many friends, both in the circus and dramatic profession, among them being Edmand Breeze, who was at one time under Mr. Warrell's management.

W. W. Dunkle, favorably known to the vaude-ville profession as the "king of aketch writers." has deserted the dramatic desk of the South Bend, Ind., Tribune, and established offices in the Oneonta Building, where he will device his attention exclusively to the writing of playiets.

That all Counts look atthe to J. Kruhman, bead waiter in the Elizabethian room, Congress Hotel, was made evident the other evening when Jacques Von Mourik de Reanfort waitsed into the room, accompanied by his famous canine "Rob".

"Bob."

Now, "Bob" may have been all that the Count claimed, but the women seated in the Elizabethian and Pompelian rooms did not take kindly to the dog, and requested that the beat be remored. Of course, the Count objected in lead words, which resulted in the ejectment of both Count and "Bob."

Chief of Police Steward is busily engaged at housecteaning, and if the Chief's activities do not wane. Caleago will soon be known as the moral example of this country.

The Nigger, playing at McVicker's, has been reviewed by the police department's censor, and found, it is said, to contain more than azi. Then came a summons in Lee Kohlmar, appearing at the American Music Hall, to report at the city ball and abow reason why be should sing a song of questionable nature. Mr. Kohlmar proved diplomatic in consenting to omit the song, and was permitted to stand on his promise. The next move was the decapitation of 'Salome' which has fauned the admirers of the willde-Strauss music-drama listo burning indignation, and caused controversy between Miss Mary Garden and Chief Steward.

The Chief avers that the "monkey-shines over the head of John the Baptist, or Jochanan, as the character is called in the play, formed the most objectionable feature of the acting." And the Chief drave the shaft deeper hy remarking: "Salome' is disgusting. If the same abow were presented on Hatsited street, the people would call it cheap. Why, Mary Garden wallows around like a cat in a bed of cating."

And Miss Garden voiced her opinion of the Chief this wine: "Chief Steward is vile, vulgar and low-minded, else he never would have gained the impression of 'Salome' Is had it vile, vulgar and low-minded, else he never would have gained the impression of 'Salome' is an and appreciated to the reviewed and the twaddle shout immorality. If it a continued, I shall leave Chicago and go to Philadelphia or some place where art is appreciated and view as art, and oot as someliting else."

Then Miss Garden clinched her first and after twe want to do la put on opera has in a civil manner. "What is twaddle shout immorality. If it a continued, I shall leave Chicago and go to Philadelphia or some place where art is appreciated and view as art, and oot as someliting else."

The directors of the grand opera commany viewed the altration in a civil manner. "What hody had counseled situs a county, "Mr. Bernard Ulrich, business manager of the opera company, when loterriewed, said: "The management has decided to withdraw the performance of "Salome." Nothing will be substituted. All our piams had been laid to put on "Salome," and as the opera is not to be heard, tha theatre will be dark on Friday night."

Reports from Milwankee, where Mary Garden is announced to appear in "Salome" on Dec. 9. are to the effect that the opera will be presented without mojecution.

"The only way we can stop the presentation of any show is to first see it, then get witness who will awear that the show is immoral and indecent," said Chief Jausen.

Manuel Raddel in of the opinion that it is time

Mayor Seidel is of the opinion that it is time nough to cross the bridge when he come to it.

William Young. St. Louis' chief of police, was more decirive when he was questioned as to whether presentation of "falome" would be permitted in Sl. Louis, where it is booked for Jao. 2.
"If the show is immoral, it will not be 'pniled off' in St. Louis," said the chief.

It is the chief's intention to take the matter up at once and post himself as much as possible on the merits of the performance from the atandpoint of the city ordinances and attantes.

In an opinion recently filed, the branch Appellate Court holds that liability attacase to the city for the axercise by its officials of its police power in safeguarding the public. It was given in the sult brought against the city for damages of $50,000 by William G. Clark, owner of the People's Theatre.

The suit grew out of the exactions of the city council concerning theatres immediately following the Iroquois Theatre fire. Clark soughl damages after his theatre had been closed twice.

THEATRES RE-OPENED.

Bio Carbons

MADE FOR THE EXPERT

The BIO Carbon is especially designed to meet the requirements of the critical man.

It is a better carbon, and naturally requires intelligent use-You wouldn't expect a two-minute trotter to make the mark under the lash of a "bull-whacker."

The better the operator, the more he thinks of BIO Carbons.

ALBA Flame ARG LAMPS

The most effective way to get people into your theatre is to provide abundant, cheerful, illumination on the outside.

Most people have a good deal of the moth in their make-up—they can't resist the lure of light.

Don't confuse the ALBA with the oldfashioned, glaring yellow Flame Arc of "Bowery" fame. The ALBA appeals to people of refinement. It achieves an artistic effect—not a barbaric assault on the senses.

Amusement Promoters At Large

Herewith is a list of the states which are for sale and the price for the Exclusive rights for the states including one complete set of the

BUFFALO BILL & PAWNEE BILL FILMS 3.000 FEET

The list also names the states which are sold, with the names and addresses of the owners of the Rights.

The Moving Pictures of the BUFFALO BILL WILD WEST & PAWNEE BILL FAR EAST are the greatest money makers ever produced. They are in a class by themselves.

They are the first and only pictures, which do not decrease in value after having been exhibited. Return dates have proven to be as profitable as the first exhibition.

The film rents from $50.00 per day up and when played on a percentage basis from 50 per cent. to 75 per cent. of the gross receipts is the share received by the owners of State rights.

and 50 cents.

If you have any doubts regarding the quality and drawing power of these films, get in touch with any owner of State Rights and learn what they have to say. Select the state that you want from the list of unsold states and mail or wire us a deposit of $100.00 and we will forward contracts.

We require a surety bond of $1,000.00 on each contract. This you can secure from any Bonding Company for $10.00.

and Music Halls—Thomas Beecham Abandoning His Grand Opera Experiment

In writing A Single Man for Cyril Maude at the Playbouse, Hnbert Henry Day has evidently been inspired by the cynical saying, "Men marry when they like, women when they can." His light and airy comedy is based on the ingenious matrimonial intrigua for the favor of a crusty hachelor of forty-five.

The latter is quite a common type of character—at least in fiction. He is the literary man who finds his inspiration in the country and then discovers he is very lonely. Bobert Worthington, in the present instance, has been too busy to think about falling in love until his hair has turned grey; a stater-in-law, Isabella Worthington, with true womanliness, has plotted to find him a partner, and until this end has written to the one achool friend of her acquaintance who has drawn a blank in the matrimonial lottery. So she invites Louise Parker to the place without consulting anybody, and Miss Parker, a worldly creature of thirty, arrives with countless frocks at the dramatic moment when Robert has just startled the family circle by the announcement of his engagement to Maggie. Cottrell, a girl in her teens.

The efforts of Robert to play tennis all the afternoon and generally to be as young again as his bettothed, supply the chief comedy motive of the second act. Louise is no wise shashed by the fact of Robert's announced engagement continues to pursue him with unbinshing-attentions. The one note of real feeing is sounded by Robert's little stenographer, Miss Heseltine, who has a hopeless passion for her master and is heartbroken by the prospect of his coming weighing. And thus the way is prepared for a dainty third act, in the author's very best style.

Robert, exhausted by unusual juvenile gambols, has amnounced his intention to dine alone. At the moment it is served, the stenographer comes along with some complated work. She is on the way to a "penny reading" and has a sampt svening frock under her cloak. Thus it comes about that for the first time in the five years he has amployed ber, master and typist ait in frien closure that the two are anited to one another. For a brief second they forget themselves and ambrace and of course, Louise Parker steps in and discovers them.

The sed of all is that little Maggie, of herown accord, tells Worthington that she ilkes him wall enough but that ha is too old to be ber husband. And never did a filted manifective his dismissal with such a smile as Cyrll Maude, the Robert, puts on. Hilda Trevelyan as Miss Heseltine has one of the best parts that have ever fallen her way and their acting in the dinner sewe is worth going a long way to see. Nancy Frice is well suited to the part of Louise and May Jerrold is quite good; as the wife. The play is going to run for a long while and looks like doing Maude—not one of the luckiest of men—a lot of good.

At the Little Theatre Miss Gertrude Kingston has just put on two plays, the first a three-actomedy by Miss Cicely Hamilton, called Just to Get Matried, the other; a one-act tragedy by Miss Alma-Tadema, entitled A Mereiful Soul. In the former. Miss Hamilton has a very amusing way of showing us how unpleasing this who has no occupation and no prospects inti maxrisge. The heroine, Georgina Vicary, her beroine, lived with an a sunt; and uncle in the country. She was a nice girl with an acute sense of humor, and when her aunt spent skry pounds on new clothes for her in order that sha might the more readily attract the eye and affections of an eligible luvited from London Georgina laughed: "If I don't have a hubband at all events I'll have four new hats," sha cried. For all that Georgios did nothing to discourage the willing victims to her charm. Sha saw nothing dishonest in marrying for a living and when an art-school friend advised her to atand on her own aunter on a melly oil-store!

ings and the cooking of her own dinner on a amelly oil-store.

The frank discussion by Georgina and the whole household of Georgina's position and prospects of marriage is very amusing. Georgina berself declares that a perfectly useless woman berself declares that a perfectly useless woman could do nothing but marry and in that frame of mind, and with not n trace of affection fortim, she led the man on to a proposal and accepted him. Oo the eve of the marriage however, told him ahe was not going to spoil him over, told him ahe was not going to spoil hilfe, and to the horror of her relatives made, a boit to join her atudeot friend in London. But on her way to town she once again came across her dejected and rejected sdmirer. He was still faithful, and Georgins, touched by his stitinde, found that, after all, he was not indifferent to her, found him, he fact, "quite nice," and being a girl of ordinary type, asked him to marry her.

Miss Alma-Tadema's little tragedy, The Merciful Soul is a story of a faithless bride and a merciful hushand who takes bis own life in preference to taking hers.

It was a great supplies to learn that Mile. Helen Dolli subo has been making a reputation as a dancer of the Tollesum and other places, is the dauguter of Thomas Beecham of Covent Garden operations. Like so many other famous artists, Mile: Dolli has chosen her career from pure love of dancing. Some years back ahe was ordered by her physician to try dancing as an exercise, and her love for the artibecame gradually so great that, although possessed of a large private fortune, she decided to adopt the staga as a profession. She is the only lady hallet dancer who was ever presented at the court of the late Queen Victoria and she is the only lady on the atage who has studied medicine and surgery. Mile, Dolli for some time walked the Boosevelt Hospital.

Speaking of the Beccham family I might mention that it has just been announced that Thomas Beecham, who has been experimenting so largely in grand, and comic opera, has practically given up the attempt to run on his own and has joined the board of the Covent Garden syndicate. This will not mean that, he will shandon his great season already arranged for next spring at Drury Lane, but after that I understand that his company will be amalgamated with that of Covent Garden.

This, by the way, ought to make Hammerstein think. Here is Beecham, one of the keenest musicians in England and with unlimited funds at his hack, driven to the conclusion that there is only coun for one grand open company in London. If, despite this warning, Hammerstein proceeds with the huge theatre that he is to hulld in Kingsway, he will only have himself to thank should his experimentum out a complete failure.

As I indicated last week, the London County-Council, despite the opposition raised, have granted licenses to Oswald Stoll for the five or six: additional variety palaces which he is about to hulld in London. But at the same time an unmistakable hint was given him and other promoters that the Council thinks, that the tima has come to call a hait. At the present time, London undoubtedly has got about as many music halls as it wants and to continue hollding them unchecked would simply mean in the end that a great deal of money would be thrown away and the proprietors of the oldestablished houses would undoubtedly suffer considerable loss.

Two quite good plays have been launched this week in the shape of The Unwritten Law, adapted by Laurence irving from Dostolefish's famous novel, Crime and Punishment and Vice Veras is deplicable of the scholar of the sconder of the scholar of the service of an ardent young reformer i

PARIS NEWS LETTER

Several New Plays Produced—The London County Council Leoncavallo Personally Supervises Production of Newest Light Opera, Malbrouk S'en Va-t-en Guerre, at the Apollo-Miss Dacre at the Alhambra

There's a lull in the storm this week. At the time of writing, theatre managers are thinking more about how they are going to light their theatres than what they produce in them, inasmooch as the flood-waters are returning, threatening to do as much damage as they did last January and February. Candles, oil lamps and what not were the rull in playbouses then, it will be remembered.

However, there is still room for bope. Rungigioto Leoncavallo, composer of 'Pagliacel, this week presented at the Apollo Theatre, where The Merry Widow ran for so long, his newest work, Malbrouk a'en va-t-en Guerre, (Malbrouk Goes to War). The work has aiready been produced in Bome and Florence with considerable success. Insamueb as it is more than probable than an American manager will bring the piece out, I thought it likely that Billiboard readers might care to hear what the composer himself had to say of it.

"Malbrouk," he said, "is a comedy, or rather a farce, and I have treated the music farcically in consequence. The theme of the opera is, of course, the old French folk-song, Malbrouk a'en va-t-en Guerre, known in the United States and in most English-speaking countries as the air for, For He's a Jolly Good Fellow. I carry that all the way through the plece, though here and there I deflect it into caricatures of famous operatic passagea. For example, in the overture, the folk-song suddenly runs into overture, the folk-song suddenly ru with bimself whether be has been deceived."

THE AUDIENCE.

The audience at the first night of the comic opera seemed quite pleased with the work. As an entirety, there is a deal of tomfoolery, and some of the Parin critics seemed to think there was a bit too much. The music, caricaturing well known operas as it does, but liways with the theme of For He's a Jolly Good Fellow rinning through it, is pleasing enough. M. Cordradetti, of the Milan Opera Company, it spears, learned French especially that he might sing the role of Malbrouk, and he deserves credit for his good work. His rich baritone voice is most pleasing. Mme. Cebron-Norbeos. of the Opera-Comfune, appears in the role of Alba, and alugs the part charmingly. M. Conlomb, is the nephew Engaldo. He is a tenor with a really rich voice. Mme. Dhervilly, the cornedienue, is delightful. Others are well placed in the cast.

The pieces will very probably have a long run at the Auolio, the action and the music having just the work will not add greatly to Leoncavailo's reputation.

opioion that the work will not add greatly to Leoncavailo's reputation.

THE ALHAMBRA.

The Alhambra comes nearer belog the reatiling to vanderille them any oiler bouse in Paris. Wa have vandertille bere, but it is slways more or less in diluted form—revues with vanderille acts glipped in bere and there. The Alhambra comes prelly nearly having the reatibing, as we Americans know it.

Fragson heads the bill now as he did the fortoight preceding this noe. Ills songs, delivered as they are, sidewise from the pisno, are infinitable, and he is alone worth the price. Our own Louise Distre and her Georgis pleaninules, come near enough to sharing hopers with the best there is on the bill to make any difference there might be, holistinguisable. Bhe is giving to Parisians something they never asw before, and they appreciate it wonderfully much. She is really making a big hit. The Aerisi Shaws are a big card, too, as la Allister, of the "thoosand heads." On the whole, the hill is one of the heat the Alhambra has had in a long time.

enough not to hurry too much. Americans don't know enough, and they are consequently usually grumbling when they start to do business in France or say other country living the same philosophy.

Brown, J. Calvin Brown, the cass under and over and hack of the new amusement park here. Magic City, is an American. Ha is doing a mighty hig business in Paris. And he isn't grumbling. Likewise he manages somehow or other to get things done pretty meany on schedule time. It's true, he has a very able staff about him who help him along considerably, but then that is not everything. I know of other people who have the staffs, but not the action.

What I started out to say when I ran off the track and went humping along the ties was this: Everything is in shape now for the swift erection of Magic City. Brown is on the homestretch. Every plan is drawn for every device in the park and the model of every device standeredly for use. All the red tape of leases, and purchases, and whatnot, has been unwound right down to the bobbin, and all that now remains is to put the building up. I can hear the chap who has built things in this form say: "Well, that's a mighty hig "all." It isn't a big "all" to Brown. He has a construction crew that gives cards and spades to most any bunch going then gets there shead of the band-wagou. They have never trailed in behind the calliope yet, and when "Spring, Oh, gentle Spring" comes along with her shoods and sowers and had colds sud circuses, Magic City, will be nestling by the side of the silver Seine, as the poet might say, ready, and waiting for a chance to cop the coin.

To climb down out of these poetic heights to which I have been aeropenning on a 40-horse-power typewriter, Magic City, suspects to open her, gates' to the world around Easter, 1911.

IN THE BOIR.

Young Fernand Aroun is getting his affairs in shape for a whooping his passon beginning next spring, at his Jardin d'Arclimatation concession in the Bois de Ronlogue. Ha is in correspondence with several American showman who desire space in this garden spot, but all the desia are not closed yet.

The fact of the matter is, Aroun doesn't care for just any kind of a show, good though it may be. The Jardin d'Accilmatation is a municipal property and, visited as it is annually hy thousands upon the top of thousands of children and their parents, something of educational value is preferable. Native villages, ininppinos, Japanese, etc., mechanical devices which are entertaining and at the same time instructive; a coal mine rida, for example; haby incubator; a deep-see exhibition, or the like of my of these, is the thing.

Fernand Akoun, is the younger brother of Garton Akoun, manager of Luna Park here. The Jardin, however, is entirely in Fernand'a hands. He is; prepared to offer engagements, he say of two or three years to the right parties, connected as he is with resourcer (2016) AESTI St. Petersburg, Russial and Nice, in France. This range of lathfude ambdes winter and summer engagements.

LUNA PARK.

Gaston Akonn's place. Luna Park, has shol up shop for the wlater, so far as the summer amusement features, are concerned, and his Palace of Folies is now a first class roller sketting rink. This week Sam McVey and Jim Johnson, two colored pugs from America, mis it to a fluish at the rink.

GENERAL MIXTURE OF PROFESSIONAL NOTES.

Jesse Carey, the American roller-skater racef finishes his eogagement at the Paris rink, fin Amsterdam. Dec. 7, after which date he will be connected with one of the best known skate manufacturers concerns known to the business, training a hockey team for exhibition work throughout Europe.

The roller skating business is picking up at present here. Most all the rinks are having good crowds.

The K. Koch Orchestra, from the Opera, furnishes the music at the Palais de Glace, the circula, in the Champs-Elysees. This is occopy to the permanent money-makers in Paris. The clientele is always of the best. The ice is aplendid.

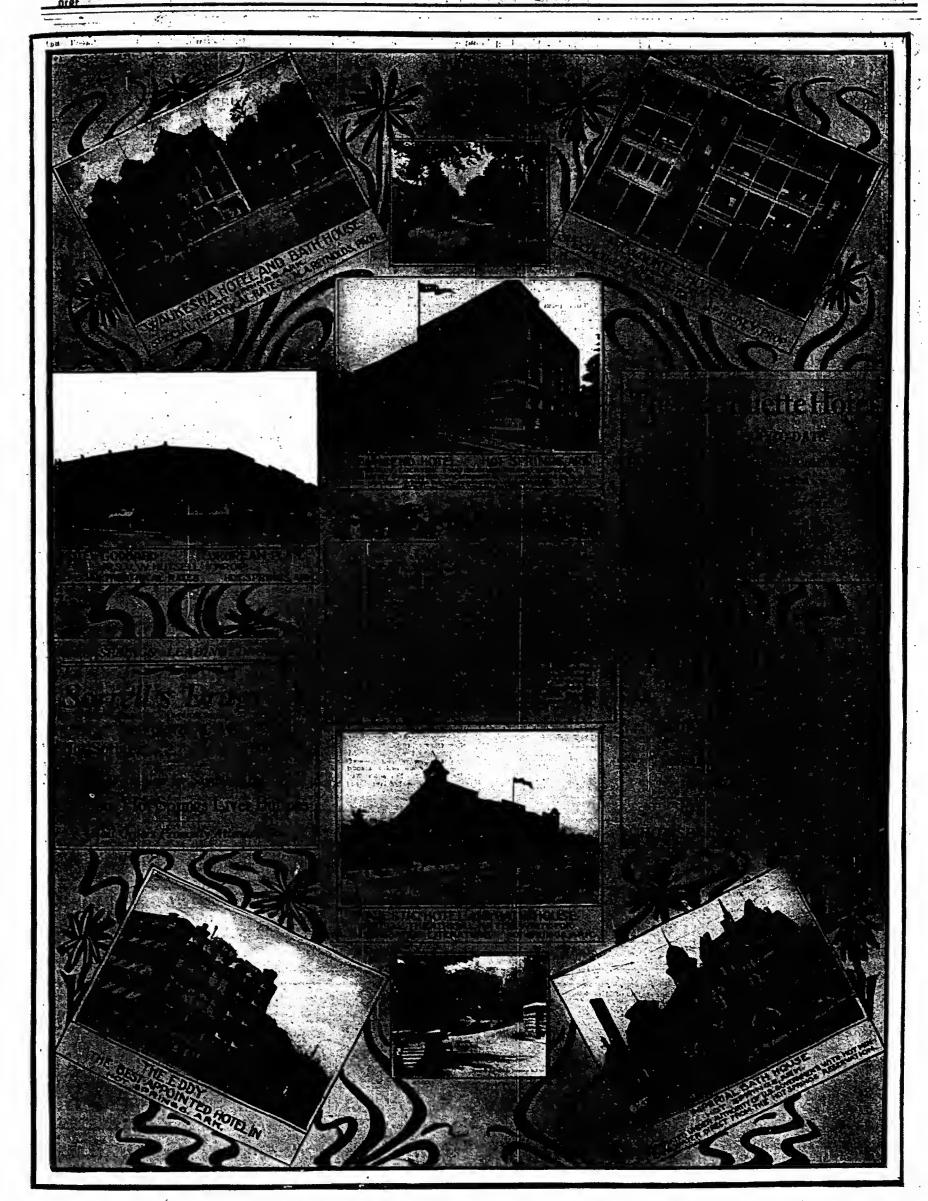

The Olympia, which was to have inangurated a series of cinematograph matioess Friday of the week, has been obliged to put off the open-log performance nutil Monday of next week.

Clandine is the title of the big set at the Moulin Rouge at present. The balls, which are now given at the old stand, appear to be taking fairly well.

The Ambigu this week will offer a new piece entitled Train de 8:47, a military play, in the acts and eight scenes. Leo Marches made the play from a somance by Georges Courteline. It will be preceded by the well-known, one act playlet, At the Telephone.

Mme. Gabriele Rejane, now louring Russia bad to caucel one of her engagements on account of illness. Though suffering severely from a cold to her lungs, she has coultinued with her work, sayo this one exception.

STRANDED IN MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 8 (Special to The Bilibuard).—Joe Hooker, a rough-rider of Miller Brothers and Eddie Arlington's 101 Banch is stranded in Minneapolis, due to failure of a fellow-employe to keep faith on the matter of paying expenses after Hooker had meda a trip from Mobile. Als., to clear-him, if a serious charge on which he was lodged in the Banney County Jail' since fair week, Sept. 5, under $10,000 ball.

The man being cleared, left town secretly and Hooker has telegraphed for funds with which in return to the winterquarters of the 101 Banch at Jersey City, N. J., where the circus end of the show winters.

A UNIQUE SENTENCE.

Memphis, Tenn. Nov. 27 (Special to The Billiboard).—City Judge P. Harry Kelly passed nulque sentences on George Lewis and Harry Foster, circus followers, when they were arraigued in his court on a charge of loitering. The men-explained that they had been in Memphis only a few days, coming from Meridian, Mias., where several shows had dishanded. Well. you're just the men we're looking from for identify the prisoners have taken to singing fromers and church meeting songs. That'll never do. Now I'm going to let you fellows go over there for a while. I'm not going to impose any definite sentence but will under your release just as soon as you can organise a minstrel troupe among the prisoners."

Lewis and Foster are working with a will and old daily rehearsals. They say that they will give an exhibition in the city court some day before Christmas.

BUILDING NEW THEATRE.

Sacramento. Cal. Dec. 5 (Special to The Biliboard).—The Cypress Theatre Company, recently formed, will erect here a new theatre at the northeast corner of Thirty-fifth atreet and Cypress avenne, Oak Park. Work will be commenced at once. The directors and stockholders of the company are: L. B. Wattoner, president; Jos. Holmes, vice-president; J. S. McMahoo, secretary; L. Christie, treasurer; Allen Ballon, manager; J. M. Barry, J. T. Carston and B. F. Driver, directors.

BUSINESS POOR IN PENNSYL-VANIA.

The show business through the smaller towns of Pennsylvania is reported to be very bad this season. This condition is due in a several depression in the business of the Keystane State. We would judge, however, from the letters received, that the hetter class of abows are doing fairly well. It is business of abows are doing the class of at tractions that are running behind.

MOORE'S TRIAL OPENED.

Vincennes, Ind., December 3 (Special to The Biliboard).—The trial of Mealo E. Moore, theatical manager, charged, with the minder of Charles Edward Gibson, wealthy nil operator, was opened this week. The pies of the defendant's counsel is that when Moore shot, and killed Gibson he was in a fit of lessafity, caused by the knowledge of Gibson's familiarity with Moore's wife.

CLOSE ON SUNDAYS.

New Castle, Ind., Dec. 3 (Special to The Bill-board).—All theatres in New Castla will be closed to morrow and hereafter on Sundays as the result of an order issued to hight by Chief of Police Burr. For some weeks local playhouses have been operated on Sunday as giving performances for charity.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 28.—The Great American Shows sailed for Honolulu Nov. 23 per the Steamer Wilhelmina. This organization is headed by the Stegriet-Silbon troupe of ten serialists, who have been for the past fourteen years featured with the Barnum and Baltey Shows, includes Prince Youturkey, King of lim-Wire, another Barnum and Battey feature: From Weldons, acrobats; Ben Beno, equilibriat; Disa Folo and Disa, borizontal bar performers; Frank Voerg, comedy musical act; George Scttler's troupe of performing dogs, Joe Valle. Mille. Amirians, Signorina Julia Kapoli had Signor Onie-ppe Catalans, a quartette of musicans, danever and singura; Harry Curren, Toto Ducrow and George Tate, clowns, and several others. It is intended to play a season of sight weeks under canvas. Of Hr Foster in the general manager. The show opened Dog. 5.

INDOOR CIRCUS TOUR OFF.

The proposed tour of the new Robinson Indeor Circus has been called off. Preparations for putting out a hig indoor abow had been going on for soma time, and only last week-people engaged for it had received assurances from the propriators that the abow would go out as planned. What caused the sudden termination of arrangements and the anisotincement that the tour would not be made cannot be learned.

Geo. Chodin is now business manager of H. F. Pierce and Company's Squaw. Man. Company, and Wm. Gilman is manager with the company. Lillian Helss, member at The Cow and the Moon Company, now playing in the Tabor Grand Theatre, is suffering from a most dangerous operation. She will not be able to leave with the company and will remain in Denver at the St. Joseph's Hospital until all danger is past.

NEW YORK LOCAL FORBIDS TIPS.

New York, Dec. 5 (Special to The Billboard).

The L.T. P. J. has pushed an ordinance for bidding any of its members from accepting tips from the profession both because their squares and that should support them and because the acceptance of gratuitous movey belittles the anion stage hand. This action is the columnation of profession who refranced to tip for what they considered the mere execution of expected services. Many stage hands, however, are said to have taken advantage of the performer and have made it almost impossible to put on his act especially when it pressures much property to be set up. This advice passed nat last was by E. Wentworth, president, speaks highly for the molon holds shift had been mach abused, and any efforts to accomplish its abolishment should be aided as much as possible.

According, it is said that Percy Williams has lent his attention in this direction and issued a general raise in the hands' salaries and strictly entering the anti-tip law in the houses under his operation. The other managers will no doubt pursue a similar policy shortly.

LATE NEWS FROM THE METROP.

New Fork, Det. 5 (Special to The Billboard).

A change in plans has been made in the policy of the City Theatre since the first article was inserted in this issue concerning the recent lease of twenty-eight years granted to Wm. Fox, of the Fox Amunement enterprises. At first the new lease considered old Broadway favorits plays during the week and vandeville only of Sunday, but the fact is that after the present week of raffies, which closes Saturday night. December 10, vandeville will be the only form of entertalament offered at the City Theatre, it had been stated that this playshouse drew too few to justify its continuance as a house of drama, although no anapicions of its present policy was arbibard until Wm. Fox came into control. Commencing with December 11, two-a-day vaudeville will be the daily infering.

ROBINSON WINS SUIT.

Five thousand dollars as damages was awarded Julia F. Robinson by Judge Spiegel last Thursday, against George Forepaugh Fish, manager, of the Forepaugh Stock Company, which is now playing at the Olympic Theatre, Cincinnati. The Forepaugh Company formerly companied the old Robinson Opera House, but abandoned it to fake over the lease of the Olympic. Robinson brought suit for $5,000, and was awarded that amount by Judge Spiegel.

THREE K.-E. SHOWS CLOSE.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 3 (Special to The Bill-board).—That three Klaw and Erizanger attrac-tions should close simultaneously, appears to have some aignificance in the warfare waged between the two big theatrical factions—Klaw and Erizanger and the Shuberts.

The Nat Goodwin Company closes to-day at Grand Bapida; Tarie Tempest closes to-day at Grand Bapida; Tarie Tempest closes to-day at four to-night in Buffalo. The Goodwin Company leaves Grand Bapida for New York impediately after the show, and en route will pick up the Marie Tempest Company at Grand Bapida; then proceed to Buffalo, where the Crane Company will also be picked up. The three companies will go into New York to-gether.

Nat Goodwin will go to West Baden, Ind., for a two weeks' stay. His company played here last night at the new Gladmer Theatre to the largest business of the season. The receipts were $1,200 gross.

T. M. A.'S ENTERTAIN.

On Friday night, Nov. 24, T. M. A. Lodge No. 112, of Knoxville, Tenn., entertained all visiting, members of the theatrical profession and the staff of the Knoxville, theatres. The entertainment was styled a Thankagiving Ramble, and was a novelty in every respect. The night's entertainment owned at 11:30 P. M. with a selection by the combined orchestras of all the Knoxville theatres. followed by an address of welcome by Alberg Fans. Professor Zimmer, director of the Bildou orchestras, rendered a violin solo and state President. Brother J. J. Quigley, of Alemphis, then addressed the seekablege, taking for his subject, "What is the T. M. A.P."

The guests were then invited to the addoining room; where, to the atrains of Dixle, they were seated and served with a typical Dixle spread, 'possum and sweet 'taters, Tennessee shoot, 'spare-ribs and backbone, ham, tongue, salads, and all the good eatables that go with Tennessee bospitality were there in plenty, and a champagne punch as an appetizer and several berrels of 'Alt Heideberg' to help through the meal good cheer and good fellowship were rife.

This was the first entertainment ever given

This was the first entertainment ever given by Knoxville Lodge, and was complimentary to the Cecil Spooner Co., Jane Dars & Co., Gardner & Walker, Cedar & Elgar, Karl Luster, Fevolts, Clarence Otiver. The Great Dayton, and the staffs of the Knoxville theatres, and the Lodge has set an example that will surely be appreciated by the poor trooper on Koute. At the close of the entertainment, each visitor was presented with a flask, isbelled, Smoky Mountain Moonshine, a product for which the region immediately contiguous to Knoxville is world-famous.

CAPT. JACK KELLY

THE ORIGINAL

Australian Stockwhip King

The first man in the world to introduce the AUSTRALIAN Stock-whip Act. I successfully toured Australia and India for sixteen years. All other STOCKWHIP Acts of today are imitators. I am the ORIGINATOR of the AUSTRALIAN STOCKWHIP Act, and I defy contradiction. I am prepared to meet any man in the world in a Stockwhip manipulating contest for any amount of money; whips any weight or length, at any place or time. (FRED LINDSAY, the supposed Australian Whip Expert preferred.) I am prepared to forfeit $500 to Lindsay or any other whip act if they can produce one press notice or program from one or any theatre, or touring show or circus, by whom they were engaged in Australia, as Lindsay is not heard of there as a whip expert performer, or a millionaire, as he calls himself. Assisted by the ONLY Female Whip Performer in the WORLD, VIOLET KELLY.

Allogether, the American amusement device mannfacturer was in England only a mouth, but enjoys the unique distinction of having won the respect and esteem of such reputable men as Frank-Hall-the Holloway, Brothers, Esgar Gardner, and. W. H. Bond, who bonored Col. Cagney by bestowing a fina gold medal and set of resolutions npon him, which he prises very highly. The Colonel is a brother to D. H. Cagney, also member of the firm, and a two-term member of the House of Assembly for the State of New Jersey. He declares prospects point for a good year for 1911, on both this also and the other side of the Atlantic, and that the park huniness in England is on the boom. It took them some time to appreciate amusement parks, but now that they have atarted, the related amusement businesses will be kept very active supplying the demand.

A rather drastic moment is where Margorite, in a pique because of Henry's assumed indifference to ber, sends her ribbon to the Duc de Onise as a signal that he may visit her in her room that night. She repents on finding Henry ardent again, but de Onise does not receive her message of annulment, and forces his way inlo her chamber. Henry, disguised, has preceded him, and, getting Onise out of the room by a stratagem, has to take refuse in a secret closet as Charies enters to surprise bis sister with the Puke. He insist that de Onise is concealed in her room, and a search reveals a man in mask, who proves to be Henry, and who thus graciously saves his wife's reputation.

Ultimately we have the massacre, enacted nuclet the window of Margorite's chamber, her frantic appeal to save her husband by demanding that he remain with her. Henry's sacrifice of love to duty, and a thrilling sword fight in the chamber, as the Catholic nohlemen, headed by de Guise, sitack him. Charies interfered in save Henry, and there the play ends, Needless to say, both the visiting players were seen to good advantage. Mr. Terry as Henry and Miss Nellson as Marguerite.

TWO WOMEN.

The critics describe the play as machine made and a combination of Zaza and Camille, with speeches, tirades and exhortations specially mannfactured for Mrs. Carter.

The basic idea of the play, that of the artist, who is fascinated by the resemblance which the brazen Jeannine Bariet bears to his dead wife. Jeannette Moreau, and who, after having her pose for the completion of his wife's portrait at his suburban cottage, falls irresistibly in love with ber, while Jeannine undergoes a complete moral referential.

In the second act, showing the feverish life of Bal Tabarin, with Jeannine as the plyot of in-lerest, Mrs. Carter was decidedly at her best. She still has a besuting faure, and her dash and abandon as the peccant bellerina were char-acteristic of her former triumphs. Also, in the acts following, she had inspirational momenis-but in the man she was overpressionity domi-nant and amonopolistic of the center of the stars, and the play diminished in interest the nearer it approached the end. Here the evidences that the playwight was drawing on old ma-terial became conclusive and the solution too apparent.

-- CARS

Several new steel framed hotel cars for rent, J. J. ARMSTRONG, 204 Schiller Bldg., Chicago.

More Diverting than Five Hundred; more absorbing than Bridge yet less complex than Skat. : : : : : :

The game of "Sixteen Hundred" may best be described as an elaboration of Five Hundred,' which in. turn is a combination of Euchre and Bridge. But Sixteen Hundred is more, much more, than a mere hodge-podge. It literally abounds in snares and pitfalls for the unwary, and consequently provokes no end of mirth and hilarity.

It appeals strongly to the skillful player also, for its possibilities in the way of subtle strategies and clever coups are well nigh countless. PRICE, TEN CENTS.

WALTER STANTON

THE GIANT DANCING ROOSTER

Original Stage Chantecler since 1886.

Big success of world's tour. One year as star feature headline drawing card with J. C. Williamson's Extravaganza Co. Money turned away for 42 weeks. Can arrange as character singing comedian, with or without specialties, in or out of vaudeville. Address

THE BILLBOARD, 1440 Broadway, New York.

DELLA------HOMER THE OLDFIELDS

This clever team sailed for Honolulu, Saturday, November 12th, for a long engagement. Especially engaged on account of their versatility, having numerous and complete changes. This team are great favorites with agents and managers throughout the West. Can be addressed care The Billboard, San Francisco.

DOLLY LAROSE

od 'likenes This is a good likeness or routy amove, who died October 2. In her lifetime she was rated as a high-class spectacular dancer, and was well and popularly known to the Western public. She was among the first to. ern public. She was among the first to, make a tonr through China and Japan with her own company of spectacular dancers, some two years ago, and was very successful and was about to make another tour when, she was taken anddenly ill from which ahe never recovered. In private life she was Mrs. O. D. Harder, wife of a prominent theatrical electrician.

The act is one of the funniest in vaudevilla tore plano and give a very funny military pan-apart from its bird-training features.—Oblo state Journal, Oct. 18, 1910.

Mile. Tuttle's parrots do surprising feature.

Variety.

A novelty act away ont of the ordinary.—
Pittshurg Herald.

Just before the war Dan was traveling with his company through Oblo and Indiana and Pannaylvaola, and while playing Cinclocatt, the pride of the show were two trained elephants named Lalia Rookh and Hamibal. The circus had to cross the river, and there were no bridges at that time. Rice saw an opportunity to advertise his peta, and so flooded the city with daming announcements that Lalia Rookh would awim the Oblo River at the mouth of the Licking.

awint the Ohlo River at the mouth of the Licking.

A great crowd gathered on the river banks to see the sighle and sure enough the big elephant made the crossing, it being the first nod only case on record where the feat was accomptished in Cinrinnati. Rire reproduced the feat next at Hamilton. O., the writer's home, but used the other elephant oamed Hanolbat, crossing the river at the foot of Basin street now named Court street, the excuse used at that time was that the old covered wooden bridge would not sustate the old covered wooden bridge would not sustate the elephant's weight.

In 1878 Ran Rire reformed in St. Louis, and aftervards delirered temperance lectures, occasionally slipping back into old paths. Mr. Adam Forepaugh once said that he would tellan Rice fix his own terms for a season through, but the offer was refused. In 1879 Nathans, June and Enley-telegraphed to Dan in Girard, that they would pagine to be would permit ble sainry to stood unit the conclusion of his engagement as a bond for his sobriety. He refused the offer, keying thet would rather have $100 a week and liberty to do as he pleased than any terms on such conditions.

In Girard, Pa., at one lima he ran a newspaper called The Cosmopolite. He sought election to Congress in 1879 from that district, but failed to get it.

When wealthy he gave away great sums of money to public institutions in that part of the country, and still more, it is said, in private charities.

He built a soldiers' monument, said to have cost $35.000. Yet, as an old showman and "lend of bis said, there were long years to which Rice could not borrow $5.00 in Girard if he wanted it.

During the Civil War General Fremont seised a steamer Rice owned, the James Raggiond, at Si. Louis, and made use of it for Government purposes. Rice applied to the Government for compensation, and $52,000 damages was awarded bits. At his remost this money was spent by President Lincoln and Secviary Rianiou, carlag for wounded soldiers, and their families. Dan Rice and Mrs. M. C. Bobinson were married at Schulenberg, Texas. LOS ANGELES' NEW PARK.

Luna Park, Lou Angeles, Calif., was formerly the old Chutes Park, located at the corner Washington and Main streets. A new corporation of Los Angeles has seen men, formed unter the direction of F. P. Sargeant, has taken yeer falls properly and has reconstructed it so it cost of $200,000, making it one of the inest all-year-round amusement resorts in the Korid.

The delightful climate of Los Angeles maked it possible for a park to operate throughout the entire year. With the exception of a couple of months in the tate wholer, which are known as the rainy season. Los Angeles exhoast of the most delightful climate of any ciry in existence.

Judging from the list of attractions now completed and those moder constructions. Luna Park can surely be considered as ranking among through best in the folted States. Very few parks are able to grant tenyese leases to attractions. Still fewer are able to enter into corrects with hands for a solid year. Schilseay's Royal Hungarian Bund has recently been airn up by the Luna Park management to me only bands of unitonal reputations, each hand to be under contract for one year.

Another innovation of Luna Park will be the method in which the free attractions will be handled. Only one act or attraction will be registed at a time, but the one altraction and each individual attraction will be registed as being the greatest of its kind attainable. The first or opening attraction as after a full prant, Nov. 19, under a three months above, which has not yet been engaged.

OMAHA, NEB.

OMAHA, NEB.

The first balf of the theatrical season in Omaha: hag seen a big change which many declare is but the beginning of more changes to come. In the early months of the season, the American Music Hall: started out in grand style, and had the people coming their way in encouraging numbers. But as time drifted on, the crowds dwindled at the American until the change came, with the result that the house is now dark.

Ramor has it that the American Music Hall will probably be the home of a fine stock company, more than likely the Woodward atock, now holding the boards at the old Boyd; and drawing, fine houses. When the Woolward atock started in the coty Burwood (now the Gayety) it was the talk and delight of the whole town, everybody going to the pretty little playhouse. It may be that the American Music Hall will be turned into another splendid success by playing stock. The house and location is ideal for stock purposes. The American is owned by the Brandels people, owners of the Brandels Theatre, Woodward and Burgess being the management of the latter Theorybeum, to the naked eye of the reg-usiness was slow at the Brandels at the tof the season, partly on account of the sually warm weather. Manager Burgess is business now is fine and looks for an epitionally good season through the wintercanally warm weather. Manager Burgess asys business now is fine and looks for an exceptionally good season through the winter months.

Next September the Shuberts will take over control of the Modward stock. What affect the coming of the Modward stock. What affect the coming of the Modward stock. What affect the coming of the Shobert attractions will bave on the business at the Brandeis, time only will tell. Competition will be fairly stiff at first, but we believe the two legitimate theatres will do a good business. The Shuberts intend to spead a great deal of money on the refurnishing and decorating of this theatre. The seating capacity is greater than the new Brandeis. The Shoberts have long tried to get into Omaha.

"Doc" Breed is enjoying one of the best seasons of his career at the Krug. He reports all his traveling companies doing good business. The class of attractions at the Krug has been steadily elevated, until at present, most of the dates are filled by high-class melodrams, comic operas or drams. The class of patronage has also steadily improved. "Doc" is a specialist in advertising, as the Ak-Sar-Ben people can testify, the latter this year deciding to take hold of the side show end of the Ak-Sar-Ben Carnival, with the result that they secured the poorest attractions they have sever had at a Carnival, "Doc" was missed, and they know "it.

The Gayety is one of the most prosperous houses in the city. When Manager Johnson broached burlesque-for Omaha to the powers that be of the Columbia Amusement Ca., they couldn't see him. Their misd conjured up the old Omaha of ten years ago, when open dance halls, cheap hurlesque-for Omaha to the powers that be of the best paying attractions in the city. Owing to the inability of the companies to make Minnespolis in time for the Sunday matinee, by leaving Saturday night, they will hereafter leave Friday night, the Edith Spencer Stock Company playing the Saturday matinee and night dates.

months. And the vote seems to be about unentmons.

At the opening of the regular theatrical season
the City Anditorium, a great barn-like structure, with a seating capacity of 4.500 and a concrete stage about forty feet wide and fifteen deep, was offered to traveling theatrical attractions by the city building inspector acting for the council committies, at a rental of fifty dollars a performence, Lessee and managers of the local theatree were startned. Their fears, however, were so quickly dispelled that no formal protest against this obviously unfair competition was ever preented to the council.

A few lyceum attractions were the only bookings made since the "municipal theatre" was spened.

Mills Coin Operated Weighing Scales Pay Profits of From 50% to 300% Per Year

That means provision against bad seasons, sickness, accidents, etc., finances to tide you over should your regular income temporarily cease.

And this money is yours practically without effort. You can operate a hundred scales and they will not interfere in the least with your present occupation or pursuits. All you need do is simply to locate them and collect their earnings, or pay so re trusty lad a small commission to do this for you. Coin Operated Weighing Scales are

Automatic Money Makers

The enormous revenues of the National Weighing Scale and the Automatic Weighing Scale Company of this country are derived solely therefrom. The earning capacity from one machine ranges from 50 cents to $2 or $3 weekly, and they work steadily week days, holidays—four seasons a year.

There are thousands of splendid locations already waiting—skating rinks, amusement resorts, news-stands, moving picture theatres, saloons, billiard halls, etc. And a hundred scales should easily realize for you from $2,000 to $3,000 a year. This money is payable in cash dividends whenever you want them, and

Your Income Starts Immediately

It goes on continuously—year after year. This is an honorable, legitimate way to become financially independent. Such an opportunity may never present itself again. So, seize it quickly—GET STARTED. A moderate investment insures you a handsome income in 1911. Write for particulars immediately to

EDISON

THE MACHINE YOU WILL EVENTUALLY BUY

It is constructed of the best materials, insuring long life. Projects the brightest teadiest pictures, yet is the simplest to operate.

You don't have to send it to a repair shop. Every part is interchangeable and, cause of accessibilty, can be renewed. All you need is a Screw Driver.

Think of the saving in time and money besides the convenience.

FROM ANOTHER EXHIBITOR.

"We are now using five of your Edison Projecting Kinetoscopes, and can only add, the entire satisfac-tion your machines are giving.

(Signed) WM, FAIT, Manager Lubin's Theatre 404 E. Baltimore St., Baltimore, Md."

MOTION PICTURE Handbook FOR MANAGERS AND OPERATORS

By F. H. RICHARDSON

The only published textbook on Motion Picture Projection, and contains chapters on Wiring, The Operating Room, Machine Heads, Lenses, Tables, showing size of lens to use for size picture desired, Hints on the Use and Care of Films, The Theatre and its Management, etc., etc.

A mine of information for the machine operator and indispens able to the theatre manager.

One manager says: — The Handbook arrived all right and right glad was I to get it. It is just what I wanted and a good deal better than I expected. I am sure that I will learn a good deal out of it.

Cloth bound, 160 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.50. Postage free.

THE H. F. Pfaff Music Co. Greators of Melody

Our past five years as Music Publishers have been one continuous round of successes, and we are now in our own new and extensive plant, and will continue to publish only TRIED and TRUE hits.

Our new songs are the author's own realizations, and run in a set composed of FOUR NUMBERS:

No. 1—"I'M WAITING DOWN BY THE OLD MILL STREAM" No. 2—"I'M LONGING FOR YOU SO" No. 3—"DREAM'S REALIZATION" No. 4- OUR LIFE - LONG HONEY-

MOON" A NEW MARCH SONG THAT CAPTIVATES THEM ALL "YOU ARE THE BLOSSOM OF

ANOTHER GOOD ONE "I'M KISSING HER NOW"

THE COON SONG HIT "AH'LL RAILROAD YOUS UP TO OAH MOON"

A Satire on the Aeropiane.

STILL IN DEMAND "MY LOVE GROWS DEEPER FOR YOU DAY BY OAY"

"KIND REGAROS from HIRAM GREEN"

The Real Rube Song.

"DO THEY EVER DREAM OF HOME SWEET HOME"

A Pretty Waitz Song.

NOW IN THE PRESS "IN THE GARDEN OF

"MY FLOWER OF LOVE" TWO CLASSICAL CREATIONS.

The well-known arranger, WALTER #. COLVERD, has been added to our staff and we will publish several of his own prize compositions. WATCH FOR THEM.

Send stamps for Prof. Copies, also your PERMANENT ADDRESS.

COMPENSARC II III This Machine cuts 2) from your (I Light Mr. Manager Bills If you are on a 110 or 220 volt circuit and you are using a rheostat to reduce the voltage to 35 at the arc in your lamp, you are paying for a/a more "juice" than you are actually using. Can you afford to waster all this energy supplied from the line, over and above what you really need? The Fort Wayne Compensarc saves all this waste by reducing the voltage without losing any: makes a clean whiter, steadier light, and eliminates all danger of fires caused by over We have a little 22 page booklet "Compensare vs. Rheestat" that we want to send you. It will tell you plainly how you can make a big saving and a bener light. Send us your name and address. OCEAN PARK, CALIFORNIA barring accidents and strikes.

Ocean Park is to the Pacific Coast what Atlantic City is to the Atlantic Coast, excepting that it is a YEAR 'ROUND RESORT, '14 miles from Los Angeles, has a 3-minute car service now, with a minute service commencing June 1, 1011. Has a supporting tributary population of 1,500,000 which is increasing faster here than in any other territory in the U. S. There is a permanent all-year-round beach population of 35,000 which is increased by the indux of winter tourists to 45,000 and during the annumer months to 60,000. Sundays and holidays will average nover 30,000 people at this beach, and this attendance is ateadily increasing from year to year, making it the MEET ALL-YEAR-ROUND FIELD FOR CONCESSIONAIRES IN THE U. S.

Space on the pier for high-grade money-making concessions can now be negotiated. Only one of a first-class character will be entertained, as the artistic atandard of this pier will be giber than that of any pier-herotorox-constructed in America.

We invite full investigation before you interest yourself in our proposition.

USE THE "PERFECTO" The New Calcium Light Outfit

At last a calcium gas making outfit that produces the maximum light at the millimum expense can be had. The "Perfecto" solves the problem, in this light you get more gas pressure than in any other calcium light, hence a more powerful light, and at less expense because of its generating process, it is the simplest of calcium lights and naturally the best; is non explosiv, never gets out of order, and complete weighs only 15 pounds. There are no frills about the "Perfecta." It's just a plain calcium gas making outfit that produces the powerful light that you must have, and above all at the least possible cost. Every exchange and dealer in lighting outfits ahould use this one. It's the cheapest in every way, and the best. Write for more particulars, or will ship C. O. D. upon receipt of deposit. Price $25.00 complete with hura T.

BOGUS MEDIUM TRICKS

Bogus Mediums are making fortunes out of the public. Having been called upon hundreds of times to explain these so-called "Spirit" Phenomenas, I have procured at a considerable expense, a number of their best tricks, every one of which has proved sufficient to support a Bogus Medium, create converts to Spiritualism and astonish large audiences.

Remember these are TRICKS, pure and simple. Ten minutes' practice will make you a first-class (Bogus) "Spirit Medium."

NO. 1—READING SEALED MESSAGES. Tells you how to read and answer questions securely sealed in the presence of the opening or tampering with the seal. Done in the presence of the sitter in broad daylight. Extremely mystifying and capable of many hand or hair, also handkerchief or necktie, etc., in the flames without injury. Enables you to walk on red-hot iron barefooted, without injury. No apparatus of sleight of hand. You can actually handle live coals and hold them for several seconds. PRICE, 25 CENTS. live coals and hold them for several seconds. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

NO. 3—SPIRIT SLATE WRITING. Most satisfactory of any method, both to medium and sitter. Converts to Spiritualism have been made by this trick alone. Sitter may use his own slate. Any message han be produced. Possibilities for variety of effects unlimited. Known to only a few of the cleverest and most successful professionals. You will find the method is simple, but you will be aghast at the profound sensation which the trick produces when cleverly associated with a solemn manner. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

NO. 4—PRODUCING SPIRIT PICTURES. You can develop any picture upon a piece of muslin previously examined by the audience and seen to be free of preparation. Place a lamp behind the muslin so that the audience can see that no one touches it.—Then at your com-that the audience can see that no one touches it. Then at your command, the spirits begin painting or writing, as you prefer, and the picture grows slowly and with ghost-like effect upon the cloth in plain view. Can be done in three colors if desired. A little music, playing or singing heightens the effect wonderfully, and the performance is extremely weird.

NO. 5—SPLENDID MIND READING Any message conveyed. No apparatus or sleight of hand. Mind reader blindfolded and back turned to operator who stands in any part of the room. Operator and mind reader both perfectly motionless and silent. Tremendous effect. Investigators can suggest the message to be trans-investigator select page or line, and on a slate previously shown bare, ou can develop spirit writing duplicating the selection made investigator. PRICE, 25 CENTS.

The above Fix Tricks will be sent by mail, prepaid, for 25 TWO CENT STAMPS.

OUR CATHEDRAL CHIMES

Are the Finest Imitation of CHURCH CHIMES in the World and no Picture House or other Theatre is complete without a set of them, as you will find use for them every day. The Chimes consist of bell-metal tubes, suspended from a wall bracket, and are played by striking with a mallet. Anyone can play them as no experience is necessary. Can be hung in orchestra pit or in the wings.

The set includes FOUR CHIMES—producing a beautiful chord and sounds very churchy—a wall bracket to hang them on, and one mallet to play the chimes. Weight of outfit about 50 lbs. The price is $22.50 for the complete outfit, and same will be shipped C. O. D. on examination on receipt of $2.00 to guarantee express charges.

HOW THEY SOUND

Send for our new Illustrated Cat-

ORGAN CHIMES, XYLOPHONES, ORCHESTRA BELLS, MARIMBA-XYLO-PHONES, Etc.

Free for the asking.

THE OWI. CUBE GAME

No Saloon or Cigar Stand should be without this money-making device. Nothing like it ever conceived of before. Something new and original. Has many advantages over a slot machine. Twenty can play as well as one. Much faster than any slot machine, as player can play larger amounts than on a slot machine. House, of course, making their own limit on betting.

This game is so arranged that the house has a good percentage. But, not so strong as to drive play away. Will get a play wherever in use. We guarantee it to pay for itself the first hour it is operated.

Game consists of ONE CYLINDER AND CUP, our SET OF FIVE CUBES and our LAYOUT. Price, complete, $7.50.

Remember, we are the largest manufacturers of Club Room Furniture in the United States. Our STANDARD 31-inch ROULETTE WHEEL stands without a peer. Selling, complete with 1000 Harris checks, for $185.

Our Miniature Wheel, 22-inch size—sells for $50—has had the largest sale of any wheel ever invented in Dice, Cards and Games. We lead all others, both in quantity and quality. We fill all orders same day as received—no waits, no delays. Send for our 1911 Catalog. It's FREE.

Caters only to Big Fairs, Expositions, Home Comings, Lodge or Commercial Club Celebrations, in need of strictly first-class, clean, side shows or riding devices to entertain their visitors. Our 1911 season opens on May 22 for a run of 25 weeks, over half of which is already contracted. Committees would do well to get in touch with us at once if you contemplate a celebration during 1911: You might just as well have the best as to experiment; besides it saves you the embarrassment of having to make apologies the next morning after the opening day, nor do you need to ask your local newspapers to kindly go easy. This is our tenth season and we have a clean reputation; we don't need to prove it; we admit it.

POWER'S CAMERAGRAPH, No. 6

The Perfect Motion Picture Machine

C. C. DURKIN, Majestic Theatre. Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 15, 1910.

We tried four machines before we purchased yours, and we find yours the best for ail purposes.

J. D. COBLENTZ,

Truxton Amusement Co. Washington, D. C.,

Nov. 14, 1910.

Thought I would drop you a line to let you know that the Power's No. 6, which we purchased over eight months ago, is still in our opinion the best picture machine made, and we have not renewed one part. We still have our $100.00 offer for anyone who can equal our pictures, and there isn't anyone that wants to try. Our pictures are rock steady, and absolutely flickerless. It is absolutely flickerless. It is certainly a pleasure to run a machine like your No. 6, as it is so perfectly balanced that it can be turned without the least effort. This, added to the benefit of the large and roomy lamp house, with a lamp that has any adjustment desired, makes the No. 6, in my opinion the best machine ever made, and I've run about all the standard makes

FRED V. M. SMITH, The Crystal Theatre.

Ottawa, Kan., Nov. 10, 1910.

I recently purchased from Pearce & Scheck, of this city, one of your No. 6 Projecting Machines.

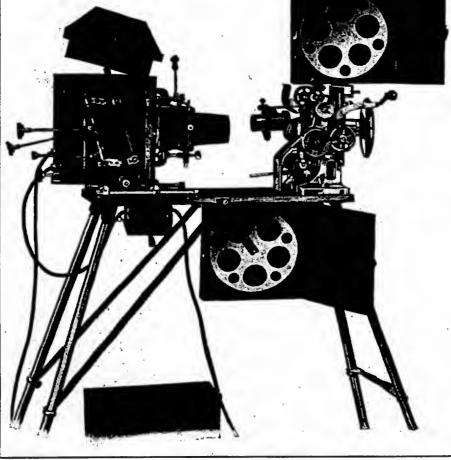

I wish to say that I think it is the very finest machine on the market, at least of any I have seen. The parts of this machine are so much heavier and stronger than those of other makes I have used, I feel sure it will give better and longer service, without any repairs. The new "in front of lens" shutter reduces the flicker to such a minimum that it hardly is possible to notice it on the screen. even in a small hall, close to the screen.

Wishing you much success with this model, I remain, Very truly yours,

NEWTON R. HENDERSON.

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 25, 1910.

I have just purchased from the Seattle Stage Lighting Co., of this city, a Power's Baltimore, Md., Oct. 12, 1910.

No. 6, and same is giving splendid results, both in pictures and attendance.

W. G. SPURRIER, Savoy Theatre.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 21, 1910.

I used your Power's No. 6 about two months, and I think it is certainly an O. K. machine in every way.

CARROLL HART. 522 Gifford Street.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 25, 1910.

I am very glad to hear you are selling so many of the No. 6 machines. Ours is giving the best of satisfaction. I believe it is the best moving picture machine on the market. F. C. WALTER,

Cozy-Nook Theatre.

We have purchased a No. 6 Power's machine. It is O. K. JOHN O'MAILEY, Pastime Theatre.

In reply to yours of the 3rd inst., wish to state that we purchased, several weeks ago, through the J. D. Wheelan Film Co., of Dallas, Tex., one of your No. 6 machines. So far, it has proved entirely satisfactory in every respect. We have used your No. 5 machines for the last several years, and have two at present.

J. C. CLEMMENT, Imperial Theatre Co. Beaumont, Texas, Nov. 8, 1910.

I have used your No. 6 machine for the last six months, and the picture it shows is absolutely flickerless; in general, it shows a picture as near perfect as could be expected. It is also a machine built to wear, and that is what every exhibitor, manager and operator is looking for.

BERNARD R. SIEVE, Star Theatre. Boston, Mass., Oct. 1, 1910.

I think your No. 6 is the world's best, as it gives the steadiest, flickerless picture I ever saw, barring no other makes.

RALPH O. SUTTON, Olympic Theatre. Okmulgee, Okla.

I am well pleased with the No. 6 Cameragraph I purchased of you recently.

C. C. DUNSMORE.

Marlinton, W. Va., Oct. 14, 1910.

Will honestly say I prefer a Power's No. 6. I think I know, because I have given this machine a thorough test.

AL. TREZONA, Bijou Theatre.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 10, 1910.

I have been operating your new model No. 6 for the last seven months, and can say that it gives the steadiest and most flickerless picture of any machine on the market to-day, and consider it the only machine made that will stand the hard, long grind of the 5 cent theatre.

The Understudy.

Now and then the understudy of prominent actor or actress is given the opportunity that is watched for every night during the entire season's engagement. This opportunity to play leads which comes only once in a while and is eagerly sought for by the understudy, in many cases decides his or her future. Not so long ago, a prominent though jealous actor became so incensed at newspaper encomiums, directed toward his leading lady, that he forthwith ordered her to leave the company. The public and press at that time were filled with righteous indignation at this action, and the understudy, who was given the position vacated by the erstwhile leading lady, was accorded more favorable mention perhaps than she deserved; but she had her chance, and made the best of it. Last week a New York theatrical magnate promoted a young lady, who had been heretofore playing an obscure part in a western company of a play which is now having a successful run on Broadway, to the leading r. le. Her chance had come, and now she is on the direct line to fame.
Whether or not theatrical managers realize the importance of having capable understudies, is a matter for reflection. In several cases during the past season, companies were obliged to lay off several days on account of the indisposition or fickleness of the leading lady. In one or two of these cases the principal was not a star of the first magnitude, and her place could easily have been taken by a capable understudy. In other lines of endeavor, the understudy plays an important role in the success of an enterprise, be it professional or commercial. A vacancy has never occurred that could not be filled by some one of equal if not more value than the person he succeeded. The biggest portion of humanity are understudies of one kind or another. The understudy that can rise to the demand when it comes, and opportunity calls, is the one that has the chance of becoming even greater than the one who preceded.

Uplifting the Picture Business.

The outcome of the meeting of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of Ohio, at Columbus, last week, marks a move in the right direction. This body of motion picture theatre managers, which originally was composed solely of exhibitors operating theatres in Ohio, is expanding into other territory, and it is hoped by the League's sponsors that in time a national organization will develop from it.

The purpose of the League is to elevate the type of performance given in the motion picture theatre, and to systematize the business of conducting playhouses in which photoplays are given. That the task is a huge one is obvious. It will require the consistent and indefatigable efforts of a strong and influential organization to overcome the impediments with which the industry is beset.

Practically since its inception, the motion picture has been the target of numerous self-constituted guardians of public morals. That in some instances there has been cause for rigid censoring, is not to be denied. But with the growth in popularity of the motion picture entertainment, the business of conducting the theatre gradually evolved itself, until new it is on sane and sound principles. The consistent and conscientious efforts of the Motion Picture League, in Ohio, has established a precedent, which it would be well for exhibitors in other localities to consider. The formation of similar leagues throughout the country would be an excellent step toward the general systemazation and aggrandizement of the moving picture industry.

American and English Chorus Girls.

The differences between the English chorus girls and their Ameri can sisters have long engaged the attention of ethnologists. ican chorister, upon a superficial examination, seems to have all the better of it. She is, in the first place, far more vivacious than the maid from over the ocean; she has a more strident and penetrating voice, her guffaw is more stentorian, her cartilages are more resilient; she is, as the professors of dancing say, "more lighter on her feet." Again, she dresses in better taste than the English girl, and, yet again, there is more variety in her beauty. The imported coryphee is stolid, stupid-looking, heavy-footed; she wears garish and impossible garments; her hair and complexion show the same tints to-day that they showed esterday, and will show the same to-morrow.

Granting all that, there must be something extremely fascinating about the chorus girls of Britain, for scarcely a day passes without one of them snaring a member of their native aristocracy, and when any considerable force of them crosses the ocean, there are always loud calls for clergymen along Broadway. It seems impossible, indeed, for a rich Pittsburger to resist the charms of a chorus girl, and particularly of an English chorus girl. Every Pittsburger worth more than $5,000,000 weds a chorister at some time or other. It is part of a millionaire's education in that town. He does it instead of going to college, taking to airships, or making the grand tour.

Light Attendance and Its Influence on the Actor.

It is a fact beyond dispute that actors and actresses are prone to show their displeasure when being obliged to play to small audiences. Perhaps they overlook the fact that the audience, no matter how small, has paid admission, and expects to see a good performance. Actors invariably lack a proper spirit in their work if there is a small audience in attendance. Indifferent acting has been so noticeable in many cases that even the occasional theatre-goer could not fail to observe it. Last week, a well known American star played an engagement in a large western city, and while it is a deplorable fact, the attendance during the entire week was very small. A number of those who had seen the play on different nights remarked the star's utter indifference and disgusting sneers. Those who paid to see this actor and his company were not to be blamed because others had not come to the theatre. Patrons of playhouses go to be amused. No advertising is so potent as the appreciation of an audience, but on the other hand, a dissatisfied audience may do a show a great deal of harm. Unfavorable publicity travels fast, whether it be voiced through the press or the public. It would be well for some of our present-day stars to emulate the policy of Joseph Jefferson, who, regardless of the size of his audience, gave the best performance he was capable of giving, and insisted upon his supporting company doing likewise. During his long career, he often referred to this policy, which he claimed was the foundation of his success.

Vulgar Plays and Who Patronize Them.

Among the several prominent people who have offered suggestions for cleansing the stage, is one who avers that the salacious play finds its patronage among the lowly. This argument may be interesting, but the assumption is far from being sound. As a matter of fact, the persons who are most assiduous in their attendance upon alkaline French farces, vulgar musical pieces, and other noisome stage shows, are members of the classes rather than of the masses. The theatre grows indecent simply because indecency has become fashionable.

Your horny-handed proletarian may be vulgar enough in his person and habits, but he is no advocate of public obscenity. When he takes his best girl to the theatre, he wants to see something romantic and Villainy he will enjoy, true enough, but only in anticipation of the fearful reckoning awaiting it in the last act. His view of the world is essentially a moral one. He demands that every departure from the narrow path he visited with stupendous penalties; that female purity may be conserved, if need be, with artillery, and male honor, even copious blood-letting. No play which exhibits vice triumphant or virtue a-mocking can ever command his patronage. He takes morality seriously, and he resents seeing it attacked or even laughed at.

The lowly, as a rule, haven't the necessary wherewithal to buy tickets for an indecent show, usually plays at the high-priced theatres. It is the well-dressed, educated persons who pay $2.00 a head to see indecency served under the name, comedy, farce or musical comedy. In this year of grace, 1910, indecency draws its chief patrons, not from "the people." but from "the town."

Here'a a bit of common sense that appears in every program of 'Olympic Theatre, Cincinnati, and should be copied by every theetre manager in this country:

"Patrons will: show a fine sense of consideration for the feelings of others by observing two rules of courtesy. One of these is to enter the theatre before the performance begins at 2:15 o'clock in the efternoon and 8:15 o'clock at night. Late comers must not expect to be seeled until the end of the first act. The other is the very disagreeable practice of putting on hats and wrapa during the progress of the last act. This is decidedly annoying to your neighbors and the painataking players, and largely detracts from the euloyment of everyone."

EDITORIAL BULLETIN

History of Lithography

One of the features of next week's issue of THE BILLBOARD will be an article by Wm. M. Donaldson, president of The Donaldson Lithograph Company, treating of the history of lithography. Mr. Donaldson has, during his long identification with the business, witnessed many changes that, taken in the aggregate, constitute a complete revolution.

The article will be illustrated.

The Lives of Famous Showmen

An early issue of THE BILLBOARD will contain an article concerning the careers of some of the world's most famous showmen. The article will carry with it an interest such as has never before attached to similar ones through its being made up from the scrap books of P. T. Barnum and Jas. A. Bailey, and it will contain quotations from them.

These books have never before been accessible to any publication or magazine writer and the material will have all the novelty of interest that their long and uninterrupted inaccessibility has lent them. The books constitute a cache of treasure—a storehouse of interesting matter that will be treated with a care to the selection and preservation of the salient points. No person who is interested in circus history, biography and personalities can afford to miss this article.

Billposting and Amusements

Billposting has long been closely associated with the amusement business. This is because amusement enterprises were the first to use large billboard space. THE BILLBOARD will soon publish an article written by an authority on the subject of billposting in America and containing the details of the inception, growth and development of the business from lowly beginnings to a large, important and dignified enterprise in which millions of capital and the energy of many able and brainy men are invested. The billposting business was once carried on as an unimportant incidental by the managers of theatres and small-town opera houses. Now the entire business is controlled by large corporations and with all the pomp and circumstance consistent with its great dignity.

Every issue of THE BILLBOARD will contain one chief feature article dealing with some important phase of the amusement business, some noted personage, or the history of some allied or associated branch. These articles will be prepared by writers familiar with the details of their subjects because of close association or affiliation.

New York, Dec. 6 (Special to The Billboard).

Judge Lacombe settled the Tetramini-Hammerstein controversy Monday morning, Dec. 5. The singer is to be allowed to sing in concert under the management of W. H. Lenhy, of San Francisco, but for avery performance that she sings she must deposit $1,250 in bank pending the settlement of the case.

Both sides regarded the verdict as favorable, which is a triumph for any judge to have achieved.

"I am to get $1,250 every time Mms. Tet-razzini sings and not have any trouble about
